

Major Parties Control Papers Of War Parties

Stars and Stripes Dominated by Demos and Legion Weekly by G. O. P., Charge.

Washington, Sept. 24.—The Stars and Stripes, a soldier publication, is controlled by the democratic national committee, and the American Legion Weekly, another soldier publication, is controlled by the republican national committee, Joseph L. Heffernan, secretary-treasurer of the Stars and Stripes Publishing company, testified today before the senate campaign investigating committee.

The right of Senator Edge, republican of New Jersey, to participate in any investigation by the senate campaign investigating committee into the political activities of the Stars and Stripes, a soldier publication, was challenged before the committee today by Joseph L. Heffernan, secretary of the publishing company. He said he had information that Senator Edge was involved in "some scheme" whatever it is, against us.

Heffernan previously had testified that his paper, despite "a bona fide circulation" of 100,000, had been unable to obtain advertising. He said he had information that Senator Edge recently had participated in conferences with men interested in preventing the "Stars and Stripes" from obtaining advertising.

Senator Edge demanded the name of the person who had informed Heffernan and was finally told that Richard S. Jones, an associate in the Stars and Stripes office, was the man. Jones was ordered subpoenaed.

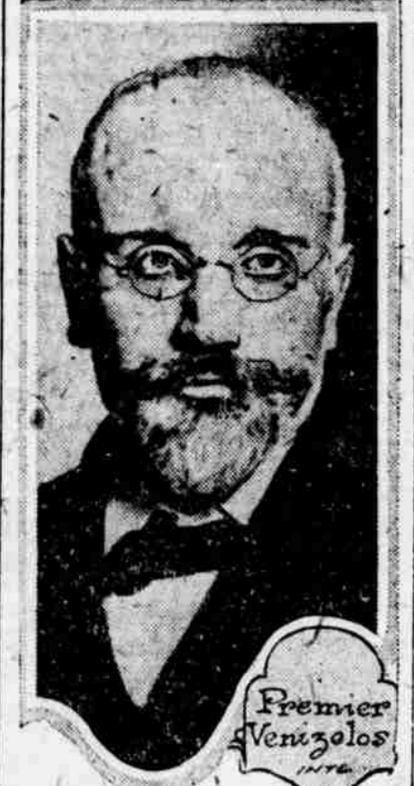

Reduction in Ford Prices Not Likely to Affect Other Makers

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Chicago, Sept. 24.—Will the radical cut in price of Ford automobiles affect prices of other motor cars? A general impression that it will do so received no confirmation on motor row here, in Detroit or Indianapolis. Makers of cars that are measurably in competition with the Ford will admit no decision to meet the cut from what Henry Ford calls wartime prices, and the higher-priced vehicle makers were in the same state of mind.

A dispatch from Detroit said: "A decided stillness settled over the automobile manufacturers, and any attempts to draw from them an expression as to what effect the Ford price reduction policy would have was met with evasive answers. None cared to commit himself until he had some idea what other manufacturers thought of it."

No fewer than 500 trees must be cut down and worked into paper for a novel that sells a quarter of a million copies.

Farmers for Harding, Gov. Capper Reports

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(Special Telegram.)—Senator Capper of Kansas was in Chicago today on his way home from a speechmaking tour of Ohio and Indiana. "The farmer vote, in my opinion," he said, "is going to line up almost solidly against the Wilson league, because the farmers know that it is a war producer instead of a war panacea. The farmers take one look at the Wilson extravagance in administration and know there can be no falling off in taxes and no lower cost until the present orgy is over with, and they are getting ready to end it."

"Ohio will go for Harding by 100,000. Indiana will be found in the front ranks as well and will re-elect Jim Watson. "Thousands of women were in my audience and are going to support the republican nominees. From now until the end of the campaign I will speak in Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Oklahoma."

Girl, 5, Is Fatally Hurt By Street Car

Child's Skull Fractured in Accident While Returning Home from School.

While on her way home from the opening of the Walnut Hill school yesterday noon, Marjorie Dolores Edwards, 5, 4336 Parker street, was run down and probably fatally injured by a northbound Buson-Albright street car on Forty-third street, between Patrick avenue and Parker street.

The car was stopped with the wheels but a foot from the little girl's body. She had already suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries. She was taken to the Methodist hospital by E. Nelson, 4415 Parker street, where authorities say she will die.

The conductor in charge of the street car was W. A. Bell, 1915 Lincoln boulevard. The motorman was L. P. Couch, 4209 Lake.

Couch declared the little girl became confused by passing automobiles and darted in front of his car before he had a chance to stop. He said the accident was unavoidable.

Miss Madge Moore, 3732 North Forty-third street, who was sitting in the front end of the car at the time of the accident, substantiated the words of the motorman.

Henry Ford says "The war is over and it is time war prices were over. There is no sense or wisdom in trying to maintain an artificial standard of values. For the best interest of all it is time a real practical effort was made to bring the business of the country and the life of the country down to regular pre-war standards." We are at your command with regular Ford efficiency in service, and eagerness to fill your orders.
