Mrs. Rosella Cohen of Trenton, N. J., who recently observed the 106th anniversary of her birth, has the distinction of being the oldest woman in New Jersey.

In Italy a woman cannot give away any of her property, raise mortgages, contract debts or dispose of or receive capital without the consent of her husband.

The women in the United States use false hair by the tons, for more than 400,000 pounds were imported into this country last year from China.

Let's Shopping with Polly

MY DEARS.— SUCH a delightful fashion year as this promises to be with the talent of both the old and new world laboring for the achievement of clothes for Milady Beautiful.

As a fabric for the sports costume de luxe, there is a sumptuous new material par ondulie, a pan velvet pressed in narrow wave lines. Evening gowns and lovely draped wraps have also chosen this new fabric.

Cleverly imitating the exotic coloring of tropical birds is a plush-textured fabric, not only attractive for costumes, but greatly in demand in the military style centers.

Pelt fur is the name given to a new deep piled plush so exactly imitating peltry that one is prone to believe that mole, otter, lynx and squirrel would be deceived themselves.

Not all of these novelties are in, but the buyers promise that in a short time Omaha will be showing originations of both the old and new world fashion fabric houses.

The surplus closing appears on many of the new blouses. One that is very smart is made of heavy silk jersey. The surplused fronts cross over and the neck is at the back.

The Fashion Argosies Sail In With A Splendor of Luxuriously Decorated Fabrics. WITH gorgeously attractive results they're embroidering both silken and woolen fabrics at the Ideal Button and Pleating company...

One novel wrap has three armholes, two of which are used for one arm. One is Always Sure of Service Unexcelled. AT the Marinello-Licensed Shop, 556 Brandeis Theater building...

Fancy flat braids outlines the tab effects in front and back of a fitted suit coat. "A Little Bit O' Heaven" and "The Awakening".

ARE names given to two charming baby pictures painted by Bessie Peace Gutzman, which the A. Hospe Company, 1513 Douglas street, have framed in ivory and blue composition frames with delicately tinted clusters of roses and forget-me-nots.

Milady Should Give Heed to Nature's Warning. AND when there's a showing of dead hair in the brush during the fashioning of the coiffure it's time one hied herself to the Delft Hair Parlor, southeast corner Sixteenth and Douglas, Room 410 Karbach block...

Quite the Rage Among Smart Society Folk. ARE the individual services of a chicken pie which they're serving out at the Garceland/Sweet Shop, 6305 West Center, but of course you've heard of the famous dishes favored of fashion folk which the clever chef of this sweet shop concocts!

When I was a girl, grandmother said, I never heard tell of a cigaret; And any young lady would rather be dead Than go to her rest in a nightgown of net.

The girls of that epoch were daintily bred, They practiced the waltz; per-adventure, the lancers. Slang and the shimmy were nowhere apparent; Our clothing was adequate, never transparent.

Said granddaughter: Judging by pictures, I'd say Your dresses were just a bit de-col-le-tay? Said grandma, aroused by commingled emotions, Now whepe do you get such preposterous notions?

Only a Modest Pantry Shelf, Old-Fashioned, Neat and Plain With Jellies, Jams and Pickles Put Up By Martha Jane. IN her California garden, now displayed on blue and white pantry shelves in the art department of the Brandeis stores. Cunningly shaped little glass jars prove containers of delightful dainties for delicious concoctions: Silver plum, logan-blackberry, pineapple, peach, ginger, fig, Nectarine Nancy, Pollyanna jam, ginger pear, Martha Jane relish, and baked strawberries, butters, marmalades, jams, preserves, pickles and relishes. Could anything make a more enticing offering for an ill friend, a remembrance more to be appreciated on some special occasion?

In California gardens the fruit for you was grown, then tucked in tight in little jars to be your very own. It's Quite the Thing This Season to Have One's Hair Dyed in the New Way. THEY'RE making a specialty of a new hair dye at the Comfort Shop, 408 Securities building, southeast corner Sixteenth and Farnam. This dye can be put on without shampooing and takes about 40 minutes. A delightfully natural shade is attained quite unlike the usual expected "dyed" appearance. Phone D. 1061.

Tea balls in little glass cups, just big enough to hold them, are a charming addition to the tea table. Without the little cups a tea ball must always be placed in a cup or laid on a saucer, to keep it from dripping on the tea tray or tea table. When You Find It Imperative to Select New Office Furniture. YOU'LL find it altogether to your interests to visit the showrooms of the Omaha Printing company, Thirteenth and Farnam. In this great window bordered place you'll see complete groupings of office furniture in oak, mahogany or metal, all beautifully finished, many of them upholstered in a handsome fashion in rarely selected leathers of luxurious effect. An extensive line of cabinets in every desired style is also presented in this showing of office furniture with, of course, desk furnishings of attractive usefulness.

