

Authoress and Lover Face Trial In Washington

Married Woman and Man Friend Arrested Second Time on Charge Made by Writer's Husband.

By EARL L. SHAUB.
(Universal Service Staff Correspondent.)
Chicago, Nov. 27.—The sitting of the tempestuous love affair of Mrs. Amelia Conrow, writer of children's stories, and Rudolph Bodmer, author and publisher of Washington, was transferred last night back to the national capital where it originated. While they were awaiting trial Friday at a police station on a statutory offense, charged by Mrs. Conrow's husband, Robert W. Conrow, salesman for a New York firm, they were arrested by federal agents on a similar charge made in Washington.

Husband Vindictive.
"He'll put me in stripes, that's what he'll do," the woman wailed when taken into custody by the federal men. "My husband has it in for me, the brute, and he'll never let until he has placed me in stripes."
A walk to the federal building in the fresh air calmed her down slightly. She walked with her hand upon Bodmer's arm and his hand upon hers. Arriving at the marshal's office they sought a snug corner where she sat with her face close to his cheek as they chatted softly.

Made Trip in Auto.
The couple came here in an automobile from Washington two weeks ago. They had met at the capital after she had left her husband and got a government position. She was under the impression, she said, that they were divorced at Patterson, N. J., last June and that she would be free to marry December 7, six months after she thought the divorce was granted. It appears though that there is only an interlocutory decree which does not become final until next month and that she is still Mrs. Conrow.

three years ago, she says, and went to Washington, where she got a position in the bureau of public information. There she met Bodmer, who began writing stories for him. Her husband sued last June for divorce. He won the custody of their little boy and girl, whom she had placed in a convent. She thought the decree was final. He left the children in the convent.

Two weeks ago she and Bodmer took the little boy and came to Chicago. A day or so later Conrow attempted to see the girl at the convent, but the child slipped down the back way when she heard he was there and made her way nine miles to Washington. From there she and Bodmer's daughter came to Chicago and joined the lovers.

After their arrest Mrs. Conrow said she couldn't see any harm in living with Bodmer as his wife, since they intended to marry next month, anyway.

Brothers Offer to Mortgage Share of Estate From Mother

Fremont, Neb., Nov. 27.—Three Peterson brothers of Valley, Neb., charged with fraud and conspiracy to obtain merchandise from several Fremont business firms under false pretense, have offered a settlement with their creditors by which they wish to give negotiable notes, to come due when they receive their share of the family estate, upon the decease of their mother, now living in Valley.

The creditors met with the defendants and their attorneys and offered these notes to bear 8 per cent interest from the date the purchases were made. The creditors refused the proposition. The amount of default exceeds $1,700, including the expenses to the county. The accused men have no means of payment. The estate is to be divided among eight heirs. The hearing was postponed until December 3, to enable the Petersons to raise the necessary funds. Theodore and Gilbert are in jail. Victor was released under $1,500 bonds.

The three brothers made heavy purchases from various firms and promised to pay November 10, 30 days from the purchase. It was discovered that the goods they had acquired on credit were being sold through a clearing house in Omaha.
