Harding Greet Workers

In this photograph are shown officers of the League of Women Voters interviewing Senator Harding in regard to platform planks presented by the league to the political conventions.

Reading from left to right: Senator Harding, Mrs. Maud Wood Park, chairman National League of Women Voters, Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, finance chairman, and Mrs. Richard J. Edwards, treasurer of the league.

This delegation was received in the Harding home at Marion, October 2. Following the presentation by Mrs. Park and her statement of the issues involved, Senator Harding directed the attention of the visitors to his Social Justice day speech which fully covered practically all the points presented.

One measure in particular, the maternity and infancy bill, which is the first on your program, has had my support in the place where it counts the most. I voted to report the bill for maternity and infancy protection out of committee in the senate; I would again give it my support. In advance of any other candidate I have made my declaration as to every other plank in your platform. I trust that all candidates will join me in a full-hearted support of these policies.
