MISS FLORA MARSH

Miss Flora Marsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Marsh, returns December 19 from Kent Place school, Summit, N. J., where she is taking a post graduate course. Miss Marsh was the guest of one of her classmates at the Yale-Harvard foot ball game in New Haven, Conn., Saturday, November 20.

Concerning her trip to New Haven, Miss Marsh has written, "Friday evening, we went to a Colony fraternity house dance. Claire Daugherty, James Connell, Charles Allison and two other Omaha boys were there. The game I can't describe on paper. During the halves the two colleges sang and during one song the Harvard cheering section waved handkerchiefs, making a red H on a white background. It was so pretty with the afternoon sun shining upon it. General Pershing was on the Yale side and airplanes flew overhead all during the game. It was a hard-fought game and Yale certainly came back. Harvard had the ball on the 10-yard line and failed to make the downs. I wish you could have heard the cheering. There were 80,000 in the bowl, so you can imagine it."
