

Three Men Shot By Chicago 'Cop'

Two Captured, Other Routed
In Raid in Notorious District.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Policeman Thomas Cooper was off duty, but he admits he put in his wildest night last night when he shot three men, one of whom is dying, captured two others and routed a dozen thugs in two expeditions into the notorious battle zone of the Wigwam Athletic club and Ragen's Colts, two powerful political organizations around the stock yards, neither of which is famous for its observance of laws.

A fourth man, shot down by two of Cooper's victims, is believed to be dying. The casualties, as far as known, are as follows:
William McCarthy, 24, a butcher, shot near the heart in Garvey's saloon, and who is dying at a hospital. He says Edward Clements shot him.
John Ryan, 23, wanted for more than a dozen holdups and other crimes, shot near the heart and through one arm by Officer Cooper, dying at Englewood hospital.
Edward Clements, shot and wounded by Officer Cooper, but escaped. Cooper was passing McDermitt's saloon when he encountered Ryan and two of his pals. Ryan immediately opened fire upon the policeman who unlimbered his artillery and responded. Two of the men were shot, but managed to get away. After Cooper had sent Ryan to a hospital, he went back to the saloon and arrested Joe Lenihan and Martin Fanning, both members of Ragen's Colts, and both of whom were armed.

U.S.S. St. Louis Anchors At Omaha Street Corner

The U. S. S. St. Louis hove into port yesterday, looked about for a harbor where it might weigh anchor and grounded at Fourteenth and Douglas streets.

The St. Louis is an exact replica of the big cruiser bearing its name and has been ordered here to give prospective tars and landlubbers an idea what a real man of war looks like. It has every equipment of the parent ship with the exception of the engine, weighs 850 pounds without the table upon which it rests and is 12 feet long from stern to bow.

The model will anchor in Omaha for about a month and Lieut. Commander Lawder is looking about for a safe harbor in some large downtown window.

Cornerstone to Be Laid.

Loup City, Neb., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—The cornerstone of the new Sherman county court house will be laid Friday, October 29. The Old Fellows will have charge of the ceremonies.

Over the Political Fence

Congressman Albert W. Jeffers will speak tonight at Valley. His itinerary for the rest of the week follows: Wednesday, Kennard and Arlington; Thursday, Gretna and Elkhorn; Friday, Bennington and points in Washington county; Saturday, Millard and Papillion.

S. Arion Lewis, head of the Omaha branch of the league for the Preservation of American Independence, is anxious to meet in debate any Omaha proponent of the Wilson league of nations.

Noonday meetings held this week in the South Side, under the direction of the Douglas County Republican club, are attracting considerable interest. Many packing house employees are impressed with the reasonableness of the republican arguments.

Robert W. Patrick, candidate for reelection as judge of the municipal court, was one of a coterie to start the ancient and honorable game of golf in Omaha. While he was a resident of Happy Hollow nearly 40 years ago, A. F. Findley, a Scotchman, happened along and interested the Patricks in establishing a nine-hole course southeast of the present club house at Happy Hollow. Fred Montgomery and Maj. W. B. Cowin were among the golf pioneers with Judge Patrick.

Similarity of names was responsible for referring to Raymond Crossman when Ray Coffey spoke last Saturday night at Fifteenth and Douglas streets. Both are rendering valiant service for the republican cause.

Dr. Jennie Callias, president of the State Women's Dry Federation and democratic national committeewoman, has signed a statement in which she declares: "I am for the league of nations and the only way to get it is to vote for Cox." She adds that a league in the hand is worth two in the bush and that as a "dry leader," she is for Cox.

The Wray campaign committee announces that a "Wray for Governor" meeting will be held in the Auditorium Thursday night. A. G. Wray, mayor of York, Neb., is the farmer-labor candidate for governor.

Voters of the Fourth judicial district will elect seven district court judges next Tuesday, L. B. Day, one of the candidates, is no relation to Judge George A. Day, candidate for the state supreme court. Judge George Day was formerly on the district court bench here and was appointed to fill a vacancy in the supreme court. L. B. Day is a young Omaha lawyer. It is noted that in its judicial endorsements organized labor has not included Judges W. A. Redick and Charles Leslie.

T. F. Stroud, republican candidate for county commissioner in the Third district, is being supported by an organization of citizens who have no other interest to serve except that of electing a competent man to this position of trust. Mr. Stroud was drafted by his friends to make the primary race. He has agreed to give to the office his best thought and effort, wishing to round out a busy life with a period of public service well done.
