

Council Bluffs Society

Evidently Council Bluffs matrons felt that casting their first vote was quite responsibility enough for one week, as almost no activities were planned, except among the younger set, many of the clubs, even, not holding their regular meetings.

A few parties were arranged for Tuesday, at all of which election returns were announced. On that night the Jazz orchestra gave another of their delightful dances in the Eagles' hall, and the Catholic Girls' athletic club entertained a group of friends in their gymnasium.

Other affairs of an informal nature were held in private homes, mostly for the purpose of hearing the outcome of the election, and a few included the more parties, followed by hot-1 or restaurant suppers, where political information could be had directly.

Visitors Entertained.

Numbered among the enjoyable functions given in honor of Miss Ann Maury of Roanoke, Va., and Miss Virginia Brown of Uniontown, Pa., was the bridge planned last Tuesday by Miss Leta Hunter, at whose home these two charming girls are visiting. Miss Marjorie Menold of Omaha had high score for the afternoon and the following guests were present: Misses Maury, Brown and Adele Keeline of this city; Misses Dorothy Kiplinger, Florence Riley and Marjorie Menold of Omaha, and Mesdames P. A. Moore, Roy Garner and Harry Menold.

Other affairs of the week for these popular maids included a supper-dance at the Athletic club Wednesday night given by Miss Dorothy Kiplinger of Omaha, and a small tea on Thursday by this same hostess.

Mr. Arthur Shea also entertained at an Orpheum party last week for Miss Hunter's guests, and on Friday they motored down to Lincoln for a week-end dance.

Misses Maury and Brown will share honors at several affairs next week, among them a luncheon by Miss Menold of Omaha on Tuesday and a tea that same afternoon at the home of Miss Florence Riley, in Omaha.

To California.

Mrs. F. J. Day and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth, left Friday for California after a stay of several weeks in the city.

They were accompanied by Mrs. J. R. Day and her two children, who will spend the winter in Los Angeles. Mr. Day plans to go out during the holidays.

Miss Maloney Honored.

Complimentary to Miss Gladys Maloney, who will be one of the winter brides, Miss Adele Plumer entertained at a beautiful tea Saturday afternoon.

Quantities of yellow chrysanthemums were used in the parlors and pink was the chosen color for the dining room. The Misses Laura Plumer and Coramay Keeline poured and each guest was presented with a small corsage, made from candy, as a favor.

The following were invited: Misses Maloney, Laura Plumer, Coramay Keeline, Dorothy Clark, Frances Grow, Katherine Smith, Alma Green, Claire McInerney, Elizabeth Quinn, Helen Lewis and Viola Alfen, Mesdames Herbert Duquette, Harold Ross, Pusey McGee, Howard Martin and Donald Annis of Fort Dodge.

Elks Dance.

The second of the dances in the winter series, planned by the Elks was held in their ballroom Thursday evening with an unusually large attendance.

Council Bluffs Boy in Movies.

The many friends of Harold Cartwright Shubert of this city will be pleased to learn of the success he is having in motion pictures. He will appear on the Omaha screen next week with Charles Ray in "Peaceful Valley" at the Rialto theater.

Mr. Shubert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Shubert of South First street.

Society.

In honor of Mrs. Robert Turner, Mrs. Henry Hart and Mrs. Harry Menold, all recent brides in Council Bluffs, Mrs. Glenn Wilcox entertained at a delightful bridge party Friday afternoon. Thirty guests were invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Annis, who came out for the Hutchinson-Annis wedding last week, will motor back Monday to their home in Fort Dodge, Ia.

A nine-pound boy, who has been named Raymond D. Bley, was born last Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Connor of Denison, Ia. Mrs. Connor was Miss Eusebia Dudley of this city.

Organize Club

A group of girls from the Lion Bonding and Surety company met for luncheon Friday at the Loyal hotel for the purpose of organizing a club to be known as the "Lion Cubs' club."

Mrs. I. S. Bary, an executive of the Chicago Business Woman's council, told of the work and ideals of similar organizations throughout the country.

