

Legal Fight For Divorce Fee Started

Separation of Kitchens Revived When Attorney for Woman Says He Got Only $500 Retainer.

"The Kitchen divorce suit will be a 'dirty' case if it is contested in court and a lot of things you don't want brought out and a lot that we don't want brought out will be testified to," Lloyd A. Magney said to Ben S. Baker one day last April, according to testimony given by Mr. Baker in District Judge Goss' court yesterday in the suit brought by Walter W. Hoye against Roberta E. Kitchen for $6,500 attorneys' fees.

Mrs. Kitchen obtained a divorce from her husband, Richard Kitchen, vice president of the Kitchen Brothers Hotel company, April 30, 1920.

She secured a settlement of $65,000 alimony in an agreement made outside of court "to avoid the annoyance of litigation."

High Cost of Divorces.

The high cost of divorces among the rich was revealed today in the testimony of the attorneys. Mr. Baker was attorney for Mrs. Kitchen. Mr. Hoye also was engaged by her and her father and brother.

"Mr. Baker told Mrs. Kitchen he would take $12,000 as his fee in the case," testified Mr. Hoye. "Later he said he'd be generous with her and take $9,000."

Baker received a fee of $6,500, Mr. Hoye testified.

"His fee was paid promptly when the case was settled," said Attorney Hoye.

Mrs. Kitchen May Testify.

Mrs. Kitchen refused to give Hoye more than $500 for his fee.

"The high-stepping of 'Dick Kitchen was to be brought out in the trial if the case had been contested," Mr. Baker said.

It is expected that the former Mrs. Kitchen will take the witness stand in the present fight between the attorneys.

Lloyd A. Magney, close friend of young Kitchen, is his attorney in the present case. Mrs. Magney also was granted a divorce July 16.

Negro Outwits Jailor, Freed; Alleged Accomplice Is Held

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 15.—Fred Smith, negro, held on a charge of larceny at the police station, gained his freedom by substituting himself for another negro, Claude Oliver, who should have been released. Charges of disorderly conduct have been placed against Oliver, the police declaring it was a conspiracy to get Smith out of jail.

Oliver was fined $11 for a minor offense and locked up awaiting

MacSwiney's Brother Arrives In London

Rat Plague Booms Paris

Cat Stock—Fur Price Soars

Paris, Oct. 15.—The cat is now the fetch of Paris, for the anti-rat crusade has resulted, say the Paris papers, in a tremendous cat boom.

While cats have always been popular here—never meeting with mal-treatment and abuse like so many American cats—they are now considered as indispensable in every home.

Cat enthusiasts are delighted, according to the papers, while the enemies of tabby are beaten into silence first by proofs of its utility and secondly by the various reports of the Academy of Medicine, which have stated definitely that "the cat is not a germ carrier."

There are those who assert, however, that the absence of cats from the streets of Paris is not caused by the loving care to which they are subjected in their homes, but—by the high cost of fur.

Board of Inquiry to Investigate Charges of Killing in Haiti

Washington, Oct. 15.—Secretary Daniels announced that he had appointed a board of inquiry to make a thorough investigation of "all the wrongs alleged to have been committed by United States marines in Haiti," and particularly the reference to "indiscriminate killings" in Brig. Gen. Barnett's confidential letter of a year ago to Col. I. H. Russell, marine commander in Haiti.

Secretary Daniels said, to appear before the board as a witness. The board, which is composed of Rear Admirals Henry T. Mayo and J. H. Oliver and Brig. Gen. J. H. Pendleton of the marine corps, has been directed to "sift every bit of evidence." Mr. Daniels said, to the end that "any man in American uniform guilty of wrong-doing shall be brought to trial and punished."

Girl Leaps 25 Feet to Freedom; Evading Police
Chicago, Oct. 15.—By running across the roof and leaping 25 feet to the ground, a girl 19 years of age, whose identity was unknown, made her escape from a Chicago jail recently.

The girl had been brought to the station from a city detention home for examination. She locked herself in a washroom, made her way to the roof of the jail by means of an open window, and then leaped to the ground, a distance of nearly 25 feet. She was uninjured in her attempt at freedom and has successfully evaded recapture by the police.

Cranberry Crop Short, Prices Due for Hike—Frost Blamed
Carver, Mass., Oct. 15.—The yield in some of the cranberry bogs in this section is destined to be so light this season that the harvest will fail to pay expenses, leading growers assert. With the damp weather which has retarded picking and the early frosts, the cost of the luscious berry is bound to go skyrocketing.

"Doing is the best thing, for if, resolutely, people do what is right, in time they come to like doing it."
