

AGED PATIENT GRIEVES OVER LOSS OF NURSE

Old Man Heartbroken Over Loss of Companion—Separation May Cause His Death.

December and May are commonly supposed to have but little in common.

But yesterday George Weigold, more than four score years old, sits disconsolate in a ward at the county hospital.

Miss Crampton was withdrawn from the hospital three days ago by Mrs. Cora Patton, superintendent of the hospital.

Mystery surrounds the old man. He was found two years ago wandering about the streets.

When Miss Crampton was first put in charge of him he objected strenuously.

But the sunshine of "May" soon thawed the ice of "December." Little by little, through acts of kindness, Miss Crampton changed the aged man.

"He came to enjoy automobile rides," said Miss Crampton. "And then his memory of the long, long ago returned to a degree and he enjoyed telling stories of his childhood days."

Miss Crampton, since being removed from the case, has promised to visit him once a week.

"It was so dependent on me and would look for my return anxiously when I went away," she said. "And I am really very fond of him too."

Miss Crampton is living with her mother, resting after her care of Mr. Weigold.

North Side Girl Peeps Into Future Via Cards Then Reveals Secret

Pasteboards Sometimes Weave Story of Thrilling Romance With a Modern Don Juan and at Other Times Dark and Unhappy Days of Hidden Past Bob Up to Remind Reader of Reckless Moments.

Cards, of course, are made for playing whist, as serious-minded people seeking relaxation through an evening of mental strain may tell you.

Revealing the Past

One wonders what there can be in the past of so young a creature to be revealed, but nevertheless, this is all part of the game.

So many picture cards is a favorable sign, she remarks. "Those three kings prove that powerful persons are interesting themselves in my affairs."

They hurry then to the present, which contains among other cards the eight of hearts, which represents the sinner.

HUGE PARADE AND PICNIC TO MARK LABORING EVENT

Marchers to Form at Temple at 11 A. M.—Mammoth Frolic at Krug Park to Follow.

Omaha will doff its hat on Monday in respectful recognition of Labor day, which has a nationwide significance to millions of workers.

The metropolis of Nebraska will not be lacking in its proper observance of this holiday when the tapers of shop, factory, store and other centers of industry will have a respite from the day's work and will reflect on the dignity of labor.

The recent occupancy by labor organizations of their new location at Nineteenth and Davenport streets has given an impetus to organized labor and thousands of members of the various organizations affiliated with the Central Labor union, as well as those not affiliated, will participate in a big parade which will be held on Monday morning.

Picnic Follows Parade

After the parade there will be a picnic at Krug park, where Mayor Short of Sioux City will deliver the address of the day.

Mr. Short is well known among the rank and file of organized labor and it is announced by the committee that he will have an interesting message for the workers.

Arthur G. Wray, mayor of York, Neb., and labor and farmers' candidate for governor, also will address the gathering at Krug park. The speaking will be started at 4 p. m.

The committee announces that $500 will be given away in prizes to the winners of the sport contests at the park.

J. J. Kerrigan is chairman of the Labor day committee. There will be a program of sports will be held at the park, beginning at 2 p. m.

The events will include a tug-of-war, races for fat men and women and races for boys, girls, misses and married women.

The narrow long shoe will be popular, says a big dealer. "It takes away the look of bulkiness and makes the foot appear more graceful."

The skyscraper tower, designed by Bertram G. Goodhue of New York, winner of the competition, ultimately will be accepted, he declared, and will be a landmark for all eastern Nebraska, flashing light at night as far as Omaha. JOHNSON WINS TENNIS HONORS IN TOURNAMENT

National Titleholder Takes Three Straight Sets From Washburn in Semi-Finals.

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 4.—William Johnson ably demonstrated his ability on the courts as the holder of the national championship title in the singles Friday. Mastering all of the blistering speed of his famous forehanders, Johnson literally carved his way into the semi-final round of the 39th all-comers singles, in straight sets.

The famous Californian who held the top string place on the Davis cup team, overwhelmed Watson M. Washburn, 6-4, 6-4, 7-5. It was a masterful performance. Johnson's fighting in the rallies was the best that he has shown in the great tournament.

G. Colkert Caner, the Harvard star, won in the same half with the title holder. Caner defeated Irving C. Wright in the most one-sided match of the round, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

In the lower half of the round, William T. Tilden II, the hero of Wimbledon, confounded the Michigan state champion, 6-3, 8-6, 6-1. William F. Johnson, Philadelphia, defeated the Californian, Clarence J. Griffin, 6-1, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4. These matches of the semi-final round will be decided tomorrow.

Johnson's game with Washburn offered the outstanding feature of the day. Early in this battle Johnson made it evident that he was to force his speed to its limit. So fast and furiously did he use his forehanders as to back Washburn a yard or two behind his base line.

For the most part, Washburn's playing was of defensive character. He tried to take the net only to be repulsed by the terrific speed and sweep of the champion's drive. When he attempted lobbing Washburn often met with a light success. His service was good and this helped him.

Aquiana Crosses Atlantic in 5 Days, 17 Hours and 27 Minutes

Chebourg, France, Sept. 4.—The Cunard liner Aquiana, which left New York on August 28, arrived here at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, making the voyage in five days, 17 hours and 27 minutes. The record for the eastern trip from New York to this port, which is five days and 16 hours, was made by the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse in January, 1900.

The White Star liner Olympic, which left New York at the same time that the Aquiana sailed, is not expected to arrive before this forenoon. Despite official denials from the Cunard and White Star companies, passengers on the two ships considered the voyage of the two vessels a race, and it is said heavy wagers were laid. Prince Carol of Roumania was one of those who backed the Aquiana.

"Labor Day"

WE AMERICANS are a nation of workers. Energy and ambition are our natural heritage.

As a people and as individuals we can do more work than any other people on earth. It has been said that we cannot accomplish more per unit, when we set our minds and hands to it, than any other people on earth.

We, the Burgess-Nash Company, have labored to make this store one that will be of the "Greatest Service to the Greatest Number." By our labors we have made it an organization of intellect, integrity and industry; one that strives at all times to accomplish the biggest and finest things for the benefit of its friends and patrons.

Our Store Will Close Monday at 1 p. m.

NOTE: Labor day was inaugurated by the Knights of Labor in 1882. In 1884 a resolution was passed to hold all celebrations on the first Monday in September.
