MISS MARIE NEVILLE

Water as a Beautifier

Water is the world's greatest beautifier. It is the world's greatest health giver.

"Water, internally, externally, and externally, is the best health and beauty motto there is."

Most people feel perfectly acquainted with the preachings of the external use of water. Not so many, however, are familiar with its internal need.

Medical Man's Opinion. "The life processes produce poisons as by-products. Were it not for the liver, which destroys many poisons, and the kidneys, bowels and skin, which eliminate poisons, we would speedily die. In fact, as it is, we almost always die of poisons! The only real exception is when we are killed by physical violence. When germs kill us it is chiefly by the poisons which they generate. Poison, therefore, is the main factor in causing old age and death not directly due to injury."

The foregoing paragraph is the expression of a medical man. It will be seen at once how important it is to eliminate as thoroughly and promptly as possible such poisons as are unavoidably introduced into the body. The kidneys are the chief organs for this elimination work, and water is the chief agent for the elimination.

Nothing Takes Place of Water. Every portion of your body, even the bones, to be kept in health require a constant supply of fresh water. Coffee, soda water, tea, or other drinks do not take the place of pure water. The blood needs a continuous supply of water, and if it does not get its required quota otherwise, it will absorb water from the colon, or other tissues, thereby receiving poisons as well, leaving the bowels dry and constipated.

The bowels must be emptied every day. Three-quarters of the complexion ill, the dulled eyes, the lusterless hair, and poor digestion are due to neglect in this regard. Bad breath, odorless skin are other disagreeable results of too little water consumed.

You have to drink enough water, therefore, to keep your organs flushed and clear of accumulated material.

Invaluable in Reducing. No, drinking water will not make you fat. On the contrary, it is invaluable in reducing, because it carries off the tissue that is broken down by diet and exercise. But it unquestionably will keep the bowels clean, give a good flow to the blood, and tone up the whole system.

If you have been one of those without taste for water, while other people are living under hygienic conditions, you may find, as many others similarly negligent, a remarkable increase in health and energy by attending systematically to this simple but important need.

Seven Glasses Daily.

How much should you drink? One glass every morning before breakfast, one at each meal, and one in the forenoon and one in the afternoon and before retiring is a good rule. It is a silly, ungrounded old tale about water drinking at meals being harmful. It is not. Unless you use it to wash down chunks of food without chewing. Of course, if you do that, it is harmful. But you know food railroaded into the stomach that way is going to cause you trouble, and you have too good sense to be found guilty.

When the stomach is empty between meals is the most beneficial time to take the water cure for constipation. Of course, one may overdo as well as underdo in this prohibition drinking. Some faddists have advocated 10 to 16 glasses daily, but that overworks the kidneys and overburdens stomach and heart.

Helps the Skin.

Another important reason for water drinking is that you know at certain times girls will have more or less of an odor from their skins and breath. It is noticeable in those with the most cleanly habits. Perfume will only make matters worse. These odors are due to acids and chemical matters which exist in the natural secretions of the body—the perspiration, breath, and other excretions. Now, the less water in the system the more these odors will be detected.

It is the lack of plenty of water that causes the skin to give forth odors," says Dr. William Lee Howard. "If you have exercised to the point of profuse perspiration and have not drunk plenty of water, no amount of bathing will prevent an odor coming from the skin. If you are going out to a dance or any place where you will be in a warm room you will not be able to disguise the chemical odors coming from the skin. But if you have filled your system with water two or three hours before going out your skin will have a delicious, natural odor."

setting up conference for employed and volunteer workers of the Y. W. C. A. All interested in the work and program of the Young Women's Christian Association are most cordially invited to attend these sessions. Please register at the office of the Y. W. C. A. not later than noon of Sept. 30.

Physical Department. With a very well cleaned gymnasium, newly oiled floors, repainted mats, etc., the physical education department feels that it is ready to start the year out right. Registrations are increasing and during the week of September 27, with the aid of Dr. Abbie Virginia Holmes, the physical and medical examinations will be given, preparatory to the class work which begins October 4.

Y. W. C. A. Monday evening, September 27, at 7:30 will be "Home Coming" and "Talk Fest" night at the Y. W. C. A. An interesting program has been planned, including a "movie," a match volleyball game, "singing," a reading by Miss Catherine Carroll and a sketch entitled "The Newcomer," showing a young girl just arrived in Omaha and she finds the Y. W. C. A. and what it can do for her. A cordial invitation is extended to all women and girls.

