Startling, to Say the Least, Is This "Lampshade" Basque Frock

Not every woman would dare this rather startling effect, but the suit comes from an authoritative New York tailor and has caught the fancy of some wearers. The basque fits smoothly and the seams and darts are accentuated with lines of jet beading. A jet bead fringe falls from the short sleeve and from the stiffened extension or poplum, which gives the costume its name, "lamp shade." The suit is made of navy blue tulle and is accompanied by French ribbon ties and long white gloves.

Do You Know--XIX
Three questions a day for the housewife.
1. Why raisins are good food for anyone taking a long walk?
2. The best way to serve pineapple?
3. How to dry lettuce quickly without breaking?
(These questions will be answered tomorrow by the Housewife.)
Answers to yesterday's questions:
1. The peanut is really not a nut, but a member of the pea family and bears the "nut" below the ground.
2. To make Saratoga chips peel potatoes shave thin, soak half an hour in ice water to draw out starch, dry and fry in hot fat.
3. To pasteurize milk for drinking when there is any danger of its being impure put it in a double boiler and keep the water at the boiling point for 20 minutes. Pour into a sterilized dish and cool immediately on ice.

What's What

In compliance with the convention that an elevator is a room rather than a corridor, it is the custom of well-bred men to doff their hats when women are present. This is done more often in a hotel or apartment house elevator than in a business "lift" but there is no rigid rule in the matter.

In the illustration, the woman in the foreground, who expects to ascend to the 11th floor, has planted herself in front of passengers who are to get off at intervening floors; because of her selfish stolidity, these must literally crush their way past her. She will not budge to accommodate anybody.

When a man is at the front of the elevator it is courtesy on his part to step out for a moment to permit other passengers to leave at floors below his destination. Whenever possible, those whose exits are due at the higher floors should stand at the back of the elevator, and leave the space in front for the earlier outgoers.

The daughter of a Crow Indian medicine man, Mary Little Bear, who was born in Montana, but who died recently in Philadelphia, where she was being educated, was called the "human encyclopedia," because she possessed such a fund of general knowledge for a 9-year-old child.

The Finest Pie Crust Is Easy to Make—Can You Make It?

PIE CRUST
1 1/4 cups sifted flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon Baking Powder
1/3 cup Mazola
4 tablespoons Cold Water
Sift dry ingredients. Add water to Mazola and beat until creamy. Mix quickly into dry ingredients. Toss on to slightly floured board and roll to desired thickness. This recipe makes one double pie crust.

SOME people say that the making of flaky, delicate and easily digested pie crust "is an art." Perhaps it used to be. Today even the inexperienced girl can make the finest pie crust. Only two things are necessary. A good recipe—which is given here. And Mazola—which is sold by all grocers. Mazola makes delicate, flaky and easily digested pie crust because it is an absolutely pure, vegetable oil—from an edible source. Wherever you find cooks making really good pie crust, you will find Mazola. And once you try Mazola you will never go back to lard and compounds.

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo
If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoon oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.
Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonful of Mulsified will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get Mulsified cocoon oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.
