

Navy Secretary Tries to Defend Wilson League

Cabinet Member Speaks Glowingly of Nation's Executive and Says Mean Things About Senate.

Several members of an audience of nearly 2,000 who met in the Auditorium Monday night to hear Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, left before the speech was concluded.

J. P. O'Hara presided and H. B. Fleharty and T. B. Murray spoke briefly. George R. Lunn, mayor of Schenectady, N. Y., spoke after Secretary Daniels.

Secretary Daniels reviewed President Wilson's trips to Europe, telling how he was feted by millions abroad and how the world looks toward America for moral leadership. He also emphasized the president's vain appeal to the country to elect a congress that would be in sympathy with him.

The secretary referred to a "handful" of men in the senate who resolved that the league should not benefit the world, because they did not write the covenant, and he asserted that the senate would not ratify the Bible because they had not written it.

"While I want to see our navy the greatest in the world, I hope the time will come when armament will not be necessary," he also declared.

Secretary Daniels denied the league is a Wilson league, but said he wished authorship of the covenant might be claimed for the president, because any man who could claim sole authorship of that document would rank as the greatest American, next to Washington and Lincoln.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, faking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Telephone Girls Use Bug Powder in Gravy, But All Will Recover

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 26.—Six telephone girls mistook bug powder for flour in making gravy at the telephone office last night. They are all at home today seriously ill. The attending physicians said they would all recover.

Export of Grains Fell Last Month

Decline of More Than Million Dollars in Grain and Flour Is Reported.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Exports of grain and flour fell off more than $1,000,000 during September compared with August, the Department of Commerce reported today. Total value of such exports for the month were placed at $114,604,731, which, however, represents an increase of approximately $25,000,000 over September, 1919.

Cotton exported in September amounted to 228,068 bales, valued at $41,441,660, as compared with 146,668 bales, worth $28,051,050 in August. Mineral oil exports last month were placed at 221,938,669 gallons, valued at $40,268,885, against 248,648,813 gallons, worth $48,679,856, in August. Gasoline exports fell off nearly 19,000,000 gallons in September from approximately 58,000,000 gallons in August.

Congressman Reavis Talks On League in Auburn Speech Auburn, Neb., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Congressman C. F. Reavis of the first district spoke to over 1,000 people at the Rex theater here last evening. He was introduced by Hon. Edgar Ferneau, who referred to Mr. Reavis as the choice of the people for the senate at the next election.

Mr. Reavis devoted the greater part of his time in speaking on the league of nations, analyzing it clearly and stating the position America would be bound to assume if the treaty was signed as it stands today. Mr. Reavis is accompanied by Mrs. Reavis on his trip. He will speak at Syracuse this evening and in Cass county Wednesday.

Demos Reluctant To Discuss Topic of Expenditures

Spellbinders Shy When G. O. P. Speakers Seek Replies on Charges of Extravagance During The War.

One week from yesterday the great American political contest will be decided and then the "tumult and the shouting" of the campaign orators will have been silenced until the next time.

Omaha is being regaled with a busy week of speech making, with the secretary of navy here yesterday as the final big attraction of the democrats in the Nebraska metropolis. The secretary's address in the evening, at the Auditorium reflected the present tendency of the democratic leaders to make an appeal for "higher moral" grounds, and to make another sentimental appeal by reminding the people that the president is a sick man.

League Should Not Be Issue. Elmer E. Thomas, executive secretary of the Committee of 5,000, stated yesterday that it makes him "boil" to hear people criticize the president in their discussion of the league of nations. Mr. Thomas expressed an opinion which is concurred in by many republicans, that the league of nations should not be an issue. Speakers of the Douglas County Republican club are endeavoring to draw from the democratic speakers replies to the charges of democratic extravagance in war expenditures. Congressman Jeffers has emphasized this phase of the campaign.

Clinton Brome and Francis P. Mathews, chairman of the speakers' committee of the Douglas County Republican club and the League of Nations club, respectively, are arranging for a debate which probably will be held in the Creighton university auditorium Friday night. Political diagnosticians are as busy as beavers, making up their "dope" sheets on the Nebraska situation, as well as the national outlook.

G. O. P. Sentiment Grows. "We are hearing claims from the democrats about a change of sentiment in Douglas county in favor of Cox," said Clinton Brome. "I did considerable foot work yesterday, calling on representatives of various business places, and asked them if they had observed any material change in sentiment during the last week. Invariably they asserted that Harding sentiment and sentiment for the republican ticket had been growing more pronounced. If there is any growing sentiment for Cox and the league I would like to know where it is. I try to view this situation in the light of fairness. We are not doing any boasting. We are merely imbued with a strong feeling of confidence, knowing that our cause is just and that the country at this time is looking to the republican party. We feel that great responsibilities await us after the election, but the history of the republican party shows that it has never side-stepped a responsibility."

Principal D. E. Porter of the High School of Commerce reported to school headquarters this morning that a straw vote taken at his school yesterday resulted in 785 for Harding and 494 for Cox.

Governor McKelvie Defends His Record In Norfolk Speech

Norfolk, Neb., Oct. 26.—(Special Telegram.)—Governor Samuel R. McKelvie spoke to a big crowd of men and women who overflowed the city hall Tuesday afternoon and explained his administrative code and budget system. The governor defended his record, especially in the law enforcement program which he declared was originated by former Governor Neville, democrat. He stated that through his program, which cost about $75,000 in appropriations, $375,000 was returned to the people through the return of stolen automobiles and prosecution of the law violators.

The governor stated that Mr. Morehead is quoted as stating that he would discharge the law enforcement officers if he is elected and let the town and county officers enforce the laws. Deceit at an eleven-hour hour is being practiced by the democrats, the governor charged. Hughes J. Boyle of Norfolk is accompanying the governor and is speaking against the league of nations. A large body of republicans accompanied the governor to Tilden, where he spoke this evening. He made an address at Madison during the morning.

Lincoln County Editors Form Press Association North Platte, Neb., Oct. 26.—(Special Telegram.)—Editors of this county met last evening at the Hotel Palace and organized the Lincoln County Press association. Canadian Booze So Plentiful In Seattle That Price Is Reduced

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 26.—So plentiful is the local supply of "high-grade Canadian whisky" that the price has been reduced to $7.50 a quart and only $2.50 a quart above the "prohibition" price, for this grade of whisky, Captain of Detectives Martin J. Burns declared in a newspaper interview yesterday.

He said that, although Canadian whisky is being received here "by the carload," the police are powerless to stop the traffic.

New "quotations" on Canadian liquor were said to represent a reduction of $2.50 to $10 per quart from previous prices.
