Hear "Samson and Delilah"
Played by the Composer

NEVER will Saint-Saens be heard in concert again. His fingers are stilled forever. Fortunately, his playing was recorded while he was alive and his genius belongs to the ages. Saint-Saens' interpretation of many of his compositions—the wizardry; the romance; the expression; the phrasing; the very soul of his music as he played it—is faithfully re-created by

The REPRODUCING APOLLO PIANO

Not many have the privilege of hearing the actual interpretation of his music by the eminent composer himself. The possessor of the Reproducing Apollo Piano is extremely fortunate. He may hear (played by themselves) the music of famous composers such as Saint-Saens, D'Albert, Carreno, Paderewski, Hoffman, Gabrilowitch, Humperdinck, Richard Strauss, Leschetizky, as well as the popular composers of the day, like Friml, Arndt, Lee S. Roberts, Howard Brockway, Van Alstyne, Carrie Jacobs Bond and many others.

It is impossible to realize what the Reproducing Apollo Piano will do until you hear it. We believe it to be the very last word in musical instruments, and will be glad to give a demonstration at any time.