Delightful combination is deep blue cloth and Australian Opossum when it is used to fashion a softly draped and 'bordered wrap such as I've found this week. They're Making a Specialty of Forty and Fifty-Cent Noonday Lunches. At the enchantingly lovely Valley of Sweets in the Hotel Henshaw Farnam between Fifteenth and Sixteenth. To soothe shattered nerves resultant on a shopping tour or busy morning in the office there are strains of specially selected music. Special attention is given in this charming place to after theater parties with singing and music for amusement. And if one decides to dance later at the Hotel Henshaw Cafe on the other side of the lobby, where dance enthusiasts spend merry hours following the rhythmic beat of perfect music or listening to the splendid cabaret entertainers.

Printed Paisley patterns on novelty ribbons are used on georgette dresses. Combining Operating Facilities and Skilled Workers. OF two shops is the Van Arnam Button and Pleating Shop, 412 Paxton block, northeast corner Sixteenth and Farnam, which has been taken over by Miss Tarver of the Top Notch Shop. You'll find them most interested in your trimming and pleating problems of the new season. For dressy wear is the coat of taffeta, elaborately embroidered in color. A Specialist of Unusual Reputation. IS Dorothy Hill, Corset Specialist, with fitting rooms and showroom on the second floor of the Neville block, northeast corner of Sixteenth and Harney streets. Why not let Mrs. Hill solve your corset problem? Chic little hats in plain solid colors are worn with the Scotch plaid capes. It Really is a Problem to Decide Upon a Tailored Suit Style This Season They're All So Charming. Specially if they're made at L. Lieff's, 3139 Farnam. Unusually chic are the tailcoats in the making which I view when I drop into this busy place, Phone Harney 4131.

There's A Revival of Laces in Every Walk of Fashion and Furnishings. CHIEF in charm being the new lace curtains which they're showing in the drapery department of the H. R. Bowen Furniture Store, Sixteenth and Howard, Swiss, Duchess, Irish Point and Marie Antoinette, they're curtains of distinctive beauty. Fans, creamy lace sheers have exquisite insets of hand and machine work enter into many lovely garments. Style designers are giving as much attention to novelty styles to be developed in cotton as they do to those of heavy weight. An interesting point in connection with the first showing of all frocks is the tendency to button many of them in the back, the buttons showing and giving a real trimming touch. The attempt to fasten a frock invisibly in the back is always rather unsuccessful, because rarely is the fastening actually concealed, and unless a woman has a maid or someone else upon whom she can depend to help her get into her clothes, the back fastening that is "invisible" is terribly trying to the nerves. When buttons are used in the conventional way a dress can't be fastened in the back without much trouble.

Many of the Enchanting Gowns Worn at the Ball. OWED their ravishing originality to the master designer of gowns, Ramon, whose studio will be found on the main floor of Jacobs hall, 17th and Dodge. Phone Douglas 3755.

Every Blouse Has Its Day. BLOUSES of cotton fabrics for years occupied positions at the top and bottom of the scale of things sartorial, with silks, georgettes, chiffons, etc., bridging the gap. At the bottom were to be found machine-made blouses of lawn, coarse wool and similar materials, trimmed with cheap lace or embroidery. These blouses were worn by women who called them "shirt waists" and who wore them with serviceable dark wool fabric skirts in winter and inexpensive white tub skirts in summer. At the very top were found the models made of the finest and sheest of cottons, entirely fashioned by hand and trimmed with real lace or hand embroidery. During the past few seasons this order has been changing a trifle; this summer of 1920 it is safe to say that cotton blouses dominate the entire field. The low price models are still to be found, and of course the very expensive ones are by no means out of the running, but combinations of hand and machine work enter into many lovely garments. Since the Fall Festivities are Over WE will again take time to ob-serve the amenities of society which make life rather worth living after all. There are so many occasions to be taken cognizance of: Birthdays, anniversaries, little smoothings of life's pathway expressed in words of love's flower language. The John Bath Flower Shop, Eighteenth and Farnam, is a shop of interpretative artistry and if you'll step in the next time you're down town they'll "Say It With Flowers" in a way that leaves nothing to be desired.

Softly becoming surfaces have the smart costume fabrics of the season of 1920-1921. Is Your Plush Coat Crushed and Wrinkled? If it is you should by all means send it to the Pantorium, 1515 Jones St., and have it dry cleaned and steamed. Your plush and velvet garments will look as delightfully lovely as when first worn after being treated in their new cleaning process, and this at a most moderate price. The average plush coat can be renewed to fresh beauty for $2.50 while the fur trimmed garments cost from 50c to $100 more. Return charges will be generously paid on all orders and satisfaction is guaranteed in every case. Send by parcel post today for it is really not a bit too early in the season to have your coat in readiness for those delightfully chill days soon to arrive!
