

SLEEPY-TIME TALES THE TALE OF FATTY COON BY ARTHUR SCOTT BAILEY

CHAPTER XI. Jasper Jay Tells Some News. It was quite late in the fall, and the weather had grown very cold.

And Fatty was very glad to hear the news because he was still hungry. He knew that his mother had discovered danger of some sort.

That very afternoon Fatty Coon heard some very pleasant news. It was Jasper Jay who told him.

I'M THE GUY

I'M THE GUY who is careless of his personal appearance. Well, what do you do? Do my clothes and the way I wear them mean more to you than to me?

THE GUMPS

THE STAGE IS SET— COME ON WITH THE SHOW— UNCLE BIM IS COMING FOR A RIOTOUS WEEK— WOMEN CRIPPLES AND CHILDREN GET BACK OF THE ROPES—

SOMEBODY'S COMING TO MY HOUSE

THE GREAT UNCLE BIM CHESTER BIM GUMP ANDY'S MOTHER IN LAW ANDY'S FATHER IN LAW WHO OWNS JUST A LITTLE LESS OF AUSTRALIA THAN ENGLAND DOES—

More Truth Than Poetry

IT CAN'T BE DONE I look on men who make the law In congress or the legislature With that grave reverence and awe Consistent with my simple nature.

TOO DEEP FOR TEARS No music is melancholy enough to be set to "The Blue Law Blues." NOT SUCH A JOKE

PRETTY TOUGH It begins to look as if the honest workingman would soon be forced to work four or five days a week.

Evans; war risk insurance officer, Harry Abbott.

Why— Do We Send "Christmas Cards?" The gaily colored cards and postcards which have come to be a part of the Christmas celebration, are in reality, survival of the "Christmas pieces" popular during the first half of the last century.

Common Sense J. J. MUNDY. Build a Foundation. Your child has the making of a great artist in any direction, as you think, it is a big mistake not to see that he or she has a thorough education in practical life as well.

HOLDING A HUSBAND

Adele Garrison's New Phase of Revelations of a Wife

The Reason the Station Agent Called on Dicky. Despite my worry over Grace Draper's message and the knowledge that Dicky had known all along of the man named Tim, I fell asleep almost as soon as I reached my bed after our return from the canoe trip to Blue's Bridge.

I think Dicky was as thoroughly fatigued as I for he was sound asleep in his own bed when I reached our room after a little chat with my mother-in-law, who wished to hear the details of the day's trip.

What is it? I asked sleepily. "It's me, Mandy," the serving maid answered. "Somebody wants to see Mista Graham right away."

I took an involuntary glance at my wrist watch, convinced by my sleepiness that the girl had called us in the middle of the night. But the timepiece pointed inexorably to half past nine, and I roused myself to question her.

Dicky Won't Wake. The ticket agent! Had anything gone wrong with our reservations? Gone was my hope of being able to delay Dicky's waking. I knew that I must get him up at once.
