POLICE WATCH FOR THIEF WHO SLUGGED M A N

Report One of Trio Who Robbed Grand Island Farmer Is On His Way Here.

Two automobile loads of Omaha detectives Thursday were assigned to the man hunt being conducted by Sheriff McCutcheon of Hall county for an alleged automobile thief who Tuesday night slugged an aged man near Grand Island and escaped with his victim's Ford.

The detectives are on the outskirts of Omaha guarding all reads leading into the city from Grand Island. They were assigned to the case following word received by W. H. Gale, special agent for the Union Pa-cific in Omaha, that the hunted man is on his way to this city.

Man Is Alone.

The hunted man is believed to be alone. The aged man was attacked on the outskirts of Oconto, near Grand Island by three men. The ighwaymen drove his Ford to Broken Bow where they stole another machine, according to Sheriff McCutchan,

On Wednesday evening, a farmer near Chapman telephoned to the Hall county sheriff that three mea in a roadster had called at his place and their actions aroused his sus-

His description of the men tallied with that of the Oconto highwaymen.

Sheriff McCutchan immediately took the trail. He located the men at Chapman and placed them under arrest.

Third Man Escapes.

A large crowd formed and in the excitement one of the men escaped. He plunged into a cornfield, followed by the officers.

He was trailed as far as Central City where he leaped aboard an outgoing train. The officers did the

The hunted man soon jumped off the front end of the train before the officers could reach him and again made for a cornfield. The officers kept to the trail but were unable to catch up.

Are Young Men. The chase continued to Columbus FARMERS UNION and there the Hall county authorities were joined by Platte county officials. Two of the trio arrested who did not escape and are now being held in Grand Island jail, give their names as William Pounder, 22 years old, of Youngstown, O., and Chester Ram-bo, 21 years old, of Chicago.
