

WIDE WORLD OVER

—Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.
AN OCTOGENARIAN OF THE BURMESE ALPS, SWITZERLAND.

—Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.
BURMESE PORTER-WOMAN AND HER HEAVY LOAD.

—Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.
In the Barbary States, men have found it cheaper to get rid of their mules and horses and hitch their women folks to plows and carts. In Turkey, women can be bought much cheaper than mules, so men have preferred to keep a large number of wives and sell their mules. The photo shows an Algerian farmer driving two of his women with a poor, almost starved donkey.

—Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.
TWENTY WOMAN TEAM ON A DARJEELING HIGHWAY.

—Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.
WOMEN COALING STEAMER AT NAGASAKI, JAPAN.