Mrs. Esther Dugher was elected president of the club. Committees will be appointed at the first business meeting, which will be held Tuesday evening at the office of the Lion Bonding and Surety company. The club has a membership of 69.

The purpose of the organization is to promote good fellowship, co-operation and democracy, as well as to do social welfare work.

George, Novelist, Fine Arts Speaker

George, Novelist. W. L. George, the noted English novelist, is scheduled to speak before the Fine Arts society, Friday, November 12, at the Fontenelle, at 4 p. m. The subject will be on "The Modern Novel." The hour will be promptly observed. Tickets may be purchased at the door. "The treat in store for the Fine Arts society and public is quite unusual," says Mrs. Alfred Darlow, publicity chairman, as this novelist is exceedingly broad and has gone into many varied subjects.

Some of Mr. George's subjects during his trip while in the United States are: "The Art of Courtship, Love and Marriage," "The Literary Taste," Mr. George's last book, "Blind Alley," embodies a concentrated essence of all Mr. George's writings. Mr. George's ambition while in America is to collect material for a new book on America.

A New School In Dramatics for Omaha

The Craik-Roberts schools of dramatic art will begin class work during the coming week at their studios, 308 Lyric building. Oscar Wilder Craik is well known to Omaha people as director last year of the Folk theater, in which capacity he won a high reputation for artistic ability both as director and actor. The Craik-Roberts school is offering courses in all branches of dramatic work and interpretation, from study classes in ancient Greek drama to special training classes for people planning stage careers. Special care will be given children, they say. They also plan to direct amateur plays during the season.

Business Man Answered by Madame 'X'

The Y. W. C. A. launches this week its annual budget campaign. The amount asked is $70,000. A prominent Omaha woman, who will call her Madame "X," who is deeply interested in the work accomplished by the Y. W. C. A., heard a chance remark by a business man, which she says, caused her to "stop and ponder." She has submitted her reply to him through The Bee, thinking it may explain to others who do not know, what some of the purposes and activities of the Y. W. C. A. are here in Omaha.

To a prominent business man: A chance remark made by you a few days ago has caused me to stop and ponder. "I have no particular use for the Y. W. C. A. It is not run to help the 'down and out.' A girl, who is 'down and out,' is not welcomed there." It is quite a common thing to make, thoughtlessly, a general, sweeping statement when one has not gone into the particulars of the case and has taken the off-hand remark of someone else, who, for a reason peculiar to himself, is prejudiced against a certain cause. "Prevent the 'Down and Out.'" Why is not it a wise move in this progressive age to take a step in advance, when possible, and use one's energies and what financial aid a sympathetic public is willing to give to prevent the young woman from reaching that stage when she is termed a "Down and Out?" We have all heard of the "ounce of prevention."

Cafeteria Popular.

It is primarily to this end that the Y. W. C. A. is working in the coming campaign to provide funds to enable those girls, who are often strangers in our midst, hundreds of whom room in boarding houses, and who have no home life or home cooking is when they daily visit our cafeteria. They go back to the offices, shops or factories of some of these same "objectionable gentlemen" better equipped for their day's work both mentally and physically. Of course, very many, who have their own good homes, patronize the daily lunch, meeting their congenial associates, often listening to speakers and good music. Who can begrudge them this hour? The popularity of our cafeteria under Mrs. Fullaway, who has refused several high-salaried positions as she says, "life easier for the working girls of Omaha," has somewhat overshadowed the work of the numerous other branches which, while not financially self-supporting, all do work along constructive lines.

Camp Brewster.

Much has been written already of the marvelous success of Camp Brewster, under the able guidance of Mrs. Frank Judson, where over 3,000 girls and women from all classes of industrial life spent their vacations, and where over 24,000 meals were served, during the past summer.

Employment Department.

In the month of September, 489 applications from employers and 366 from employees were received in our employment department. Applications to the number of 252 were investigated and placed in offices, factories and homes.

Travelers' Aid.

At the railway stations during the same month 451 people, stranded and some in dire need of advice and physical assistance, were directed by our travelers' aid to safe and wholesome places to remain until they could be cared for.

