

Many Armenians Are Yet Homeless

Secretary of Relief Forces Here Notified That Thousands are Still Refugees.

Hundreds of thousands of Armenians are still refugees from Turkish Armenia, without homes or property rights, according to a cable message from C. V. Vickrey, forwarded to Mrs. R. A. Finley, chairman of the Nebraska committee of Near East relief yesterday. Mr. Vickrey is general secretary of the relief forces and has been conferring with representatives of European government officials in London and Paris, and with the Friends of Armenia in Switzerland, looking to a settlement of the problem.

He states that throughout Armenia it is agreed that the people were served last year by flour and other supplies sent from America. Hundreds of thousands are alive today through the relief work. They are said to be thrifty and hard working, and to have made remarkable progress toward self-support. Their own harvest will produce food supplies to carry them to midwinter. Supplementary supplies must be furnished until the recently signed treaty of peace with Turkey can be made effective, Mr. Vickrey declares.

Omaha Shows Recovery In Real Estate Market

That Omaha shares in the general recovery of the real estate market following the close of the war is evidenced by the compilation of real estate sales, building permits and mortgages filed, which has just been completed by the United States Mortgage and Trust company of New York.

This company is well known as a lender on improved property in Omaha and through its statistical department keeps in close touch with the changing conditions here and in 55 other cities of the south and west, where it is represented, according to Clay H. Thomas, Omaha real estate man.

Figures pertaining to real estate in Omaha during the past six years follows: Real estate sales increased from $8,000,000 to $40,000,000; building permits from $4,000,000 to $8,000,000, and mortgages filed from $8,000,000 to $25,000,000.

All Victor-Victrola Dealers To Sell Caruso Tickets

An innovation in handling crowds anxious to secure tickets will be tried in Omaha this coming week in the case of the Caruso concert to be held at the Auditorium October 12. Every Victor-Victrola dealer in Omaha and surrounding towns will have reservations for the concert where they may be obtained in advance of the regular seat sale one week later, September 21.

This plan will probably eliminate the long lines that have been in existence in the past when seats have been placed on sale for noted artists. Special arrangements for the accommodation of school teachers have been made at Minkel Bros., 1414 Harney street, where the teachers may obtain their tickets without the necessity of standing in line.

Omaha Body Company to Resume Business at Once

Elliot B. Smoak, manager of the Omaha Body company, whose factory at 1229 North Sixteenth street was destroyed by fire Thursday night, announces that the business will be resumed as soon as a new location can be obtained. "We are negotiating for a new location and we expect to enlarge our business," said Mr. Smoak. "We have some large contracts on hand. Three large truck companies have adopted our type of body for their business. We now have 55 employees and our business is nearly $2,000,000 a year."

SUFFERING OF YOUNG WOMEN

This Letter Tells How it May be Overcome—all Mothers Interested.

Fort Dodge, Ia.—"From the time my daughter was 13 years old until she was 16 she suffered so badly each month that sometimes I had to call in the doctor. She had headaches, backache and such pains and cramps that she would have to stay in bed two or three days. She became terribly run down in health and at last a friend who had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound told her about it and she has used 16 bottles, and we always have it in the house. She feels fine now and she has no trouble at all each month. We always praise it and advise any friends who suffer to use your wonderful medicine."—Mrs. MISSIE MANDELKO, 1008 S. 18th St., & 10th Ave., Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Girls who are troubled as Miss Mandelko was, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Those who need special advice may write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. These letters will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.
