What's What

By HELEN DECIE.

Order woman precedes a young woman when entering an elevator, train or other car, when entering and leaving a room and when ascending or descending a stairway. In trains and street cars, if there is no masculine escort, the younger woman alights first, and then assists the older woman to descend the steps.

Assistance should be offered only when the senior, because of advancing years, infirmity or fatigue, really wants and needs a little attention. It should be borne in mind that some middle-aged women who are as active as girls of 20, actually resent any proffer of help in public places. At the same time, they expect and appreciate the respect due them from their juniors, especially in the matter of precedence.

Problems That Perplex

Answered By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Kissing at Random.

Dear Miss Fairfax:—I recently there was not one I admired more—without loving him—than a man who comes to our home occasionally. Quite often, in bidding him good-bye, he has attempted to kiss me. Recently I permitted him to do so, and thought from his actions that he loved me, but from his talk I take it that it is his customary good-bye to all girls. He argues that it is harmless and nothing to make a fuss over. My conscience tells me that a kiss must be kept sacred. I assure you that if I had known his view on this point I certainly should have held myself aloof.

What I want to know is: Is his attitude correct? Is it harmless for two young people to kiss each other who do not love the other? I do not see how any one can have such loose morals. Is it customary for girls to kiss any and every man who asks them to do so? "F."

I'm old-fashioned, my dear, but to me a kiss is a symbol between two who love. It is beautiful and sacred. If it means something, and cheap and tawdry when it means nothing. The man is "modern," and is quoting his views from a young radical who today professes. But I think fine men still feel the old chivalry and tenderness for the women they want to marry, and hate to see them play with the kisses of a young radical who today professes. Be an Individual!

Dear Miss Fairfax:—I am 20 and engaged to a young man who disapproves of my wearing a sleeveless vest perfectly modest evening dress. Because of this fact I am obliged to keep away from dances and social affairs given by my friends, whose company I enjoy.

Do you think I should lose my friends and social affairs because of this, or is my fiance taking the wrong stand? MAY L.

Merely, child, you don't have to stay away from dances because your fiance likes the idea of your having sleeves in your gowns. Personally, I find them prettier so—and that ought to count with you—even if you don't think that a question of modesty is involved! Would you stay home because everyone was wearing blue, and your dress was pink? Would you think you had to part your hair in the middle just because all the girls you knew did so? Be an individual, dear, not a sheep.

Brown Eyes.

Here are two suggestions for games for your birthday party:

Peanut Toss.

For this contest there may be an even number of players on each side. Those on one side are given three bags that will hold about three pounds each. The players on the other side are given shallow pans. Allow one pint of peanuts for each pan holder. The pan holders and bag holders are drawn up in two lines facing each other, about 10 feet apart, the pan holders on one side and the bag holders on the other. Someone plays a lively air on a mouth organ, or piano, and while the music lasts each pan holder

Ten Years Younger Than His Years

Lyko

Doesn't it make you feel good—cause you to straighten up and feel "chesty"—when someone guesses your age, at ten years or so younger than you really are? You look into your mirror, smile with satisfaction and say to yourself: "Well, he didn't make such a bad guess, at that."

The point is: You're no older than your vitality.

If a man is strong, vigorous, mentally alert, fine and fit at 60 he has a better chance of living up to 80 than a man of 30 who is weak and run-down has of living up to 60. While none of us can stay the years nor stop time, we should all make an heroic effort to successfully resist the effects of time by ever keeping our vitality at par.

When you sense a feeling of slowing down of your physical forces—when your stomach, liver, kidneys and other organs show signs of weakness—when you notice a lack of your old time "pep" and "punch"—in other words, when you feel your vitality is on the wane, you should com-

Mazola fried 2 1/2 pounds of potatoes—lard fried only 7 pounds 14 ounces!

THAT Mazola is a better and more economical frying fat than lard has again been demonstrated. This time by Mrs. A. Louise Andrea, admittedly one of the greatest experts in modern cookery.

Mrs. Andrea found that 4 lbs. of Mazola, cooked down to 2 lbs., fried 2 1/2 lbs. of potatoes. While 4 lbs. of lard cooked down to 2 lbs. fried only 7 lbs. 14 oz. potatoes.

Tested on fish steaks, one inch in thickness, Mazola fried 25 1/2 lbs., while lard fried only 16 1/2 lbs. of fish.

Of doughnuts, cut uniformly 2 3/4 inches in diameter, Mazola fried 208, while lard fried only 138.

This proves conclusively that Mazola goes more than three times as far as lard for frying potatoes; almost twice as far for fish; and two-thirds farther than lard in frying doughnuts.

No housewife who wants to use the most wholesome, as well as the most economical cooking and salad oil, should fail to order Mazola from her grocer today.
