Fireman Was Champion Baby When 3 Months Old

Here's Joe Sherry, jr., city fireman, as he is today, and as he appeared as a prize-winning baby at the age of three months.

He weighed 14 pounds and eight ounces at the time of his birth, but the period of phenomenal growth for this big fireman was during the first three months of his life.

After that, his development was more gradual. He is a big man today, but his physical propensities are not what might be termed phenomenal.

When he was three months old, however, he was a wonder. He won several prizes for being the most handsome and most nearly physically perfect infant in the state.

Fireman Sherry is 29 years old. Last week in a fire at Sixteenth and Clark streets he distinguished himself.

the building into a seething furnace and his two comrades were needed at the rear to assist in restraining the blaze.

Sherry sent the two men back, and held the hose alone for more than an hour, squeezing it between his knees and directing its heavy flow of water from the nozzle with his hands.

Here is a chart to show what a phenomenal baby Sherry was when 3 months old and how he appears today:

At 3 months old: As he was—17 1/2 pounds; 28 inches height; 2 1/2 in. head; 2 1/2 in. waist; 1 1/2 in. calf; 3 1/2 in. wrist; 8 1/2 in. ankle.

Col. Roosevelt's Sister Would Clear Up Doubt

Says Western Trip Is to Urge Republicans to Back Candidate as Former Statesman Would.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 25.—(Special Telegram)—"As the sister of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, there is a special reason which caused me to take this trip to the middle west," said Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson of New York at republican national headquarters.

"That reason is to impress upon former members of the progressive party in the middle west that I am absolutely convinced that the colonel would wish them to get in behind the republican nominee, as he did in 1916, and put an end to what he considered the most sinister influence that had ever entered a country."

The itinerary in the middle west includes Indianapolis, St. Joseph, Mo., Omaha, Minneapolis, Duluth and then Mrs. Robinson will join in Chicago the delegation of women who are to visit Senator and Mrs. Harding October 2.

"In my public address thus far I have found that my audiences are most interested in the Wilson league of nations," said Mrs. Robinson.

Testimony Completed Against Mother of Grover C. Bergdoll

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—All testimony was in today when court adjourned until Monday in the trial of Mrs. Emma Bergdoll, Charles A. Braun, her son; James A. Romig, a former magistrate; Albert S. Mitchell and Harry Schulz, charged with conspiracy to aid Grover C. and Erwin Bergdoll to evade the draft.

Erwin Bergdoll, who is serving a four-year sentence in Fort Leavenworth, took the stand in an effort to secure the acquittal of the defendants.

Under cross-examination, he detailed his flight across the country, part of the time with his brother, Grover, who recently escaped from army guards in Philadelphia and is now a fugitive.

He also told how he had spent long stretches at his home at Bomall, Delaware county, sleeping in a barn to foil raiders who might appear at the house.

Following the escape of Grover, on May 21, Erwin said he had remained away from his home until he decided to surrender last July 20.

Publishers Deny Parties Run Papers

Stars and Stripes and Legion Weekly Editors Repudiate Statement.

New York, Sept. 25.—Denial of charges that the American Legion Weekly is controlled by the democratic national committee is made in statements last night by Harold Ross, editor of the Legion weekly, and George W. White, democratic national committee chairman.

The American Legion Weekly is owned entirely by the American Legion and is fully supported by the membership of this organization and the income from legitimate advertising," Mr. Ross said.

In denying the charge alleging control of the Stars and Stripes by his committee, Mr. White said: "The democratic national committee hasn't a dollar invested in the Stars and Stripes or any other publication. I know no such investment has been made since I became chairman and an examination of the records of the committee show no such investment was made previous to my election."

Scott C. Bone, director of publicity of the republican national committee, denied that he ever had stated the committee controlled the American Legion Weekly.
