PLAN TO PREVENT TRAFFIC JAM AT AK-SAR-BEN FIELD

Board Member Announces Construction of 2 Auto Entrances To Relieve Situation.

Two automobile entrances are being constructed at Ak-Sar-Ben field, according to George Brandeis, member of the board of governors, in charge of the race meeting which begins Tuesday, September 14.

One entrance will be at Sixty-seventh and Center streets, with a cinder drive leading north, passing through the subway under the race track, so that machines may be parked in the big infield.

The other entrance will be at Sixty-sixth and Woolworth avenue, and will be reached through Elmwood park. Arrow signs will be erected in the park to guide visitors, according to Secretary Charles L. Trimble.

Automobilists coming to the races from west of Seventy-second street, particularly over the Military highway, Maple street, Lincoln highway and West Q street are urged to use Seventy-second street to Center and then go east on Center to Sixty-seventh.

Automobilists coming from the South Side, and points in Sarpy county, are advised to come north on Twenty-fourth street to Hanscom boulevard, then follow the boulevard to Center and go west on Center.

Automobilists coming from Florence and points north are advised to use Thirtieth street to Miller park, then use Fontenelle and Happy Hollow boulevards through Elmwood park, to Sixty-sixth and Woolworth.

Automobilists coming from Council Bluffs and points in western Iowa have two choices. They may either follow the Lincoln highway to Happy Hollow boulevard, enter the grounds through Elmwood park or they may turn off of the Lincoln highway at Thirty-sixth and Farnam, and follow the O. L. D. highway south to Center, and west to Ak-Sar-Ben field.

The automobile situation is a serious one to handle at big outdoor events, and has been given a great deal of study by the Ak-Sar-Ben governors.

CAMPAIGN FUND IS ONLY $25,000, HOWELL ASSERTS

Quota For State Only Half What Demos Say Assessment Against City Alone Was.

R. B. Howell, republican national committee member for this state, asserts with considerable vigor that Nebraska's quota for the national campaign fund is $25,000.

Mr. Howell has just returned from an eastern trip, during which he was in close touch with the national committee and campaign managers. He regards the democratic hue and cry about alleged prodigality of republican campaign expenses as lending a bit of levity to the campaign, which is beginning to warm up.

Mr. Howell was a soldier in the civil war and he participated in the battles of Gettysburg, Spottsylvania Court House and the Wilderness. He was twice wounded and taken prisoner several times during his service, but each time managed to make his escape.

On January 21, 1868, he was married to Miss Josephine Winne, daughter of Maj. Gen. Lucas D. Winne, of Clinton, Ia., who with four sons, Walter S. of Omaha, E. H. of St. Edward, Neb., W. J. and F. O. of Omaha and V. W. of Norfolk, survive him.

ONE-MAN STREET CARS TO BE USED HERE THIS WEEK

Five of New Tramway Carriers Will Operate On Four Lines.

Omaha will have its first glimpse of "one-man" street cars this week, when five will be put in service on the Center street, East Omaha, North Omaha and Carter lake lines, R. A. Leussler, vice president and general manager of the traction company, announced yesterday.

These cars have been ordered for several months, and the first ones arrived Saturday. The entrance and exit are both at the front of the car, where one man acts as both motorman and conductor. Their seating capacity is 30 persons.

Among the novel features of the new cars is the "dead man's" control, which automatically cuts off the current, sets the air brakes, sands the rails and opens the door when the motorman's hand leaves the control. It is also impossible to open the doors when the car is in motion, or to start the car when the doors are open.

The one-man cars are in general use in Kansas City and in several other cities. Mr. Leussler says. Only the five will be in use here until their practicality is assured, and even then they will not do away with the two-man cars, according to Mr. Leussler.

James C. Dahlman, United States marshal and former mayor of Omaha, was made defendant in a lawsuit for $200 in Justice of the Peace Collins' court yesterday.

Charles Garrino, 1405 North Eighteenth street, filed the suit against Dahlman, alleging default of wages due him for printing "The Corriere Del Popolo," former Italian political organ.

According to H. T. White, attorney for Garrino, Dahlman and Robert Altschwager, executives of the firm that printed the Italian weekly, failed to pay Garrino wages for two months. "The Corriere Del Popolo" suspended publication in March. Attorney White declares that Dahlman financed the publication as a political scheme.

Valley Burglar, Body Filled With Shot, Is Now In Omaha Jail

Charlie Johnson, his skin perforated by about 15 shotgun bullets, was brought from Valley to the county jail yesterday by Jack Butcher and N. E. Johnson. He was arrested there last night while, it is alleged, he was trying to rob Dr. Hall's drug store.

Valleyites were returning from church when someone noticed a light flash from the prescription case in the Hall drug store. Men rushed for their guns and when armed citizens were stationed at both front and rear someone rattled the door and frightened the intruder. He rushed to the rear window, but seeing the armed men, he rushed to the front door, broke it open and fled.

Dike Lillifors was stationed there with a shotgun, the contents of which he "let go" at the fugitive. The burglar stopped.

BUSINESS MEN TO START DRIVE ON MISLEADING ADS

Advertising - Selling League Plans Extensive Campaign To Keep Omaha Advertising Clean.

Four hundred prominent business men of Omaha have been asked to join forces with the Advertising-Selling league in a campaign to investigate "doubtful advertising," Dean T. Smith, secretary of the league, announced yesterday.

The first meeting to organize this campaign will be held in the Chamber of Commerce on September 20, and nearly 1,000 members of the league and business men are expected to attend, Mr. Smith said.

Recalls Stock Frauds.

William P. Green of New York, organizer of the associated advertising clubs of the world, whose recent investigations of oil stock frauds and other blue sky violations have led to many startling disclosures, will address the meeting at that time.

The meeting should lead to the organization of an Omaha "better business bureau," which will be affiliated with the national better business bureau, according to Mr. Smith. A budget of $10,000 also will be raised at the meeting to carry on investigations in Omaha, it is planned.

Stick to the Truth.

This budget will be used to maintain a paid staff to investigate doubtful and misleading advertising, Mr. Smith declared.

"The movement does not indicate that Omaha is burdened with misleading advertising," said Mr. Smith. "On the other hand, advertising in Omaha is particularly free from misleading assertions, although they occasionally creep in, even in the copy of the most reputable firms. The budget will be used rather to advertise the truth of Omaha's advertising, and to eliminate or at least check up on that which seems doubtful."

Delirious Patient at St. Joseph Flees and Is Caught by Firemen

A young man patient at St. Joseph's hospital clad only in a nightgown, leaped from his bed shortly after noon yesterday, eluded three nurses, fled down a corridor and out the hospital door. The three nurses pursued him to Eleventh and Dorcas streets, where Andrew Hornig and Henry Dietz, firemen, took up the chase.

The two firemen captured the patient at Thirtieth and Dorcas streets, but he broke away and fled two blocks further before they were again able to overtake him. They then held him by main force until a car arrived and took him back to the hospital.

Hospital authorities refused to divulge the name of the patient. He was delirious, according to the firemen. Witnesses say he was about 21 years old.
