

Cox's Criticism Stirs Resentment At Washington

Attorney General Palmer and His Friends Amazed at Candidate's Replies to Bee's Questions.

By E. C. SNYDER.
Washington Correspondent Omaha Bee, Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—(Special Telegram)—The categorical replies of Governor Cox to the questions propounded to him by the Omaha Bee on Monday last, criticizing the administrations of A. Mitchell Palmer and Albert Sidney Burleson, have caused amazement in official circles here, especially in the Department of Justice and the Post-office department. The governor was quoted in Tuesday morning's papers as having said in his Omaha speech that there are things about the administration of Mr. Palmer and Mr. Burleson which he does not approve.

Naturally Mr. Palmer and his friends were amazed to see a criticism of the attorney general's administration at the hands of the standard bearer of the party, coming at a time when Mr. Palmer was ready to take the stump for Governor Cox and do what he could to stem the tide now running strongly against the democratic candidate. And then it is recalled that friends of Mr. Palmer have put up most of the money in the democratic campaign thus far. With this in mind the partisans of the attorney general were in an ugly mood today and were openly saying that unless Governor Cox changed his tactics he would forfeit the slight chance of success he might otherwise have to be elected. While the present administration is admittedly unpopular in the country, it is contended by the leaders hereabouts that the democrats must either rally behind the administration or affront the majority of their own party.

To an onlooker it would appear as if Governor Cox was getting ready to be his own Burchard. Arthur F. Mullen, ex-national democratic committeeman from Nebraska, who is in Washington on business connected with the Department of Justice and the Treasury department, was not hilarious over the political outlook for his party in the state. He did volunteer the information that he had never seen so little enthusiasm in a presidential campaign five weeks before election day.

Police Seek Alleged Robber Who Posed as Private Detective

The police are on the hunt for a man, about 25, who on Tuesday morning rented a room from Mrs. C. A. Flynn, 2224-26 Howard street, and after posing as a special detective for Armour & Co., disappeared yesterday with a load of personal property belonging to five other roomers of the place. Mrs. Flynn conducts a rooming house, co-operating with the Y. M. C. A. in receiving overflow roomers from that institution. Because of the character of her house she questioned the young man when he failed to leave the house to go to work, receiving a reply that he was a special detective and worked at his own discretion. The nature of his work was revealed yesterday when neighbors declared they saw him entering and leaving the house several times with different grips under his arm each time.

Police Must Respond to Summons; Judge Declares

Failure of police officers to appear in district court in cases appealed from police court has brought forth a bulletin from Andrew Pattullo, inspector of police, posted in Central police headquarters, notifying all members of the department there is no excuse for continued practice of this sort and that all officers, when summoned to appear as complaining witnesses, must appear. According to the bulletin, Judge Troup scored Omaha police for their dilatory practice of dodging district court cases and notified Inspector Pattullo that hereafter, when officers fail to be present, they will be ordered before him on charges of contempt of court.

Man Held on Booze Charge When Son-in-Law Complains

James R. Musgrave, 2447 Kansas avenue, said to be involved in a $30,000 suit for alienation of his daughter's affections from his son-in-law, Harry Steiner, was arrested yesterday for the alleged manufacture of liquor on his farm seven miles north of Florence. Federal agents said they seized four stills, 200 gallons of liquor and 400 gallons of mash on the farm. Musgrave was arrested when his son-in-law and Julius Brenner, proprietor of the Millard hotel tailor shop, taken in a raid on the farm, implicated him by saying that he owned the contraband. Musgrave brands his arrest as spite work on the part of his son-in-law to aid in getting judgment in his alienation suit.

New Low Record Is Set by Reckless Drivers This Month

Police court figures show only half as many arrests for violation of the traffic rules in September as in June. The decrease in reckless driving was coincident with the activities of the municipal affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce in the question of speeding and carelessness at the wheel. Last June 1,000 violators of traffic rules were summoned into police court. The number of arrests in July was about the same. August showed a slight falling off, and in the month just closing only 500 traffic cases have been reported.

Release for Women who Suffer

The multitude of American women who suffer terribly day after day and year after year from ills peculiar to their sex is almost beyond belief,—yet there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman, and often many, do not reside who have been restored to health from some of the worst forms of female ills, and often avoided operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

These Two Women Tell of Their Experience.

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak and languid, had no energy, and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I shall always recommend your Vegetable Compound."—LILLIAN THARP, 824 South 6th Street, Carrollton, Ky.

Onalaska, Wis.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of stomach I could not lie in bed. I suffered so it seemed as though I would die, and I was not regular either. I suffered for a year and was unfit to do my housework, could only wash dishes once in a while. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women and decided to try it. It surely did wonders for me. I have no pains now and can do my own housework without any trouble at all. I will always praise your medicine as I do not believe there is a doctor that can do as much good for female weakness as can Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—MRS. LESTER E. WARNER, R. 1, Box 69, Onalaska, Wis.
