

Bolivia and Peru Won't Ask League To Decide Tangle

Encroachment on Monroe Doctrine Possibility Said to Have Resulted in Withdrawal of Request.

Geneva, Nov. 16.—(By The Associated Press)—All danger that the assembly of the league of nations may encroach upon the Monroe doctrine by considering American questions in the absence of the United States, has been averted by the withdrawal of a request by Bolivia and Peru for revision of treaties with Chile.

Their requests were withdrawn yesterday, it having been Bolivia's purpose to gain access to the sea, and Peru's to secure reconsideration of the vexing Tacna-Arica question.

It is not expected that any other American questions with dangerous possibilities will come before the present session of the assembly.

Will Urge U. S. Join.

It is reported that South American delegates have agreed the league of nations should do all it can to get the United States to become a member nation.

Argentina is regarded as a strong candidate for representation of the council of the league, the four elective members of which will be chosen by the assembly after receiving the report of the committee on general organization.

The report of the council of the league on the work that had been done since the league was organized was taken up by the delegates after some preliminary matters had been disposed of, chiefly completion of organization of the committees.

Would Not Approach.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Consideration of the Panama-Africa dispute between Chile, Peru and Bolivia by the league of nations would not be regarded by the American government as an encroachment on the league on the Monroe doctrine, according to State department officials.

When the announcement was made that the question had been referred to the league, considerable satisfaction was expressed by administration officers as a settlement of this long standing controversy has been earnestly desired by the United States.

It has been pointed out at the State department that settlement by such a means would not be without precedent, as the king of England and the king of Spain have acted as arbitrators in South American boundary questions in the past.

The administration's attitude with respect to the Monroe doctrine has been based upon the literal interpretation providing against any territorial aggression in South America.

Omaha Film Companies Sued by Columbus Man

Columbus, Neb., Nov. 16.—(Special)—An important case to come up this term in district court is the suit of William Swan of Columbus against the A. H. Blank enterprises and various film corporations of Omaha for $125,000 damages alleged due him for having been blacklisted and put out of business.

Swan built a modern theater here a few years ago and claims to have been making money when he suddenly discovered that he could no longer buy films. Later Blank leased this theater and Swan, after a few months of ill-health took possession of the competing theater. Last spring Blank leased this one also and Mr. Swan filed this suit.

Fake Subscription Agent Fleeces Alliance Women

He claimed to represent a magazine subscription bureau and offered subscriptions at a fraction of the regular prices of the magazines. A group of local women started an investigation but found that the solicitor had left town without leaving an address.

New Witness for State Appears in Tierney Case

his testimony was technical and was relative to the physical condition of Ray Dunlap at the time of his death.

In short, there were indications, the physician testified, Dunlap might be in such a condition as to endanger the health of his 16-year-old bride as the defense contends, but he would not swear positively to this fact.

Paul R. Dunlap, a witness for the prosecution, testified he had heard Mrs. Tierney say she "liked Ray and didn't care who knew it." He is the father of Ray Dunlap.

Nick Halter, a deputy sheriff, testified that when he arrived at the Tierney home on the South Side at the shooting, Mrs. Tierney was the coolest person in the house.

Mrs. Tierney's Actions Described.

Mrs. Dora Heckman, a defense witness, testified that following the shooting she was at the house and Mrs. Tierney looked wild-eyed, wouldn't answer questions and was in a state of hysterics.

In the morning Margaret Tierney, the older sister who was in the house at the time of the shooting, said: "After Dunlap was killed mother could say nothing, had a blank look in her eyes, walked around the house like she was looking for something, and when I spoke to her she didn't answer."

In describing her mother's actions for the three days prior to the shooting and when Ethel, the daughter, was missing and it was feared she had run away with Dunlap, Margaret Tierney said:

Mother Sought Daughter.

"She searched the neighborhood, went everywhere she could think of, and, finally hearing that they had gone to Des Moines, went there and searched the city for her, and she was nothing."

Ethel Tierney Dunlap took the stand. She merely testified to running away to Plattsmouth with Dunlap where they were married.

The state contends jealously prompted the murder. The defense claims that Mrs. Tierney shot Dunlap because she knew he was unfit physically and morally for her daughter and the knowledge of these facts drove her insane when she learned of the marriage. Mrs. Tierney may take the stand today.

Mrs. Tierney appeared calm throughout the trial. Both of the older daughters sobbed at times.

The two younger children who sat in the laps of their older sisters, walked over to their mother and held her hand several times during the day.

Plattsmouth Fire Department Quits

Plattsmouth, Neb., Nov. 16.—(Special)—With a new, modern equipped fire truck just received, the city of Plattsmouth is practically without a fire department, as all but two members and the chief of the volunteer company have resigned.

The members have become thoroughly disgusted over a series of acts beginning with the passage of an ordinance last winter taking away their privilege of selecting the fire chief and investing it in the mayor, at which time a number tendered their resignations, and culminating in the doing away of the office of foreman of the respective hose carts which the new equipment replaces.

