GIVE UP HUNT FOR ATHLETIC BANDIT

Highwayman Hurdles Fences, Drops Over Embankment, In Escaping After Theft of Auto.

Grand Island, Neb., Aug. 28 .-(Special.)-Nebraska's recent intensive man hunt has been temporarily ferent rooms, including fine light abandoned, but Sheriff McCutchan billiard room laundry, room, fruit and Deputy Snodgrass still have out highwayman.

The member of the trio arrested by them at Chapman, who broke away Friday and led officers of three counties a merry chase for many miles, finally lost himself at Columbus.

Omaha detectives who were detailed to watch for him at inroads o the city abandoned their lookout Friday night.

Hurdles High Fences.

Sheriff McCutchen and Deputy shodgrass tell of athletic feats performed by this escaped highwayman which they believe, augmented by descriptions given by his two com-panions now in jail at Broken Bow, may lead to his identification by Chicago police and his early arrest in this state. .

The trio is accused of slugging ar aged man and stealing his automo-bile, in which they had ridden about 10 miles in Custer county.

The fugitive made good his escape after breaking away in a crowd at Chapman. Leaping from a speeding freight train, dashing through several cornfields, hurdling high fences without touching the barriers and dropping over embank-ments 10 to 20 feet high are a few of the accomplishments credited to him by the officers.

Seven shots fired at him during the chase served only to quicken his speed, they say.

Grabs Him by Heel. Deputy Snodgrass, former foot ball player and sprinter, declares the escaped man one of the fastest he ever saw in action. At Central City, in the midst of the chase, the highwayman barely missed capture by the gridiron deputy when he saw the officer at his neels on the edge of a 20-foot em-

The fugitive leaped and crashed into a wire fence. The deputy fol-lowed suit and seized the highwayman's heel as he wiggled through the fence. But with one kick the athletic bandit shook off his would-be captor and dashed to freedom.
