Persons of middle age, who have convinced themselves that life has yielded up its full share to them and there is nothing left for them but to die, will do well to see "Conrad in Quest of His Youth," starring Thomas Meighan, which will be shown at the Strand theater this

In this picture, Mr. Meighan plays the title role of Conrad Warrener, and shows how youth may be re-gained. The picture deals with his quest. He first seeks happiness in reliving the romances of his child-hood, but each attempt in this direc-tion only plunges him more hopelessly into old age.

He finally falls in love with a beautiful girl, whom he thinks is a stranded actress, who to his surprise proves to be the Countess of Dar-lington, who, before her marriage was a popular London show girl. He then discovers that to be young one must be in love.

Wesley Barry makes his bow t the picture-loving public in "Dinty," his first actual starring vehicle, at the Rialto theater this week.

Advance reports state that the freckle-faced youngster of "Daddy Long Legs," "Don't Ever Marry" and "Go Get ht" has in this latest film made the finest performance of his brief but brilliant career.

"Dinty" is the tale of a fighting. San Francisco newsboy, "Dinty" O'Sullivan. It deals with his rise to the head of the Newsboys' Trust, and the prominent part he plays in running down a band of Malay highbinders who have stolen the assistant district attorney's fiancee. Pathos, humor, romance and adventure are the four elements that Marshall Neilan has woven into the plot.

Marion Fairfax, the clever sub-titler of "Go and Get It" and other screen successes, prepared the scenario for "Dinty" from Mrs. Neilan's "The Broadway Bubble," starrstory. Many of the scenes were photographed in San Francisco's Chinatown and waterfront, and some remarkable effects are said to have been obtained "Going Some," showing at the Moon theater this week, is a story full of action and up to the usual Beach standards in every respect.

The cast chosen for this production is an all-star one, and includes Cullen Landis, Lillian Hall. Willard Louis, Lillian Langdon, Maurice B. Flynn, the well-known foot ball player, Helen Ferguson, Kenneth Flynn, the well-known foot ball player, Helen Ferguson, Kenneth Harlan, and a host of others popular with the lovers of the screen.

Wagering a big cattle ranch against a sheep ranch upon the outcome of a foot race is one of the excitement producing elements in "Going Some." The picture is all that Harry Beaumont direction with the assistance of the can make it. Most of the action centers around the two runners and the owners of the ranches. The runners hold the destiny of many people in their power to win or lose the eventful race.

Before the time arrives for the athletes to try out their physical prowess, oil is discovered on one of the wagered ranches thereby enhancing its value a great deal. The possibility of such a discovery was not taken into consideration when the wager was made; hence arises the question of whether it would be fair to carry out the original terms on which the bet was based. Obviating the necessity of legal assistance, nathe necessity of legal assistance, nature allows things to take their normal course. The solving of this intricate puzzle makes a story of ab-
