Victim Refuses to Prosecute Young Woman Who Turns Burglar to Hold Love Of Fiance.

Love of J. Lester Senecal, 20, Young Men's Christian association, for pretty Shirley Bressler, 19, was strengthened yesterday when he learned his fiancee had confessed to stealing a quantity of jewelry and silk lingerie from the home of Jules Rosenbaum, 5008 Capitol avenue, for the purpose of enhancing her scanty wedding trousseau.

Girl Turns Burglar for Sake of Man She Loved

Miss Shirley Bressler, 19, who was released on charges of burglary yesterday when Jules Rosenbaum, 5008 Capitol avenue, whose home she robbed, learned she had looted his home for the sake of her fiance and refused to prosecute.

"How the girl must love me to do such a thing to make me happy," as Senecal's first comment yesterday when he heard of her arrest. "It certainly makes me love her more and it is up to me to teach her to live in the right way."

Miss Bressler, whose home is at Twenty-ninth and Burdette streets, was arrested Friday night at the home of L. C. Knott, 114 South Thirty-fifth avenue, where she was employed as a domestic. She confessed to breaking into the Rosenbaum home Thanksgiving night and taking jewelry and lingerie.

Gave Fictitious Name.
Miss Bressler told the police her name was Elsie Bowman and her home was at 2011 South Eleventh street. She said she wanted the clothes so that she would look well in the eyes of a young man with whom she is in love.

Met in Norfolk.
"I first met her at Norfolk, Neb., and then she moved here. I came here later to work for the Western Electric company and she called me up."
"Shirley was working for the telephone company as an operator then and when I called on her she was a different girl than the innocent little girl I knew in Norfolk."
"Her home life was unhappy and finally she left home and became a domestic, as that was the only way we knew she could be in a nice place on the small wages she was capable of earning. I learned to love her."

Planned to Start Anew.
"We planned to leave Omaha. I hoped that soon the company would transfer me to Seattle and there we would start life over again."
"I don't know what possessed her to do this. I loved her in her simple calico frock. She was neat and clean and I believe she was true to me and I never cared for fancy clothes."

3 Women Killed. One Badly Hurt, As Train Hits Car

Auto Driver Fails to See On-rushing Engine at Crossing 30 Miles Northeast of Council Bluffs.

Mrs. Arthur Hanson, Modale, Ia., who was injured in the crash between a Northwestern passenger train and an automobile near Modale late Friday afternoon, in which three women were killed, will live, according to attendants at the Jennie Edmondson hospital in Council Bluffs, where she was taken that night.

Mrs. Hanson was considered fatally injured Friday. She was unconscious most of the night. This morning, however, her injuries were diagnosed as scalp wounds, and her condition reported improved.

Three Women Killed.
The women who were killed in the crash were Mrs. Charles Long, Mrs. Jennie Ross and Mrs. William Lee. Mrs. Long and Mrs. Ross were killed instantly. Mrs. Lee died in a Bluffs hospital. G. A. Thompson, driver of the automobile, suffered injuries to his leg and scalp cuts. An X-ray picture will be taken today to determine if the leg is fractured.

All four women in the accident were mothers and farmers' wives. They were being driven to their homes from a Kensington at the Thompson home. Side curtains on the automobile prevented a clear view of the track. The bodies of the dead women were mangled horribly, having been dragged several hundred feet under the wreckage.

Placed on Train.
The bodies of the two dead women were placed on the train, that of Mrs. Long being taken to Modale and that of Mrs. Ross to Missouri Valley. A freight engine and caboose bore the injured to the Bluffs, where Mrs. Lee died without regaining consciousness.

Mrs. Long is survived by her husband and six children. Mrs. Ross was a widow, survived by an only daughter. Mrs. Lee leaves a husband and one child. Mrs. Hanson is the mother of four children. All connected with the accident live near Modale.

Falconer Gives Talk at Rosewater Community Center
Thomas Falconer, city commissioner, spoke at a community center meeting Friday night in Edward Rosewater school, on the work of his department in promoting playgrounds and community centers. Dorothy Snyder four, sang two songs unaccompanied. Artistic dancing was offered by Dorothy and Blaine Wahl, with M. Robinson at the piano. A vocal quintet was well received and A. Timmerman appeared in a blackface monologue. Miss Pizer recited.

Judge Rebukes Mother Who Holds School Unimportant
When Edward Murphy's name was called in juvenile court yesterday, where he was to answer to a charge of truancy. Mrs. Edward Murphy, his mother, 4139 W street, answered in his stead.

"The boy has left home and we can't find him," she told Judge Sears. "Well, we'll send officers after him and bring him in."
"I can't see why there is so much fuss about my boy leaving school," Mrs. Murphy said. "I have three other boys who left when they are younger than Edward and they have all turned out well."
"Times are different now," Judge Sears replied, "the law requires each boy and girl to go to school a certain length of time and I'm here to enforce the law. Edward will go back to school when we find him," Judge Sears told the mother.

Attends Auto Convention.
J. L. Haskin, secretary of the Omaha Automobile club, left last night for Louisville, Ky., to attend the annual convention of the National Automobile Club Secretaries' association.
