

High Praise For The Bee Sounded By M. E. Pastors

Bishop Reads Editorial to Conclude—Change in Management Applauded—Conference Transacts Business.

High praise for The Omaha-Bee was spoken by Bishop Homer C. Stuntz, chairman, and other ministers at the Methodist state conference at the First Methodist church yesterday.

"This," declared the bishop, referring to an editorial, "The Methodist Preacher," in yesterday's edition of The Bee, marks the regeneration of a newspaper and the regeneration of a newspaper is one of the greatest things in the world."

Recalls Charles Lamb. The bishop asked the permission of the conference to read the editorial. "Some of you," he said, "were at committee meetings or slept too late and did not get an opportunity to read it."

Back to the Bible. After he had finished reading the editorial the Rev. J. R. Gettys of Lincoln was given the floor.

To Return to Omaha. "Some say to me that the Bible is out of date," declared Dr. Kirkbride. "They are the ones who are out of date. There were 35,000,000 copies of the Bible distributed in the world last year. That does not look very out of date, does it?"

All Solicitors Barred. A resolution that solicitors for all collections except those approved by the general conference be barred from Methodist pulpits for the next year was passed unanimously.

Jailor Blamed By Sheriff For Sunday Escape

Chief Custodian of Jail Violated Strict Rules, Clark Says—Two Prisoners Made Getaway.

Responsibility for the escape of Russell Bailey and Frank Monroe from the county jail early Sunday night by sawing two bars and climbing down the temporary scaffold erected at the north side of the court house was laid on the door of Chief Jailor Sherman Clayton by Sheriff Mike Clark yesterday.

Women Now Sought. Two women who visited the prisoners in the county jail last Friday are suspected of having given the material to make a saw with which two bars of a window were cut.

Easy Get Away. They then cut two of the iron bars on one of the windows, bent them back, crawled through the opening to the court house cornice and made their way to the temporary scaffold erected by masons repairing the court house.

Two Attempts Frustrated. There have been two previous attempted jail deliveries since the jail has been located in the court house. One of these was on March 13, this year. "Georgia Wild Cat" Baker, "Shorty" Long and several other prisoners sawed through some cell bars and were preparing to execute a plan for overpowering the jailers when their plan was discovered and frustrated.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Decision to return to work was voted by striking switchmen, yardmen and engineers in the Chicago switching district, who walked out last March, according to an announcement at a meeting last night.

Restoration of seniority rights asked by the men, was refused by the railroad managers, who declared they could not grant this demand of the new rail union without coming into conflict with the railroad brotherhoods which endeavored to keep their membership at work when the insurgents walked out.

Preparations All Completed for Omaha Race Meet

Three Hard Battles on Program Today—Big Field of Horses in Prospect for All Contests.

By HARRY K. WHITTED. Dr. F. E. Stone of Burlington, Wis., will open the first Great Western race meeting held in Omaha for a number of years when he calls the starters to the wire in the first event at the Ak-Sar-Ben field mile track at 1:30 this afternoon.

Black Falcon Good. Of the black falcon many seem to think that Black Falcon, owned by W. B. "Billy" Taylor of Sedalia, Mo., will be a strong contender. This gelding has been racing well for the last few weeks, and has a heat record, taken recently, below 2:10. Several of the others also have been bringing home a considerable portion of the bacon this season, however, and this event is apt to be the hottest race on the program.

Not Forecast of Results. I have not attempted to forecast the results of today's race, nor do I intend to try that feat at any time during the meeting. If I had the ability or foresight, or whatever you choose to call it, to do that little stunt accurately, I would not be doing what I am at present. After all, past performance, records, or anything else, count for very little when it comes down to real cases, and they are heading into the stretch for the final battle. It is what each and every horse can do today that really counts when it comes time to race the purses.

Grandstand Ready. Scores of workmen, like ants crawling over a hill, were putting the final touches to the new grandstand, in preparation for the big crowd today, and over in the center field several automobile mechanics were tinkering with the four machines, which will be pulled off in front of the grandstand each afternoon. Parking space for hundreds of cars is available in the infield.

Collar Line at College. All Harvard students are now required to take some active part in athletics. There is no longer any fine drawn between the students who go in for development above the collar and those who favor development below the collar.

