"EVERYBODY'S STORE"

Here Is The Job

"Old Man Dollar" Has Cut Out For Himself Friday
Lower Prices on New Goods That Will Bring Joy to Thousands

Old man Dollar

"Gee, folks I certainly like this job."

Let Your Mind Be At Rest.
Ever since Monday morning our telephones have been ringing—bringing anxious questions from eager customers:
"How long does your big sale last?" "Will you have your low prices for tomorrow?—I cannot get down town today."
Let us set your mind at rest, if we can. Just remember:
We bought more than a million dollars' worth of this new merchandise when the market broke so badly, just a few days ago.
There is no "special sale" of any kind in progress at this great store. We are simply offering to the public new goods at the new prices—not "special" prices—just the prices you are entitled to pay on today's market.
We have ample quantities of goods in almost all departments, and shall continue to sell them, day by day, at present prices.
Come to the store any day—you may find stocks broken in some departments, but we are buying new goods as fast as possible to make replacements.
It is wise to buy the things you most need, as soon as you can. But set your mind at rest—we shall have plenty of goods, and our present prices will continue indefinitely.
That, at least, is our hope, and our expectation.
