

High Cost of Living Said To Beat End

British Newspapers Carry Front Page Stories Declaring Prices Have Been Restored to Old Basis.

By ROBERT J. PREW, Universal Service Staff Correspondent, London, Oct. 15.—The high cost of living in England is at an end. "The war boom is over," according to the London newspapers, which announce the fact with prominently displayed streamers across their front pages. They indicate that the English are optimistic of giving the knockout blow very soon to the remaining high prices.

Sugar on Decline.
The only sensational decline among food staples, however, was the 30 per cent drop in the price of sugar.

Declaring that the output has now outstripped the purchasing power, the London Times says that the "high tide of artificial prosperity" has at last begun to ebb in the United States.

"The decline in English has been more rapid," the Times points out. "This was caused by the reduction in quotations by the sellers of goods in this country."

Industries Hard Hit.
That a serious industrial depression accompanies the slump in prices is shown by the fact that only 20 per cent of the total number of woolen workers in England are being employed at full time. Cotton operatives are working only half time in Lancashire. There is also an acute depression in the automobile, leather, hosiery and lace trades.

The bankers are paying serious attention to the statement from the financial conference at Brussels that 11 out of 12 European states will have budget deficits this year. They declare this necessitates further monetary inflation, preventing the fall in the cost of living on the continent. The further riddling of the exchange rates has resulted in another curtailment of exports from the United States and from England.

Slayer of Newspaperman Is Sentenced to 35 Years
Gallatin, Mo., Oct. 15.—Hugh Y. Tarwater was today found guilty by a jury of second degree murder for the death of Wesley L. Robertson, a veteran newspaper publisher here, December 23, 1919. Tarwater was sentenced to 35 years in the penitentiary.

New Elixir, Called Aspirinal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried. All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it. When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.

Back From Vacation Judge Landis Gets Busy on Profiteering Cases

Chicago Tribune—Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Chicago, Oct. 15.—Judge Landis came back from his vacation today and things began to hum at the federal building. Right off the bat he found that a number of business men, charged with profiteering, had not appeared in court. When attorneys hastened to explain their various absences, the judge said: "Well, if it is necessary, we'll employ a special stenographic force to send out notices to these men to tell them when they are to appear and what crimes they are accused of." The head of one of the city's largest hotels, charged with failure to pay enough income tax, was the first called. His attorneys got a week to file additional documents. Officials of an alleged coal profiteering firm and another sugar firm also received a week's grace.

Child Falls Into Manhole and Is Rescued Unharmed

New York, Oct. 15.—Katie Helig, aged two years, six months, did not have a looking glass to walk through into wonderland as the immortal Alice had, so this afternoon the "cute little thing" stepped through a man hole into a sewer. And what adventures she had! She would not tell of them. Children never do. What is essential to this story is that she fell for a considerable distance, just as Alice did, landed safely and then ambled along for a considerable distance. She was found clinging to a damp wall past which a powerful hydrant was pumping a powerful stream flowing toward the East river.

World of Industry

A scheme which will result in the expenditure of between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000 is now under way in Kobe, Japan. It calls for the construction of tram lines throughout the city and residential districts in the hills beyond the city limits. It is also planned to develop several new residential sections for the working classes in the districts outside the city that are now undeveloped.

In Cincinnati an arbitration board has advanced wages of platform men employed by the local street car company from 50 cents an hour to a maximum of 59 cents an hour. The award will date back to June 1. The nine-hour day is substituted for 10 hours. Former overtime rates of time and one-third is advanced to time and one-half and platform men are guaranteed $100 a month instead of $85, the old rate.

The director of the Australian bureau of commerce and industry has outlined a scheme which has for its object the development, within 10 to 15 years, of a wool-textile industry capable of utilizing practically the whole of the commonwealth production of wool in the manufacture of woolens and worsteds, so that in due course Australia may become an exporter of manufactured articles instead of the raw material.

Manganese is found in Japan in three forms: Metallic, which is over 50 per cent pure manganese, being used principally in the making of certain kinds of iron and steel and as an amalgam; dioxide, or "black manganese," having as high as 90 per cent manganese, and largely used in the making of chemicals, drugs, paints and electric batteries; and carbonate ores, which until recently has been a waste product in Japan.

Because of increased wages in all trades in Germany the cost of printing has also risen. At present 700 per cent more than pre-war prices are charged for printing. In the book-binding trade prices have increased by 33 1-3 per cent since the last settlement of piece work wages in June, 1919, and have now reached $50 per cent of the pre-war prices, not including additional charges for cover material.

A French enterprise which suspended operation during the war has recommenced the production of building blocks that are gaining widespread usage in the West district in certain kinds of building construction. The blocks are made in molds as are cement building blocks in the United States. The materials used are sand, lime and cement, with a base of crushed coal cinders. The lower grade of blocks also contain some coal cinders. These blocks are made in several sizes. The size 10 by 20 by 6 inches sells for 237 francs per hundred blocks.

According to the latest available statistics there are in all 26 paper mills in Finland, with 71 paper-making machines and seven card-board mills with 12 machines. The water power utilized for working these mills is 73,390 horsepower, and steam 13,820 horsepower. The number of hands employed exclusively at the paper mills is 6,096, and the yearly output is 230,000 tons. The capital involved is 261,998,000 Finnish marks.

In San Jose, Cal., more than 1,000 employees of a local cannery suspended work to enforce compliance with a state rule that cannery workers be paid a minimum of 57 1/2 cents an hour for an eight-hour day, with pay for overtime. The firm attempted to evade the overtime feature and approximately 200 of the employees who are organized started the strike movement, which resulted in a complete breakdown by the bosses.

Oil reached a high record in July, when, 38,419,000 barrels were produced in the United States, according to the United States geological survey. The consumption was estimated at 44,286,000 barrels. The production for the three months ending July 31 totaled 112,645,000 barrels, while the consumption amounted to 30,958,000 barrels. A high record for oil well completions was also made in August, with a total of 3,513, an increase of 787 over July. The new production was 290,518 barrels, an increase of 51,280 barrels over July.