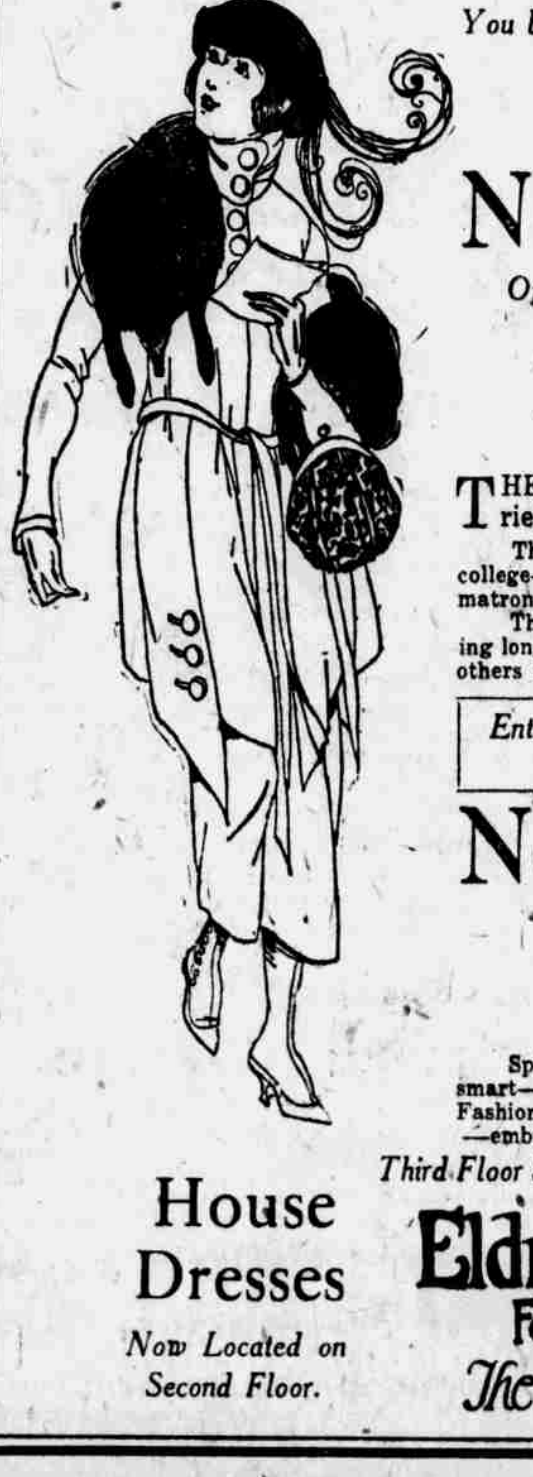

which, being unobstructed by paraffin for night shows, as it is the case at so many of the big fairs, leaves a clear view of every foot of the track from the grandstand. The judges' stand is in place, the ladder from which "Flory, the High Diver," will dive is in place, and the wire over which Mme. Stella will do her slide for life from the top of the grandstand to the center field is stretched, and, I presume, greased. In short, everything is in readiness for the word "go," of what will be the biggest race meeting ever held in The Gate City.

MOTHER! "California Syrup of Figs" Child's Best Laxative. Accept "California" Syrup of Figs only—look for the name California on the package, then you are sure your child is having the best and most harmless physic for the little stomach, liver and bowels. Children love its fruity taste. Full directions on each bottle. You must say "California."

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair. Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

There is no substitute for imported Pompeian Olive Oil.

Nervous Breakdown

"I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly"—"My nerves are all on edge"—"I wish I were dead." How often have we heard these expressions or others quite as extravagant from some loved one who has been brought to this state by some female trouble which has slowly developed until the nerves can no longer stand up under it. No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition without giving that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

Read the Letters of These Two Women. North East, Md.—"I was in ill health four or five years and doctored with one doctor after another but none helped me. I was irregular and had such terrible pain in my back, lower part of my body and down each side that I had to go to bed three or four days every month. I was very nervous, tired, could not sleep and could not eat without getting sick. A friend asked me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am sorry I did not take it sooner for it has helped me wonderfully. I don't have to go to bed with the pain, can eat without being sick and have more strength. I recommend your medicine and you are at liberty to publish my testimonial." ELIZABETH WEAVER, R. R. 2, North East, Md. Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from my milk so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children, and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine." Mrs. A. L. MILLER, 2633 E. 24th St., Minneapolis, Minn.
