

Former Soldier, Victim of Shell Shock, Kills Self

Bachelor Farmer Found on River Bank With Wrist Slashed and Head Blown Off.

Following an all night search by relatives, the body of Chris Jensen, 28, bachelor ex-soldier, 1102 South Sixty-second street, was found with the head blown off and wrists gashed on the bank of the Elkhorn river near the Brunning farm on West Double street Friday.

Beside the body lay a shotgun. County officials were informed yesterday and said the case apparently was one of suicide. No inquest will be held.

Relatives refused to discuss the shooting. The man apparently had been dead 24 hours.

Jensen had placed the muzzle of the shotgun in his mouth and pulled the trigger with his toe. He had slashed the arteries in his wrist before using the shotgun.

Was in Ill Health. Jensen had been working with his brother-in-law on the Brunning farm. Thursday afternoon, the Brunning family came to Omaha to see the daylight parade, leaving him alone on the farm.

When they returned, he could not be found and a search was instituted which lasted through the night and up to yesterday noon when the body was found by the river.

Dependence on account of ill health, contracted from shell shock which he suffered when in France with the signal corps of the Fifth Army division, is thought to have caused Jensen to commit suicide.

Jensen's parents say he never recovered his health since his discharge from the army and that he brooded constantly over his condition.

Died On Birthday. Jensen was to celebrate his twenty-eighth birthday on the day of his death with his parents, brothers and sisters.

Funeral services will be held at the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jensen, 1102 South Sixty-second street. Five brothers and four sisters also survive.

Jerry Howard Fears Flag of Ak-Sar-Ben Is Highjacker. Jerry Howard, health inspector, espied during his rounds yesterday a banner waving in the breeze on a house at Thirty-third and Walnut streets.

The banner bore the colors of red, yellow and green, a strange device, according to the inspector. Mr. Howard rushed to the office of Police Commissioner Ringer and confided his suspicions.

The tri-colored banner was an Ak-Sar-Ben decoration, but Mr. Howard believed it might have been the insignia of a band of pirates or highjackers.

Mayor Starts Two Carrier Pigeons on Flight South. A pair of homing pigeons were released yesterday from a window sill of Mayor Smith's office, on their way to carry a small capsule message from the mayor of Omaha to the governor of Missouri at St. Louis.

After the door of the box was opened, the pigeons stretched their wings several times and then hopped off for their long flight to a loft in St. Louis, whence they were removed a few days ago.

The birds directed their flight first toward the west and then veered to the south.

Meiss to $25,000 Is Sent To Girls' Industrial Home. ### Six Men Are Robbed Here by Pickpockets

Pickpockets frolicked with glee in Omaha Friday night, on street cars, downtown corners and in motion picture theaters.

Richard Utterback, employe of the Byrnes-Hammer company, was relieved of a bill book containing personal papers and lodge cards but no money.

C. A. Johnson, Lyons, Neb., was robbed of $80 at Sixteenth and Farnam streets, while Walter C. Jones, 2871 Cass street, was robbed of $55 while in a motion picture house.

Frank White, 515 North Thirtieth, was robbed of $15 downtown.

Nearly 7,000 more automobiles are owned in Manitoba this year than last.

Inspector Faces Liquor Charges

Former Federal Employee to Be Enjoined by Government—Conviction Means Prison.

Oliver P. Mallon, formerly government meat inspector in South Omaha, was arrested by federal agents yesterday for the second time within the last two months charged with illegal manufacture of liquor.

Following Mallon's first offense he was suspended from the government service as a meat inspector. He has cases pending in the federal state, county and police courts on charges of illegal manufacture of liquor.

According to federal agents, Mallon was manufacturing liquor on a large scale and had a section of his home especially fitted for the sale of his product.

Following his first offense the former government employe promised Prohibition Officer James Hanley he would never violate the law a second time, he said.

The punishment for a second offense of this nature is not less than one month or more than five years in prison and from $200 to $2,000 fine.

"The government will file a permanent injunction against Mallon's house," said Prohibition Officer Hanley. "If federal, state, county or city officers discover any more violation of the prohibition law on the Mallon property we will take the house."

Mallon was government meat inspector at South Omaha for more than 10 years. He has a family.

$1,750,000 Cost of Free Bridge, Mayor Is Told

The proposed new free bridge across the Missouri river between Omaha and Council Bluffs will cost between $1,500,000 and $1,750,000, according to an estimate made this yesterday by Mayor Smith.

"This is an estimate given to me by the Wadell company, whose representatives were here a few days ago," said the mayor. "I have asked other bridge companies to furnish us with sketches and estimates without charge."

The mayor believes that a fair division of the bonds with which to pay for the bridge would be two-thirds for Omaha and one-third for Council Bluffs.

The next step will be the selection of engineers by joint approval of the officials of Omaha and Council Bluffs.

Bank Clearings Fall. Bank clearings in Omaha for the past week decreased $4,000,000 over a week ago and almost $7,000,000 over the corresponding week a year ago.

This week's clearings were $58,467,433.66. Those of a year ago at this season were $65,098,743.14.

$47,000 Deal, Delayed by Missing Record, Completed

After a search for a missing record that began last May, W. T. Graham and Harold Graham cleared up the title to the three-story flats at 2117-19 Sherman avenue, and completed their sale for $47,000 yesterday.

Dr. W. S. Payne of Neligh, Neb., sold the building to Herbert Barnes an investor of the same town.
