That much criticised institution-American marriage-has at last found a defender, and of all defenders an Englishman! W. L. George, berg of Mead. The club is one of the president, mrs. The club is one of the oldest in the state, having been British novelist, essayist and feminist, who will appear in Omaha this season under the auspices of the Fine Arts society. He asserted recently in an interview in New York that "I believe that American marriages are happier for two reasons." said Mr. George in mellifluous Brit-ish accents. "One reason is that marriages are more easily dissolved in this country, so that two wretched people are not compelled by the law to remain fied together all their lives, as they are in England.

"The second reason is that woman's natural desire to possess things, clothes, furniture, ornaments and books, is more universally gratified by American husbands than by English husbands. "I once made a study of 150 Eng-

There is a little idolatry in this attitude, apparently that nine were very good, 25 were very bad and 110 were moderate." Found Only Two Unhappy Couples. Mr. George has been in America about six weeks now and has been touring in all parts of the country. So far he has observed only two unhappy American marriages. He realizes that there may be more, but believes that even more detailed observation would place the propor-tion of happy unions above the nine to 150 British rate. "The American man, from what I have been able to observe," said Mr. George, "is so much absorbed in his business that he hasn't the time to mind. It's very important that she should be distracted." Mr. George smiled a little shyly at this point.

"This going to the stores provides a sort of dope for the wife," he said. "No, perhaps it would be better not to call it 'dope.' Call it a It developed later that what Mr.

George really meant was soothing "It may be striking a pessimistic note," he continued, "but my own attitude is that life is not a very comfortable thing. It requires sauces to

A Free Prescription You Can Have

Philadelphia, Pa. Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses, and those who war glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing any they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man say, after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seened hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for 15 days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses. Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overworked, tired eyes which induced fierce headaches. I have worn glasses for several years both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the type-writing on the machine before me. I can do both now, and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

It is believed that thousands who wear are on the club program for the The club is much interested in the consolidated school which is being erected near Mead, at a gost of $175,000. "At least it sounds very nice and a great many women may believe it. but for my part I doubt if it goes quite as far as it sounds. As I go around I don't see women in superior positions in their places of employment. When a woman is given an important position a great deal of fuss is made about it, it is noted in the newspapers, her picture is published and she is invited to women's funcheous. This means, of course, that it is unusual. If a man were given the same position

They wil. continue to struggle for equality in the world of alfairs, demanding that men recognize them as equals in their hearts, as well as politically."
