Senator Kenyon Urges Jail for Profiteers In Building Lines

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Jail for building profiteers as one means of lessening the housing shortage was advocated by Senator Kenyon of Iowa in discussing the situation with witnesses appearing before the senate housing committee at its first session here.

Senator Kenyon repeatedly asked witnesses if they did not think more drastic laws for profiteers would reduce the housing shortage and told one witness that "thought putting a few of the building profiteers in jail would help a lot."

Senator Calder, chairman of the committee, told several witnesses he thought a quick revision of federal tax laws back to a pre-war basis would help, declaring that heavy taxes made investors shun real estate.

Most of the witnesses apparently could give Senator Calder little information concerning the effect revised tax laws would have. Chicago is two and one-half years behind in its building program, Building Commissioner Holstrom said.