Thursday evening, Sept. 30 will be the opening fall banquet of the Industrial Extension Federation of clubs. The different clubs will compete in table decorations and club yell and songs. Delegates to the summer conference will give reports of the different commissions taken up there and the recommendations passed. The girls will vote upon a program to follow for the coming months and discuss the big things they want to take up as a federation. Some of the new things this fall in the way of federation work will be game teams, an arts and crafts gift making class, amateur photography, and "How to Keep a Budget" not only for the individual but for the club. Mrs. Effie Steen Kittleson will again have a class in expression and personality work. Among the other new features will be a "movie" once a month or oftener to be shown in the Auditorium with our own machine. The different clubs will have an opportunity to write their own scenarios and also try out their ability as "movie stars."

On Friday afternoon, and evening and Saturday morning, October 1-2, at Camp Brewster, will be held a school. Mrs. Eastman will meet Mrs. C. T. Kountze in the east and together they will attend the wedding in Indianapolis of Miss Elizabeth Nicholson and Benjamin Claypoole on October 9. Mrs. Eastman will visit her daughter, Mrs. William Ruxton, in Chicago before returning.

Mrs. Charles Allison and son, Charles Allison, accompanied by Loring Elliot and Drexel Sibenbern leave next Wednesday on a motor trip to Lexington, Ky., where they will attend the races. They expect to visit Louisville and Cincinnati before returning home.

Luncheon by D. A. R.

Beginning tomorrow and continuing every day throughout the week the D. A. R. will serve lunches to the general public from 11:30 to 2:30 in the Eagle hall, Council Bluffs. As the time approaches and more and more interest is being shown, the committees in charge feel confident that success is assured. Large and small tables, to accommodate 200 people have been arranged, and many individuals, as well as groups of people, are looking forward to the savory lunches which have been promised them. Council Bluffs boasts of nearly 100 members in this organization and to prove that they excel in the culinary art these prominent society folk will prepare many of the dainty dishes themselves, and each day will serve a different menu. Some time ago 100 Rotarians asked to have places reserved for them Friday, and nearly that many members of the newly organized Kiwanis club will lunch together on Tuesday. The Saturday Noon club will have a table for their weekly luncheon and the Realtors will patronize the D. A. R. The private room in connection with the main dining room is sure to be a popular place if the number of reservations which have been made is any evidence. Mesdames Reed Flickenger, Fred Baumcister and George Wickham, with several able assistants, will be in charge of the six tables there and a number of parties have already been planned.

Following is a list of some of the luncheon menus: Monday, Mrs. E. A. Wickham will have eight guests. Tuesday Mrs. Frank Wright 12 and Mrs. Clarence Emkie 20. Following the luncheon Mrs. Emkie's guests will go to her home to play bridge. Wednesday Mrs. Angeline Brinsford 10. On Thursday Mrs. Fred Baumcister will have 10 guests and Mrs. C. G. Saunders eight. A number of others will entertain but have not as yet given the ladies in charge the number for whom they wish reservations made.

Practical Lamp

A very practical reading lamp can be purchased, made of wrought iron with a parchment or glazed linen shade. Its practicalness does not detract from its attractiveness.

Mrs. Eastman Leaves

Mrs. Osgood Eastman, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Norton, leaves Sunday for Chicago where they will be joined by Miss Margaret Eastman, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. William Ruxton and Mr. Ruxton, and leave directly for Highlandsburg, Pa., where Miss Eastman and Miss Norton will enter Highland Hall. Mrs. Eastman will be joined in Highlandsburg by Mrs. Charles T. Kountze and daughter, Miss Elianor, and they will motor to Indianapolis to attend the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Nicholson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Nicholson, to Benjamin Claypoole, which takes place October 9. Mrs. Eastman will visit her daughter, Mrs. Ruxton, in Chicago before returning home.

DREAMS

"Our dreaming Jacob saw the future and the beauties thereof." Thousands of our patients never dreamed the many years of comfort they would enjoy from our dental work. We can take only our ideas and develop them—today they may not appear practical—tomorrow they may be in demand. The public never dreamed of the progress in dentistry, as has been manifest by the perfection of the Whole Porcelain teeth, muscular trimmed plates, pyorrhea treatment and Painless Methods. Your work is done and likened into the mythical dream.