A Network of Convenience for Omahans

Dreshers have certainly made matters convenient for those who have cleaning work to give out.

For instance, if you are downtown you may leave your package of cleaning work at the Dresher Branch offices in the Burgess-Nash or Brandeis Stores, or you may leave it at Dresher The Tailors, 1515 Farnam street.

Phone Tyler 345 will reach all of the above Dresher Branches and the plant.

Dreher's new South Omaha branch, at N. E. corner of 24th and L streets, is the handiest thing that ever happened for South Siders (the phone is "South 0050.")

Better make use of some of this modern "convenience."

Will Make Western Trip

Miss Hazel Haskell leaves Wednesday for San Francisco to make an extended stay on the Pacific coast. She will go by boat to Portland and Seattle and will then return to California to spend several months in Los Angeles and San Diego. She will return to Omaha in June. Miss Haskell will be accompanied by her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Redman.

found their bearings. Seventy-seven were sent to the emergency rooms as the central branch, which are always kept ready for such cases, at Twenty-first and Cass streets, generously given by the men of the Scottish Rite, whose only stipulation was that the house should always be kept as attractive as possible and not bear the appearance of an institutional home.

Colored Center.

The Colored Center under the supervision of Mrs. Charles Offutt, who is untiring in her work, is as yet not self-supporting, although the enthusiasm is very great among the colored people, who are energetically assisting her. As a very intelligent colored girl remarked, when asked to speak at a recent board meeting of the Y. W. C. A., "nothing has been done in this city that has helped so to eradicate the class feeling that exists here as starting this club and a similar one for men under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce."

South Side Center.

A South Side center has gathered together hundreds of workers from the packing houses, stores and offices, who there find a healthy moral and educational atmosphere, where entertainments are provided for them nightly. In the rooms registry department for September, 93 rooms were investigated for regular applicants and 29 for transients.

Variety of Departments.

Of the various other departments, the physical culture, where in one month 800 girls were enrolled and where the gymnasium is crowded to the limit from 8 in the morning till 10 at night, the Girls' Reserve work, similar to the Boy Scouts, the educational, religious, recreation, industrial extension, and other branches, under special secretaries, each well qualified for her work space forbids more than a passing mention.

Impressed With Omaha "Y. W."

A national worker, who has been conducting campaigns in New York, Philadelphia and other cities throughout the country, is profoundly impressed with the fact that in no building, even in the larger cities, has she found the ceaseless activity, the incoming and outgoing of so many girls for she finds daily in the Omaha Y. W. C. A. Surely a good advertisement for our local branch, and, incidentally, for Omaha. No membership fee is required to enjoy the various privileges of the Y. W. C. A., where girls of all creeds are found and all are equally welcomed.

Spiritual and Physical Aid.

Of course, these girls are not the "Down and Out." Replied to the statement that the "Down and Out" do not reach us, we can only refer you to the records of our efficient secretary, Mrs. Carrie Campbell, where you will learn of the hundreds who have wandered to the "Y" for succor and advice and who always receive that help, both spiritual and physical, for which they came. Many are thankful and hundreds of letters attest their gratitude. Many are not heard of again, but we do not think it advisable or necessary to advertise such cases.

On the board and on various committees of the Y. W. C. A. are many women, who were deemed fully competent to work and assume places of high responsibility on Red Cross boards, in liberty loan campaigns, etc. Would they be willing to sponsor this campaign for funds for the coming year, unless they had made a thorough investigation of this organization and had a complete knowledge of its great work and had assured themselves of its real worthiness as an asset in the life of Omaha, from both a moral and commercial standpoint?

wider scope, and encourage them with your financial help and good will? Madame "X".

The Polish war ministry claims that women make the best soldiers for guard duty at barracks and food supply depots. Poland's volunteer legion of women for the army already has 600 members and nearly 2,000 applications awaiting to be passed upon.

More than 500 young women who sought entrance to the Northwestern university have been forced to return to their homes owing to the lack of housing and dormitories in Evanston.
