

Gov. McKelvie Pleased Over His Re-Election

Endorsement of His Administration as Indicated by Vote Is of Greatest Importance, Says Executive.

Lincoln, Nov. 10.—(Special.)—Governor McKelvie is immensely pleased over the result of the election. He looks upon it as an endorsement of his administration and in a statement issued today, says: "The returns from the recent election seem to indicate my re-election by a substantial plurality. For this I am deeply thankful to the people of Nebraska. While I would not minimize the personal satisfaction and gratification this result affords, it is of far greater importance that so full and complete an endorsement should have been given to the program of progress and development that has been carried forward during the present administration."

"Now, we can feel encouraged to go ahead with the work that has been started and I am greatly in hopes that at the end of the next two years, we shall be able to report to the people of Nebraska an era of progress and prosperity unequalled in the history of the state. It shall be my purpose in the future as it has been in the past to do everything possible to draw the people of the state more closely together so that there may be a sympathetic understanding of the problems that confront us and a wholesome co-operation in their solution. This, I think, will enable the avoidance of the influences of reactionism on the one hand and of destructive radicalism on the other."

"I beg to emphasize the fact that it is utterly impossible to have good government and a successful administration of the public business unless the duly elected officials may depend upon the undivided, unprejudiced support of all of the people. Therefore, in the same sense that I recommended this support for my opponents if they were elected, I call for it now for myself—not as a selfish matter, but in the interests of the common welfare."

Road to Be Dedicated at Fremont on Armistice Day

Fremont, Neb., Nov. 10.—(Special.)—Armistice day program in Fremont began at 10 o'clock today with dedication ceremonies for the new stretch of Lincoln highway between this city and Ames. A barbecue will be held in the city park following the dedication. In the afternoon at the high school auditorium addresses will be delivered by General Upton of Fort Crook, Governor McKelvie and other state officials. City Mission Refuses to Keep 'Overalls Bride'

Martha Rendulich, 17, girl bride who was found by police dressed in overalls and a boy's cap six weeks ago, must leave the Omaha City mission "because she is detrimental to other girls remaining there," according to Superintendent Mary E. Anthony, who has turned her over to Dr. Jennie Callias of the Welfare board. Letters written by Martha to her parents and her youthful husband, said to be residing in Kansas City, have been returned here unopened. Martha attempted to escape from the mission recently, and when caught explained she wanted to go home.

Central Heating Plants for Community Houses Proposed

Charles W. Steinbaugh, architect, advised the salesmen's division of the Omaha real estate board, meeting in the University club Tuesday, that community houses should be equipped with central heating plants. He said that he had tentative plans that had met with the approval of several individuals interested in building. He urged that realtors and other builders join in the erection of houses close enough together to be heated by one plant. When such a group, he said, laundry, lawn work, maid service and other service might be obtained on a community basis.

Lowest Temperature at 6 This Morning, While Another Dip Due Tomorrow.

The lowest temperature so far this season was registered at 6 a. m. yesterday, when the mercury dropped to 17 degrees above zero, thus fulfilling the cold wave prophecy. The cold began to moderate slowly after this hour and fair weather, with warmer nights, was predicted by Meteorologist Robbins. Today, however, Old Man Merc is due for another dip, with the sun in sight.

The coldest point in the state reported yesterday morning was Valentine, with 12 above. North Platte came next with 16 above.

Lander, Wyo., was seeing its breath in the air, which stood at 16 degrees below zero, the coldest temperature in the United States this winter.

Shippers were warned to be on the lookout during the next 24 to 36 hours for temperatures of 10 above north and west, 20 east and 25 south.

Trustees Report Mysterious Tapping, Jail Break Averted

Four "trusties" at the county jail reported Tuesday night what is believed to have been an attempted jail delivery. They said they heard a man tapping, gently rapping, at the window on a scaffold along the northeast wing of the court house, and calling "Rabbit, Rabbit, Green Davenport, alias 'Rabbit,' is in the jail for alleged sale of narcotics. The unidentified man had disappeared when Ed Cassidy, night turnkey, who had been notified by the trustees, reached the window. The man may have been trying to smuggle "dope" in to "Rabbit," police believe.

Good Judgment After Eating

Giving the Stomach the Alkaline Effect by a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet is Worth Remembering. You cannot, as a rule, say in advance that this, that or the other food will cause indigestion. Experience has taught most people that even mince pie fits snugly at times while at others a glass of milk raises hobs with the stomach. One good rule to follow is the preventive measure of taking one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals. You thus avoid gasiness, sour stomach, heartburn and such distress due to indigestion or dyspepsia. These tablets also help to digest the food by giving the stomach the alkaline effect to offset acidity; they relieve the distress when the mince pie or milk should be more than a match for your digestive powers. Get a 50 cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store and note how nicely they seem to calm the stomach when it feels all upset.

No Work on New Capitol for at Least 8 Months

State Commission to Meet With Architect Goodhue to Further Plans—Grounds May Be Enlarged.

Lincoln, Nov. 10.—(Special.)—The state capitol commission will meet next Tuesday in the executive offices of the capitol for the purpose of extending the work already begun and securing the ideas of the architect, Mr. Goodhue of New York, who will be present.

According to Governor McKelvie, it is not likely that work on the new building will begin for at least eight months. New plans will have to be drawn, taking the accepted plans as a foundation and making such changes as the commission feels will give the best results.

According to the proposed plan, the building will be 400 feet square. The present grounds are 720 feet square inside the walk line. Whether additional ground will be purchased will be up to the legislature. There is much agitation for the purchase of the two blocks directly north of the present location, but no definite plan so far as known has been made toward bringing the matter before the next session.