Following the last council meeting, when the city dads selected the driver of the new truck, indignation reached high water mark and at the volunteer company's regular session a few nights later the members turned in their resignations en masse, effective immediately, with the exception of two whose enlistment period is soon to expire, entitling them to retire as honorary members.

The city will make an effort to recruit a new volunteer organization.

Prisoners' Release Stirs Citizens at Louisville

Plattsmouth, Neb., Nov. 16.—(Special)—The people of Louisville are much wrought up over the release of a number of leading prisoners from the state penitentiary of Fred Byam, Charles Thompson and Walter Miller. The trio was captured and held a year ago in the act of robbing W. F. Dier's general store and were connected with other robberies out of Omaha.

In attempting to make their getaway, Miller and Byam were shot and wounded by a member of the citizens' posse, and last December in district court here all three were sentenced to from one to ten years for burglary. A protest will be circulated for signatures and forwarded to Governor McKelvie.

Lodge Organizes Band.

The Japanese population in 1910 was 12,929 and in 1900, 5,617. "The increase in the Japanese population in Washington," said the bureau's statement, "since 1910, was at a lower rate than for the preceding decade, the increase from 1910 to 1920 being 4,185, or 32.4 per cent, as compared with 7,312 or 130.2 per cent from 1900 to 1910."

Farmers Should Not Sell Below Cost, Says Head

Nebraskan, President of Farmers' National Congress, Declares They Are Justified in Withholding Products.

Columbus, Nov. 16.—"I believe the farmers of this great country are justified in refusing to sell below cost of production," said O. G. Smith, Kearney, Neb., in his annual address here today, as president of the Farmers' National Congress.

"I am not one of those who believe we must have $3 for wheat. If farmers in the wheat belt can procure $2.25 to $2.40 they will raise and sell in the markets all the wheat necessary to feed the world."

"One system of marketing that has been suggested is the storing of wheat on the farms and protecting the same by insurance, and also some arrangement to be made to allow the owner to draw a part of its value as is done on warehouse receipts, and not rush their grain into the markets, as has been done in the past."

Gamblers Push Prices Down.

"This most unfair deflation was the result of a well organized conspiracy on the part of the grain gamblers and some of the captains of finance, which was intended for a general drive to lower levels, and the farmers were again made the goat."

"We must adopt some method whereby country life can be more satisfactory to our boys and girls physically and morally."

"The federal farm loans were of great benefit to the farmers. It is to be deplored that all progress in the operation of the banks was stopped by the suit brought by the Bankers Mortgage association attacking the constitutionality of the act. This congress should go on record praying for a favorable decision for the farmers in this suit."

"I hope that we can go on record

Fugitive Reported Headed for Omaha

ture of Dennis Chester, who escaped from a train late yesterday, near Broken Bow, Neb.,

The association was formed following the killing of Miss Barton.

With the arrival here today of the coach from which Chester escaped, while under guard of a detective, officials turned their attention to ascertaining how it was possible for Chester to have broken through the two glass compartments of the window, each of which was three-sixteenths of an inch thick.

According to E. E. Beasley, the detective in charge of the prisoner when the escape was made, Chester went through the window without warning, a few minutes after the train had pulled out of Broken Bow.

Some officials expressed the belief that Chester had been badly injured pointing to blood stains found beneath the window. It was their theory that the man had been picked up by confederates and hurried away. Local police said their had received warning that an attempt would be made by friends of Chester to liberate him.

Two private detectives who were assisting in bringing Chester back were unable to throw any light on the case. They had left the state room where the prisoner had been placed when the escape took place.

John Hagan, chief of the detective agency which brought about the Chester arrest, left here tonight in an airplane for Broken Bow to participate in the hunt for the fugitive.

amount of gold in the shipment, but there was a considerable amount of "cut currency" shipped east last week.

Bills Cut In Two.

This refers to bills cut in two, one half being shipped in one car and half on another, so that it would be necessary to rob two cars and paste the bills together to get any currency value.

E. P. Bracken, general manager of the Burlington, said there was no big shipment of government gold on the robbed car, but admitted registered mail had been taken. He also admitted the loss of registered mail might run into a "considerable sum of money."

Charles H. Woods, chief clerk of the railway mail district No. 1, in Chicago, said there were 300 pouches of registered mail but no shipment of gold on the train.

New May Take Place In Cabinet and Hays Be Named Senator

Chicago Tribune—Omaha Bee Leased Wire.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—Republicans in Washington, who are interested in developments relating to the construction of President-elect Harding's cabinet, were keenly interested in reports from Indianapolis from the new president that Will Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, would succeed him by appointment to the senate.

Party leaders are interested in this bit of gossip chiefly because it would be a means of settling one of Mr. Hays's cabinet problems. How to take care of New and Hays in the cabinet, both being from the same state, has been a puzzle to Mr. Harding's advisers, granted that both want to go in the cabinet or in the government at least.
