

Blow on Head With Two-by-Four Puts Burglar to Sleep

Council Bluffs Grocer Lies In Wait for Intruder Then Bangs Him With Heavy Club.

Clarence L. McClelland, grocer at 1722 Avenue A, Council Bluffs, has a cure for burglars. It is a two-by-four.

Monday night McClelland, who lives near his grocery store, saw two men prowling about the front of his store. He got his big stick and crept out of his house to the rear door of his store, which he entered. Then he crawled up in the darkened store to the front end and waited for the entry of the first robber.

The glass window had been smashed in and one of the two men started to crawl through the opening he had made, McClelland said.

After the intruder had shoved his head and shoulders through the opening the grocer brought the two-by-four down on his head with a mighty crash. He then added more blows.

The eyes of the alleged burglar were closed yesterday morning. He had many bruises.

The beaten burglar was D. C. ("Buck") Mikes, a police character. He will be given a hearing in police court October 13. His companion, Herbert Criss, is held for investigation.

Presence of Mother Of Girl He Slew Makes Carl Wanderer Uneasy

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Carl Wanderer put in a miserable day at his trial today. Just back of him in the courtroom sat the mother of Ruth, the young wife whom Wanderer slew. The mother, Mrs. Charles Johnson, was accompanied by her son, a grown man. Their presence disturbed Wanderer very much. He had come into court, nattily attired and with a spruce step and jaunty air, but at all times he could feel the eyes of the desolated mother and brother of the murdered girl-bridge boring into his back. He carefully avoided looking at them and twitched uneasily during the entire session.

Mrs. Johnson, dressed entirely in black, had come to court in the expectation of testifying, but she has not yet been completed and she was not called.

New Haven Road to Vote Bonds to Meet Mortgage

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 12.—Stockholders of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad company today approved the directors' recommendation for the issue of bonds to meet a general mortgage which will tide over the floating indebtedness of the company, to issue bonds for equipment purposes and to extend to 10 years the five-year term of a loan to be given the company by the government.

The company's property between New York and Hartford however, has been mortgaged.

Girl Witness Says Dry Agent Shot Man After He Surrendered

New York, Oct. 12.—A dramatic story of the alleged killing of Harry Carlton, chauffeur, by Stewart McMullin, prohibition enforcement agent, during a raid, was told in federal court by Malvina Carlin, 18, who declared she was an eye-witness of the shooting for which McMullin is now on trial, charged with first degree murder.

In describing the shooting, which occurred in her father's home, the girl declared that McMullin had fired upon Carlton while he was crossing a room with "both his hands above his head." She said that the prohibition agent was holding her by the left arm when he fired, and that he held the pistol "about two inches from Carlton's head."

The girl said McMullin, at the point of his pistol, had forced her to give up $750 in marked money which Carlton had been paid for liquor by prohibition agents. Carlton, she said, had given her the money for safekeeping.

President of Chamber of Commerce Writes Letters to All Members Urging Co-Operation.

The campaign launched by the municipal affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce last week in connection with the police department to suppress reckless automobile driving is meeting with great success. Business men of the city, especially those who are members of the Chamber of Commerce, are getting in line in their efforts to back up the municipal affairs committee in the "safety" work it has undertaken.

Insane Man Thinks He Is Squirrel—Police Called

Denver, Oct. 12.—Arthur G. Seaver, 30, inmate of the insane ward of the Denver County hospital, was determined to prove his contention that he was a "human squirrel." He escaped from the institution and it required several members of the police department and part of the city's fire apparatus to shake him from the topmost branch of a tree in the residential section, where he had slept all night.

"Fire Burglar" Loots Home; Applies Match

Jewelry Valued at $250 Stolen By Man Who Sets Fire to House to Hide Crime.

Detectives investigating the theft of $250 worth of jewelry from the home of A. J. Burdin, 2026 Grand avenue, that was discovered after firemen extinguished a mysterious blaze in the rear of the Burdin home Monday night, say the thief evidently dropped a lighted match while ransacking a clothes closet.

None of the Burdin family was home at the time. The blaze was discovered at 7:30 by a passing autoist.

