Tower and Power" Allen Renounces Peaceful Democrats . For Thrill of Kitchen.

Lincoln. Dec. 22 .- (Special.) -From politics to hotel chei. This is what has happened to "Tower and Power" Allen, well known Lincoln political leader. With the organization of the new state democratic party with a policy that there never more shall befactional disturbances, quarrels or fights such as have made that party fights such as have made that party such a wonderfully interesting organization. Mr. Allen, whose advice has many times helped the organization out of difficult places and been much sought by state leaders, has renounced the organization with its new ideas and has gone back to his old business as a chef. back to his old business as a chef. There used to be a time when Mr. Allen could tickle the palate of the most dyspeptic grouch with his ar-tistic tough as a chef and he feels that his Hand has not at all lost its shaken by many aspiring and per-

O F the elaborate musical regues that he Orpheum has presented, and there are been many of them, the one which scores the most emphatic hit is offered this week, brought here by Anatol Friedhand, who has written over a though relative, and richly costumed chorus is a conapleucus featore. Then there is the tenor, Nell Mack, who also serves as musical director. Nothing funnier on the vaude-ville stage has appeared in Omaha than the monologue, "Drafted," as presented by Johnny Burke. Another featured attraction is the sketch, "A Good Bad Man," presented by Wallis Clark, Christmas seats are selling.

That his fland has not at all lost it cumning, even though it has been shaken by many aspiring and perspiring politicians who would like to get up to the democratic pie counter. He has taken over the dining room of the New Windsor hotel in Lincoln and will forsake the din of the political battle for the din of the pots and kettles in the hotel kitchen.
