

Baked Onions Stuffed With Hamburger Steak

Put the required amount of onions with their skins on into a steppan of boiling water, slightly salted, and let them boil quickly for an hour. Then take them out, wipe them dry, and with a spoon scoop out the center. Have ready the hamburger steak (chopped or minced round steak well seasoned), fill the onions with this and cover the top of each with grated bread crumbs and small pieces of butter. Bake and serve hot with bread sauce. Put a cup of milk to boil with a small onion, into which a clove is stuck. When the milk comes to the boil mix with it one tablespoonful of butter and two tablespoonfuls of fresh bread crumbs. Boil again for five minutes, add a pinch of salt and a dust of pepper; mix well and

Card Table Covers and a Scrap Bag Club

When we have big bridge parties for charity in our suburban town we have them in the ballroom of the hotel on the hill and every body loans her card table. The aspect of the room filled with table tops of various shades and conditions, was not as smart as it might be, and one church circle determined to remedy it.

As a first step, card table owners were asked to loan card table covers. That did not work out well for there were not enough covers to go round and there was no uniformity about those loaned. Some were starched and some were not; some tied on properly, and others were the kind that slip 'tilt and rumples under the players' movements.

So, Mrs. T., an ingenious woman in our town, who inaugurated a Scrap Bag club here, was asked for a suggestion. She said: "I will have my most active club members make 100 card table covers all alike, that will not soil easily and can be kept by the secretary of any of the church societies, to be loaned out to card parties being given for charity. We will donate these covers."

One hundred card table covers of black satin were made. The grade used is a yard wide, and a yard was used for each cover. If one were making a cover, the cost would be $1.50 for each cover, but Mrs. T. bought wholesale, and the cost was less. The edges of the satin were turned over and secured, in one operation, with a catstitch in knitting yarn. A pale green was used for 50 of the covers and a pale yellow for the rest of them. The covers were tied on at each corner with yarn that had been braided and tied in a knot at the ends.

At the completion of a sweater or scarf, there will inevitably be yarn left over. It was this left-over yarn, among other things, that prompted Mrs. T. to start her Scrap Bag Club. Its members are pledged to use left-overs of every sort, in the kitchen and the sewing room but a special fetish is made of left-over yarn and lace and embroideries. At the end of the club's first season they held a sale of articles made by them at their meetings. Eighty-nine different articles had been fashioned from left-over bits of yarn and lace and other things, and all were sold.—New York Sun.

Use Color

The average woman fails to realize how color alters the appearance of her home. Indeed, she is almost afraid to use it except in a few set schemes of the cruder sort. Though in her dress, in her embroidery, in the hat she is trimming, she may use it freely and often with originality, yet in her house decoration she is too timid to attempt any but the most commonplace arrangements.

The high cost of labor and the discomfort of the necessary domestic upheavals may be partly accountable, but perhaps now that she has learned how to paper a room and is not afraid of a paint brush—she will not be discouraged from experimenting.

Health, Woman's Duty

It is one of woman's first duties toward herself and her household to keep in that perfect physical state which does much to help her with the trials and worries of everyday life, for a healthy body and a healthy mind are as a rule synonymous. The healthy woman, by reason of her vitality, is the one who radiates cheerfulness. While good health is the most potent minimizer of our troubles, ill-health may be called the originator of most of the evils of ill temper, irritability and morbid despondency. Hence if we would be happy, first and foremost it should be our aim to keep well, by strict attention to the laws of hygiene and guarding against the roads of disease.

OMAR WONDER FLOUR

DO YOU KNOW—IV.

Three Questions a Day for the Housewife.
1. Where the orange was first grown?
2. How many cups of flour there are in a pound?
3. How to remove grass stains?

(These questions will be answered this week by the HOUSEWIFE.)

Answers to Previous Questions.
1. Greenish oysters are not necessarily harmful. If they are secured from a reliable dealer there is no cause for suspicion, although one type of green in oysters indicates poor quality.
2. Drop one drop of water into the hot fat. If it is hot enough the water makes a slight exploding noise.
3. To shorten a raincoat, cut off an inch or longer than desired, turn up, moisten at edge, and press quickly with a hot iron.
Each of these household problems has been worked out by the author, who has not only taken a course in scientific housewifery and dietetics at Columbia university, and written and edited women's newspaper and magazine features for years, but is a practical housekeeper as well.
