"Dry" Agents to Brand Saloons With Yellow Flag of Pestilence

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Chicago, Dec. 12.—On the high seas, and in some countries, a yellow flag or sign indicates the presence of disease and peril. Federal prohibition enforcement officials are going to paint the same sign on hundreds of saloons and cabarets in this city.

All of them will blossom out tomorrow with gray flapping red and yellow signs notifying the world that liquor must not be purchased within. The sign begins with the word "Be-ware," in letters two feet high and following is the information that the saloon on which this sign has been pasted has disobeyed the law and has been enjoined from selling liquor. The final sentence reads: "Any person purchasing liquor here is subject to prosecution, along with the owner of the saloon. Do not buy your drinks here."

Four Killed in Cork; Buildings Burned

(Continued From Page One.) of the ambush, shortly after curfew, two brothers named Delaney are reported to have been taken from their homes and shot, one subsequently dying. During the hour before curfew, terrorism held sway, and when the streets were emptied of civilians, loud explosions and rifle and revolver shots kept up until early morning. The explosions appeared to come from incendiary bombs, as persons ventured to look from their windows saw fires break out in St. Patrick street and daylight revealed the full extent of the damage.

Several Missing. It is not improbable that lives have been lost in the fires; already several persons connected with the destroyed houses and business premises are reported missing. At 6 o'clock this afternoon people were just beginning to venture again into the streets; the whole city was then in control of the military and it is understood that the officer in command assured the populace that the military would remain on duty indefinitely to prevent further destruction. The troops are full of size in order, pickets with machine guns being posted at all vantage points.

Only one large drapery establishment is left intact in Cork. At 6:30 p. m. a special train left Dublin for Cork, carrying Captain Myers, chief of the Dublin brigade, and a motor engine with crew. Protection Promised. A deputation of citizens of Cork, says a dispatch received here, including the protesting bishop and the city clerk, waited on the officer commanding the Cork troops and requested him to take measures to prevent a recurrence of the appalling damage to property. He promised to send out special military patrols.

The destroyed city hall in Cork was only excelled in point of size in Ireland by Belfast's great municipal building. This is the third time it has been set on fire, the firemen being driven out at the point of revolvers. On the two previous occasions, the west wing, devoted to the public health department was burned, but this time the hall was set alight in many places. The great hall seating 3,000 and having a fine organ, shared the fate of the municipal premises. The fact that no serious casualties were caused by the bombs is explained by the statement that preliminary warning was given to all occupants of buildings to leave prior to the attacks.

This Man Dead Twice, But Still Says He's Alive

Chicago, Dec. 12.—Fred Emich is getting tired of telling people he's still alive. When a report goes out of a man's death he can capitalize on it like Mark Twain and make a funny remark such as "reports of my death greatly exaggerated." But when the report goes around a second time, and you even receive flowers, it gets tiresome. At least Fred thinks so. He was reported first as being killed while in the front line trenches in France. He did have three bullets in him, but they didn't suffice to kill him. Just the other day Emich was out automobile riding and had a smash-up. He wasn't even hurt, but next day he received a big wreath for his funeral. He returned the wreath with thanks, and now asks that his friends wait for positive confirmation before they begin sending flowers.
