Tacoma Woman to Face Charge of Kidnaping Boy

Alleged Kidnaper Appeals to Her Friends to Withhold Their Judgment Until Triak.

New York, Oct. 28 .- Miss Betty

New York, Oct. 28.-Miss Betty Brainerd, the Tacoma and Seattle newspaper woman who was arrested not long ago, charged with kidnaping the child of the divorced wife of George T. Stagg, a reporter of this city, today issued an appeal reading in part: "I take this first opportunity to beseech my friends in my home city to withhold their final judgment until it is possible for them to know my answer to the dreadful charges that have been made against me. "That answer can be given only in court at Tacoma and I hope that time may come speedily. I would have returned infinediately after my arrest but for the fact that I was under bail here and could not leave without running the risk of forther without running the risk of forfeit-ing the bail which a friend of mine was kind enough to furnish." J. Kressel, attorney of Miss Brainerd, says:

"It is a well known fact that it was the father (G. T. Stagg), who sought to secure the custody of his own child. This in itself would not appeal to anybody as a henious of-fense even if the father kept the child, but the child has since been returned to its mother in Tacoma" returned to its mother in Tacoma." Mr. Kressel points oft that Miss Brainerd is a graduate of Radcliffe college, was an editorial writer for the San Francisco Call and edited the society page of the Seattle Star. She was for three years investigator of the juvenile court of Seattle and has been known for her public and philanthropic service. Her father was for many years editor of the l'ost Intelligencer of Seattle.

Warren G. Harding and Gov. Calvin Coolidge, his running mate, each gave $1,000, as did Fred W. Upham, the republican national treasurer, and Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, brother of ex-President Taft. There are several hundred $1,000 contributions.

Mr. Upham's office estimated there were approximately 50,000 contributors to the campaign chest. The smallest contributions listed are of 25 cents. There are thousands of 25, 50, 75-cent and $1.00 donations. Eleven Chicago women gave 62 cents each; why, no one in Mr. Upham's office knew. With his report Mr. Upham filed a sworn affidavit answering a series of written questions put to him by the senatorial committee. The affi-davit sets forth that the "amount to be expended by the national committee for the further purpose of the campaign does not exceed the sum of $400,000, which is the aggregate-sum unexpended of the appropriation provided for in the budget of the will Pay All Debts.

The report shows no pledges of aid to make up any deficit that may exist after the election, but the affidavit states that "the committee does, however, contemplate the continuation of its campaign for funds with which to discharge its unpaid

Answering the committee's question. "Is there any agreement per-taining to the underwriting of obligations which may be hereafter incurred by the committee or any of its officers or agents?" the treasurer said there was none. In response to another question he said: "I know of no committee, asso-ciations, organizations or individwals who are contributing or who have promised or agreed to contribute to the financial aid and prosecution of the campaign for the election of a president, vice president or members of the United States senate or of the house of representa-tives, other than the republican na-tional committee, the national senatorial committee, the national congressional committee and the individuals who have contributed to the national committee and whose con-tributions have been detailed in the accounts heretolore filed, except the regularly organized committees, of the party within the various states."

Demos Claim to Have Spent Only $800,000

New York, Oct. 28 .- Total receipts by the democratic national committee to October 25 for the conduct of the present campaign amount to $878,831.24, according to an announcement today by Wilbur W. Marsh, the party's national treasurer. This figure, Mr. Marsh said; was today submitted according to the reirements of the corrupt practices quirements of the corrupt practice. law to the Kenyon committee in-vestigating campaign contributions and campaign expenditures in Chi-

All From Contributions.

The sum collected, the democratic treasurer stated, is constituted almost entirely of contributions to the campaign fund, with the exception of $150,000, which was borrowed. Other sources, which aggregated collections of only a few hundred dollars, included the sale of the campaign text books, refunds for adertising, and such small items.

The statement itemizes moneys received by the headquarters in New York, Chicago and San Francisco, as well as the women's bureau. Of the total $665,481.33 was collected in New York, while San Francisco showed an aggregate fund of but $1,763.90. The women's bureau was responsible for the collection of $8,544.50. Chicago collected $53. 041.51.

Disbursements by the entire organization up to the same date, as hown by the statement, amount to $823,345.09, with New York bearing by far the heaviest burden, Chicago a sum slightly less than its receipts and San Francisco an expense approximately eight times the amount of funds received. Running the women's bureau for the entire cam-paign to date cost but $1,339.30, the statement adds.

Have Two Large Pledges. Account books of the treasurer's office also shows commitments of October 25 as follows: Naturalized citizens' bureau, $761. 19: organization bureau, $2,348.60; women's bureau, $12,022.20; treasurer's statistical, $1,403.26; general, $2.210.10; publicity, $121.109.34; total commitments, $139,854.69. In addition to funds already re-eived. Mr. Marsh's statement in cived. luded a memorandum to the effect hat two individuals had pledged $25,000 each to pay the expenses of advertising books relating to the league of nations.
