All Omaha Pin-Tumblers Are Called to Meeting This Morning.

All Omaha bowlers have been in-vited to attend a meeting this morn-ing at 10 in the Omaha alleys, Nine-teenth and Harney streets, in an ef-fort to organize the City Bowling association. Every bowler in the city, regardless of his average, is entitled to a voice in the meeting. The association is for the purpose for affiliation with the parent bowl-ing body of country, the American Bowling congress. At one time the local rollers had a strong organization, one of the best in the United States, but it dwindled down to a point where at the entry of Uncle Sam into the war the Greater Omaha league comprised the entire city association. Leaders are planning an organization that will eclipse in size and scope the former one and place Omaha among the leading centers of the bowling

There are now about 15 leagues in Omaha and only two of them, the Greater Omaha and the Gate City, have come out with the declaration that they are ready to join an or-ganization of this kind and be connected with the national organiza-

The meeting today is open to every league bowler in the city and all, especially officers and team cap-tains, are urged to attend. Each league will have representation in the association after it is organized. Promotion of the game both locally and nationally, conducting tournaments, especially the annual city championship tournament, set-tling disputes, passing on eligibility rules are a few of the functions of the organization.

Pennsylvania, 7; Bucknell, 0. Philadelphia, Oct. 2 .- The Uni versity of Pennsylvania foot ball team outplayed Bucknell university on Franklin field here today and won on a trick forward pass through center by a score of 7 to 0. Bucknell literally beat herself when Captain Joe Kostos fumbled the ball on nis own 20-yard line and Joe Strauss of Pennsylvania fell on it. A few minutes later Carl Thomas got the ball from Strauss and raced through a big hole for Pennsylvania's lone touchdown. Strauss kicked the goal.
