Important Foot Ball Games on Program for Turkey Day

Many Schedules Will Close With State Elevens

Thanksgiving Will Usher Out Most Successful Season in Annals of Sport; Nebraska to Play.

Thanksgiving day's schedule of foot ball events marks the official close of the most successful season in the history of the gridiron sport. It has been a season of thrills; a season that has developed an unusually large quota of brilliant performers on the lime lines and a season that has seen the biggest and most enthusiastic crowds in foot ball

Although there will be important grid games staged in all sections of the United States Turkey day, the center of interest in King Foot Ball's last stand of the 1920 season in Nelast stand of the 1920 season in Ne-braska is hovering around the Ne-braska-Washington State game, to be played at Lincoln, and the Creighton-South Dakota university battle, scheduled for the locals' field. One of the biggest games in the east will be played at Pittsburgh, where Coach Warner's Panthers will take on their old rivals from State college—the crack Penn State eleven that walloped the Cornhuskers.

The Drake university and Oklahoma elevens will battle at Des Moines, while Missouri and Kansas meet in their annual game at Columbia. Penn plays Cornell at Philadelphia and Centre college tackles Georgetown at Danville, Ky., in other important games.

80,000 See Contest.

The scenic side of the contest surpassed my similar game staged in the Yale Bowl. Between 73,000 and 59,000 persons were seated in the 20 odd miles of concrete tiers. Viewed from the topmost tier, the vast assembly appeared like a multi-hued flower bed in a sunken garden with the brilliant red, purple and green turbahas of the feminine spectators, serving as the bloesoms and the darker masses of the other garments the earth from which the flowers sprang.

When the xelling moments brought the thousands to their feet it appeared as though the huge garden was agitated by a breeze which set the biossoms nodding and bending. The climax chame with the snake dance of the undergraduates of, Harvard, who presented a picture that few spectators could resist tarrying to watch. A fumble by Walker led to Harvard, who presented a picture that few spectators could resist tarrying to the total first scring in the opening period. Owen had punted from the 40-yard line to Yale's 25-yard mark, where the ball bounded out of Walker's hands. The Harvard players pounced on R. A forward pass having failed, Buell used the kick and standing on the 24-yard line booted the ball over.

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 20.—The Ohio State-Illinois contest resulted in application of two rules little known to most followers of foot ball. One is that when time is called after a play has been started, the offensive team must be allowed to complete it. In the final play the whistle blew as Hoge Workman drew back his arm to make a new pass which scored the Ohio touchdown. While the allotted 15 minutes of the quarter ended with the whistle, Ohio was permitted to complete the play, kick
