

Investigation Of Wall Street Plot Is Started

New York District Attorney Will Investigate Theory Put Forth by Evening World.

By The Associated Press.
New York, Nov. 13.—Official investigation in the solution of Wall Street explosion, September 16, put forth by the New York Evening World, was begun by District Attorney Swann, with the examination of men mentioned as prominent in the "labor war" the paper had furnished the motive for the crime.

William Zaranko, president of the union, which the newspaper charged had been subjected to "tyranny" at the hands of the rival organization of building trades council, and Albert A. Volk, head of a company which had the demolition contract on the New York Stock Exchange annex, underwent lengthy examination. Individual laboring man, "possibly inside the union" or sympathizers, the paper declared, were responsible for the explosion as a reprisal against "Brindell workers" employed by Volk.

Much of Volk's statement to the district attorney was devoted to what he said was his own "theory" of the explosion that it was done to hurt or frighten some of my men" and to the statement alleged to have been made by Raymond Clark, former foreman for Volk, that a man reported to him immediately after the explosion that it was his horse that had been killed. Clark, the newspaper asserted, was the victim of an attempted assassination within a month after the explosion.

Blames Individual.

Volk said that his "theory" is that the explosion was caused by some individual who wanted to create an impression." He said he understood there was publication of a notice to strike on Wednesday, the day before the explosion. None of Zoranko's men "as such," he asserted, were in his employ, but many had joined Brindell's union "some of them at our instance."

"My theory is based only on imagination and the facts that have already come to light."

"The facts that have come to light," he declared meant only the explosion, the location of the wagon, the materials found and "the fact of the bitterness of the quarrel between the unions," the fact that one union thought we were too lame for their plight by playing with Brindell to put them out."

No threats, he said, or demonstrations of animosity had been made and he did not believe anyone "did this thing as a member of the union except that it might have been a man of worse disposition than the rest of them."

Wine Merchant Discharged; No Evidence of Permit Abuse

Jake Crouse, 924 North Sixteenth street, arrested by police for illegal possession of 70 gallons of wine last week, was discharged in Central police court yesterday by Judge Fitzgerald.

Fitzgerald said there was no evidence that Crouse was selling wine for other than religious purposes. Crouse showed affidavits and receipts showing that he was selling the wine in good faith. He holds a government permit to dispense wine or sacramental purposes.

Literary Digest Opens Relief Fund

Magnanimous Magazine Out To Feed 3,500,000 Starving Children of Europe.

Campaign for the feeding and clothing of starving children in Europe this winter has been inaugurated by the Literary Digest at the instigation of Herbert Hoover, chairman of the American Relief administration.

The small individual unit of $10 will provide coat, boots stockings, and one meal a day for one child this winter, figures compiled by the Literary Digest show.

The Digest starts the fund with a gift of $25,000 to feed and clothe 2,500 little girls and boys for the coming winter.

A great, beautiful, and heart sustaining hope supports the stricken people of Europe-America will come to their relief. For in far places of the earth, where famine stalks, one name, and one alone, is synonymous with rescue and hope, and that name is America.

The Digest campaign comes on the heels of an investigation by the treasurer, urged by Herbert Hoover, who declared there were still 3,500,000 children so pitifully in need that America could not desert them.

The Digest asks for contributions to be sent the Literary Digest child feeding fund, each of which will be acknowledged. The Digest will stand responsible for every dollar contributed, to see that it goes, without one penny deducted, to the purpose for which it is given.

Youthful Lover Who Was Spurned Spanked For Letter Writing

Chicago, Nov. 13.—The head of a man found buried beneath a ton of cinders in the rear of the once deluxe cafe late this afternoon presented to the police what they say will develop into one of the greatest mysteries of the year.

The discovery was made by John Darbin, fireman for the Hotel Alpin, who was removing the ashes. The head was found directly in front of the door from which the ashes of the cafe were discharged last spring.

The head has been severed just below the chin. It was well preserved, though the police believe that it had been buried in the cinders since last spring.

A bullet had pierced the right forehead and two teeth from the upper row were missing. A mass of long brown-black hair covered the top and rear of the cranium.

According to the police, the head was that of an American about 42 years of age.

A pair of old shoes wrapped in a hat sack and smeared with blood were found within two feet of the door of the cafe.

It is the general belief of the police that whoever disposed of the head and the remainder of the body was familiar with surgery.

MENTHOL-SULPHUR
FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Menthol-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing soothes fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Menthol-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Menthol-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

Personal Greeting Cards Should Be-- Personal

Through the centuries "Merry Christmas" and "Happy New Year" were considered sufficiently "Personal" expressions of kindly Yuletide and New Year wishes—but not now!

The Christmas Greeting Card and the New Year Greeting Card must now express the really personal thoughts of the well-wisher who send them on their cheering way. And Burgess-Nash's Bureau of Engraving is showing just such personal Greeting Cards in scores of designs.

Engraving is done by masters of the craft—you can trust them with your "sweet sentiments." It is obvious that the sooner orders are received, the better.