Discovery of the theft of a jewel box and a purse containing $12.50 was made shortly after the firemen left the place.

The blaze was confined to the rear of the Burdin home. Damage to the house and furnishings amounts to fully $1,000, Mr. Burdin said. He carried no insurance.

Nine Other Burglaries.

The captain of fire station No. 14, Twenty-first and Lake streets, told Mrs. Burdin that no one except firemen entered the house during the fire.

Nine other burglaries were reported to police during the night. In one case a watch dog frightened an intruder away.

Fred Turnbloom, 5802 North Thirtieth street, found his dog, "Prince," baying beneath a window from which a screen had been removed. He went through the house and, finding nothing missing, came to the conclusion that "Prince" had frightened the burglars away.

Suspect Salesman.

A fast talking magazine salesman who visited the home of C. B. Sordeleb, 604 South Twenty-eighth street, is suspected by Mrs. Sordeleb of having stolen $27 from a dresser.

Wool Yarn in Canada Makes a Sensational Drop in Price of $1.40

Montreal, Oct. 12.—The retail price of Canadian woolen yarn made a sensational drop this week when the price of the cheapest grade came down from $3.25 a pound to $1.85.

This is the first manufactured article to reflect the very low values of raw wool, although it is thought by woolen manufacturers here that goods by the yard will soon be brought down also by the action of American manufacturers.

Drugs also are following the downward trend. Camphor, which during the war cost $5 a pound, can now be bought for $1.25. Turpentine has dropped $1.25 a gallon wholesale, while cocaine is now only $5 an ounce.

Missouri and Louisiana capitalists will invest more than $1,000,000 in carbon works to be erected at Monroe, La.

30 Per Cent of Stockholders in Pennsylvania Railway Women

New York, Oct. 12.—The statement of stockholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad company for last August, compared with August, 1919, shows the number of shares outstanding to be 9,985,314; stockholders, 128,363, an increase of 15,440; average holdings of shares, 77.70, a decrease of 10.64. The number of women stockholders is 61,389, an increase of 6,198. Percentage of stock held by women, 30.97, an increase of 30 per cent.

CORRECT APPAREL FOR MEN AND WOMEN

Found at last—a perfect phonograph

The Schmoller & Mueller Phonograph Supreme

Just what constitutes a perfect phonograph?

The Tone

So exquisite, so rich, mellow and clear, that if you listened from behind a screen, one would be led to believe he listened to the human voice or the tones of some wind or string instrument.

The Motor

The springs are made of highly tempered Swedish Steel. They unwind slowly and smoothly and the release of tension is imperceptible in the turning of the record. No clicking or grinding can be heard.

The Case

So simple and unobtrusive that any one of them will harmonize with the furnishings of a modest home, yet their lines are of such grace and exquisite proportions that they are a fitting ornament to any home, however pretentious.

The Price is substantially less than other phonographs of high type.

The Terms Are so reasonable that no home need be without a phonograph.

The Guarantee Is the strongest written.

Come in Try a recording by Caruso or a selection by the Metropolitan Opera House Orchestra, or a comic by Bert Williams or a Ted Lewis Jazz selection, and you will be convinced that no other phonograph is capable of so great achievement. USE ANY RECORD, a Columbia, an Okeh, a Victor, an Edison, in fact, any record that strikes your fancy, and you will be convinced that no other phonograph is so capable as the SCHMOLLER & MUELLER, THE PHONOGRAPH SUPREME.

The Combined achievements of Artists and Artisans. Musicians designed the tone chamber; craftsmen constructed the cabinets.

Important Notice to Patrons of the Beddeo Clothing Co.

Because of the splendid work of the Omaha firemen during the fire which visited our store Friday night the damage was confined mostly to the second floor, which contained our Ladies' Apparel Department. This department must of necessity be closed to await action of the insurance adjusters.

Our Men's Store on the main floor is open for business, and unusual offerings prevail. Payments on accounts should be made in the regular way at third floor main offices.

Watch the papers for further particulars as to the gigantic closing out of all smoke and water damaged merchandise.
