

Jail Yawns For Youths Who Destroy

Twenty-Four Hours in Bastille Is Prospect for Youngsters Caught Celebrating Hallowe'en.

Twenty-four hours in jail. Such was the fate awaiting Omaha youths who are caught destroying property as their part of Hallowe'en. Ghosts, goblins, witches and youngsters were expected to be out in full force in Omaha last night. But so were detectives, police officers, and special officers. Personal orders to each and every detective, patrolman of the first shift, and special officers were given out yesterday by Police Inspector Andrew Pattullo.

These orders stationed each officer at specified points last night to guard the property of citizens against malicious observances of All Saints' night.

"Anyone arrested for destroying property will be lodged in jail without bond," said Inspector Pattullo, "and will be kept there until Monday morning."

"That is the ultimatum of the police department, and it must be obeyed to the letter."

"There has been too much destruction of property in the city already by premature celebrations. It must stop."

Estimate Reveals Soviet Income Much Below Expenditures

Chicago Tribune—Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Washington, Oct. 30.—With estimates of two departments missing, and reports received from 50 different commissariats, the soviet budget for 1920 shows an income from 150 to 160 billion rubles, and expenditures of from 1,100 to 1,150 billion rubles, according to an article appearing in "Ekonomiceskaya Zhizn," or Economic Life, published at Moscow September 28, says a report received here.

These figures, the report says, "which reveal clearly the desperate condition of the bolshevik treasury," were arrived at by consolidating the statistics sent in from the various departments and the 50 different commissariats.

The department of justice and national economy had not reported their estimates at the time of the publication of the article.

Over the Political Fence

Vote early and—well, vote early, anyway.

Harry S. Byrne, member of the republican state central committee, was in long-distance telephone conversation yesterday morning with Maj. E. H. Williams at republican headquarters in Chicago. The major stated that headquarters in the big city by the lakes were being closed; that those in charge have full confidence that Harding and Coolidge will win a sweeping victory. Replying to a question, Mr. Byrne expressed his opinion that Harding will carry Nebraska by not less than 50,000.

Make a note of the republican rally at the Auditorium Monday night. Men are invited to bring their wives, sweethearts and daughters and the women are urged to bring their husbands and prospective husbands. It will be one of the most interesting meetings of the campaign, according to the promoters.

W. G. Ure, republican county chairman, is wearing a tri-colored card, sent to him by Will Hays, national chairman, and which reads: "I am a republican."

"We are hearing considerable talk from democratic sources about managers and church members being for the Wilson league of nations and for Governor Cox," said a caller at republican headquarters yesterday. "I have not made more than a casual survey of this phase

Professor Responsible for the "Genealogy" of Harding Fired

Man Who Prepared Statement Attempting to Show Nominee Is Colored, Is Discharged.

Wooster, O., Oct. 30.—The board of trustees of Wooster college by unanimous vote last night requested and secured the immediate resignation of Professor William Estabrook Chancellor, teacher of political science at the institution. The motion states that "it is the sense of the board of trustees that the exigencies due to the publication of the letter as to Senator Harding's genealogy, attributed to Professor Chancellor, makes his retention as professor in the college an impossibility."

The board further declared: "It having come to the knowledge of the board that circular letters are being scattered broadcast throughout the country with reference to Senator Harding, republican nominee for the presidency, which letters are attributed to Professor Chancellor, a part of which he admits to have been written by him and

"Whereas such circular letters issued on the eve of the election are for the manifest purpose of appealing to prejudice and aid to influence the electorate of the country at the coming election. Therefore, he is resolved that we, the board of trustees of the College of Wooster repudiate and denounce such political methods as utterly unworthy of our college and country.

"And, be it further resolved, that the College of Wooster indignantly disclaim all connections with, knowledge of, and authority for making and issuing any such circular letters."

Dr. Chancellor, testifying before the board, the statement says: "I stated, that while conscious of the embarrassment occasioned to the college, he felt in his breast that he had done nothing wrong or improper."

J. R. McLaughlin, college treasurer, who made the announcement, added that the trustees made no effort to establish the truth or falsity of the charges contained in the circulars.

The Dayton Journal, in commenting on this underground campaign, says: "To the men and women of Dayton: "Thousands upon thousands of typewritten mimeographed and even printed statements, usually under the head of 'Harding's family tree' have been distributed at first in cowardly secrecy, and in the last few days openly, by men low down in the democratic party, unprincipled heelers and men high up in the democratic party who have sunk their standards to the very sewers of depravity.

"The time has come, for plain language. These vile circulars declare that Warren G. Harding has negro blood in his veins. This is the vilest plot and conspiracy in the history of the world worst epochs of American politics.

"Unless there is no such thing as truth in the world; unless there is no such thing as honesty in the world; unless there is no such thing as decency in the world, if our moral standards are not a sham, then the perpetrators of this outrage will suffer the everlasting condemnation of public opinion within the sacred precincts in every home in America.

"The answer to this conspiracy, this plot, is that its base claims are a lie.

"Warren G. Harding has the blood of but one race in his veins—that of the white race—the pure inheritance of a fine line of ancestors of good men and women. That is sufficient.

Salvation Army Drive Falls Flat In City and State

Only $10,000 of Omaha's $90,000 Quota Raised Up to Today—Results In State Equally Disappointing.

The Salvation Army's campaign for funds in Omaha and Nebraska has fallen far short of its mark, army leaders declared yesterday.

The drive for which it was planned to raise more than $200,000 in this state, has proved almost an utter failure in both the city and the state. Omaha's quota was set at $90,000 when the drive opened last Monday. Not more than $10,000 had been subscribed up to yesterday.

Results in the state were equally disappointing. State leaders, however, believe by prolonging the campaign they will be able to reach their mark, although not more than $15,000 of the $125,000 has been raised.

To Extend Drive. Following a consultation Friday, it has been decided to extend the drive another week. Some leaders favored immediate abandonment of the campaign, but counsel of the more optimistic prevailed, and it was decided to carry the drive with renewed vigor one more week.

Of 10 state campaigns conducted by the Salvation Army this year, only in one city besides Omaha has the drive fallen short of its mark. That was in Pittsburgh where subscriptions attained were only slightly below the goal.

Lack of Interest. Several reasons are given for the failure of the drive here. One is the lack of interest, which is explained by the proximity of the election and the fact that so many drivers for funds have been here together with a lack of understanding regarding the work done by the Salvation Army.

Reports that 70 per cent of the money sought here is to be sent to England were denied by the Young Women's Christian association Monday and the week following the annual Red Cross roll call campaign will get under way.

To Lap Over Others. By continuing the drive another week, the Salvation Army's campaign will lap over into a drive which is to be started by the Young Women's Christian association Monday and the week following the annual Red Cross roll call campaign will get under way.

It is known that even national democratic committee officials brand the story as a falsehood, but the anonymous spread of the charge continues rapidly.

The Dayton Journal, in commenting on this underground campaign, says: "To the men and women of Dayton: "Thousands upon thousands of typewritten mimeographed and even printed statements, usually under the head of 'Harding's family tree' have been distributed at first in cowardly secrecy, and in the last few days openly, by men low down in the democratic party, unprincipled heelers and men high up in the democratic party who have sunk their standards to the very sewers of depravity.
