By RALPH WAGNER.

That Creighton university will have a winning team in foot ball next season and one that will give any in the Missouri Valley t hard game, is the opinion of alumni of the school. The majority of Creighton graduates and followers of the Blue and White athletic teams are well pleased with the selection of Malcom (Mac) Baldrige, former Yale assistant line coach, as foot ball and basket ball coach at the local school starting next grid season.

Baldrige comes to Creighton well recommended as an athlete and a coach, not only in foot ball, but in basket ball as well. Walter Camp, eastern grid critic, is a strong boost-er for Baldrige and believes the former Yale tackle will develop winning teams at Creighton.

Creighton Arranging Hard Grid Schedule.

With the foot ball esason at Creighton still fresh in the minds of the students and followers of the team, comes the announcement that the locals will probably have one of the toughest grid schedules next year of any school in this section of the Creighton will probably buck up against Ames, Drake, Marquette, Notre Dame, Simpson and the Kansas Aggies next season. Although the contracts calling for contests with the above schools have not been signed and tucked away in the files, the wires are being kept hot and if suitable dates can be arranged between the athletic officials of the schools, the locals will play about the same schedule in 1921 as they did this year, with the exception of Notre Dame.

Cambridge High May Play Coast Champions.

Cambridge High school's foot bail team of Cambridge, Neb., may journey to the Pacific coast the lat-ter part of this month to play either the Everett High school or the Long Beach High school. This announcement was contained in a letter which was received by the writer yesterday from John L. McCom-mons, superintendent of the Cam-bridge school.