The city of Lincoln is perfecting plans for a very extensive improvement of streets, which calls for the widening of Fifteenth street from the capitol to O street, and from O to the university. This will compel the demolition of the Rialto theater building and one or two other business blocks and the removal of several residences between P street and R street.

Three Are Given Mock Trial At Noon Day Lions Meeting

"Loud" Barker Emmert, "Jungle Demon" Ringer, and "Joyful Splittail" Elfred were tried before Municipal Judge Patrick for alleged felonious offenses at the noonday luncheon of the Omaha Lions club in the Henshaw hotel Tuesday. W. C. Ramsey, R. A. Van Orsdell, and W. A. Randall defended the prisoners. The verdicts of the jury were rendered in song.

Emmert was found guilty of obstructing the peace and decency of his neighborhood by parking his automobile in front of his home. Ringer was freed of the charge of wasting gasoline by the appointment of "near-cops" and "tail light chasers." Elfred was found guilty of highjacking a friend for "nigger gin."

"Night Riders" Plan Raids On Unwary Auto Drivers

Orders issued to volunteer traffic officers instructing them to equip themselves with warm gloves and ear muffs are responsible for the prevalent rumor that the "night riders" are to be called for another raid on reckless motorists within the next few days. Both Police Commissioner Ringer and Chief of Police Eberstein have expressed enthusiasm over the work of the volunteers in past raids, praising their judgment, making arrests and serving golden rule summons and commenting on the decrease in the number of traffic violations since the organization of the volunteer squad.

House Shortage Can Be Solved by Smaller Fire Loss, Board Told

Chicago, Nov. 10.—The housing shortage in the United States can be solved, in part, by reducing the present heavy fire loss, Wharton Clay, Chicago architectural engineer, told the Calder committee on reconstruction at its opening hearing here today. Mr. Clay offered figures showing that the loss from fire waste last year on insured houses alone was $63,000,000, sufficient to build 16,000 homes, costing $4,000 each. During the year there were but 200,000 new houses built, he said. Besides the monetary waste, fires claim 23,000 lives annually in the United States, he said. He advocated more stringent local building ordinances and urged changes in construction practices to eliminate the more vulnerable points.

Benson Robbery Suspect Is Held For Extradition

Alleged Detroit Gunman Arrested in Peoria Is Identified As Member of Omaha Holdup Party.

Following a police hunt of nearly a year, Harry Klein, alleged notorious gunman of Detroit and wanted in connection with the daylight holdup and robbery of the Farmers and Merchants bank of Benson, has been arrested. Klein is now in jail at Peoria, Ill. Formal complaint charging him with robbery of the Benson bank has been filed. The Benson bank was robbed December 31, 1919.

Identification of Klein as one of the five bandits who robbed the bank at noon of $105,000 was made through his photos and peculiar characteristics sent broadcast through the country. A long scar on the side of Klein's face was the surest means of identifying him, Detective Pipkin, head of Pipkin's Detective Agency, who worked on the case, said.

Extradition Complete.

A. C. Anderson, police detective, signed the complaint. Detectives Pipkin and Ben Dantbaum will go to Peoria next Monday to bring Klein to Omaha. Extradition papers already have been obtained.

An attempt to have the news of Klein's arrest withheld from newspapers was made as a precaution against any possible efforts by his confederates to deliver him from jail.

Member of Gang.

Klein's criminal record shows him to have been a member of the Meacham bandit gang, connected with a series of crimes throughout the middle west and about Omaha that began with the murder of the "mystery girl" a year ago.

Officials of the Farmers and Merchants bank disclaim that they know of the identification of Klein as one of the bandits that held up the bank.

Noted Singer Isn't Hunting Husband

"If I Had One I Would Have To Keep Him in a Cage," Anna Case Says.

Matrimony does not appeal to Anna Case, soprano, who arrived in Omaha yesterday to fill her engagement Thursday evening at the Brancieus theater, where she is to appear in concert under the auspices of the Tuesday Musical club.

"No, I am not married," she replied smilingly when questioned, "and I am as far from matrimony today as I was the day I was born. I have numerous pets, most of them dogs and cats," continued Miss Case, by way of explaining her views on matrimony. "If I had a husband I should have to put him in an institution, and just see him once in a while, just as I do my other pets. For I have no time for home life."

Miss Case, who is unusually pretty in a demure way, is one of the few young singers who have attained note without studying abroad. She declares America affords sufficient opportunity for the study of music and that the great masters of voice culture in Europe are dead.

Japanese Show Little Interest in New Land Law

Severely Tokio Papers Make Cautious Comment on Legislation, But People Are Only Slightly Aroused.

Tokio, Nov. 10.—Although a week has passed since the passage in California of the anti-alien land law, the public seemingly remains indifferent. The militarist journals, however, upbraid the Japanese in California, who called Tokio arginine calmness on the part of the Japanese people, and accuse them of lack of spirit.

One paper refers to the senders of the cablegrams as "brazen-faced frogs, croaking to exclude their brethren," while the Yamato Shimbun asks if they have become degraded enough to be satisfied with the security of their own interests, irrespective of the future interests of Japan.

The Kokumin Shimbun makes the allegation that the most marked tendency in the United States "recently has been territorial lust" and predicts that the republican administration will engage in foreign aggrandizement. The Jiji Shimpo warmly welcomes the appeal of the California Japanese for calmness and endorsement of their confidence in the United States government. The Chuo Shimbun advances at length its reasons for trusting in the outcome of the negotiations on the Japanese situation which are in progress in Washington, but the Tokio Asahi Shimbun expresses doubt as to the possibility of passing an adequate treaty.
