Gas Plant Debt

Interest on Bond Issue Du January 1 Will Be Met With Loan From City Funds.

Controversy between the city council and the Metropolitan Water board over the payment of $125,000 interest due Jamuary 1 on $5,000,000 gas plant bonds was amicably adjusted yesterday afternoon at a conference in the office of the water board. The city will loan the water board $100,000 until April 15 and the board will appropriate $25,000 from current funds of the gas department, The gas deartment has a cash fund of only $44,000 at this time and is financially unable to meet the first interest payment on its bonds, General Manager R. B. Howell stated that he expects to obtain relief through legislation, to make it possible to use the funds of the water department in such an emergency as the one just encountered.

John L. Webster, councel for the water board, advised that the Metropolitan water district law expressly prohibits the use of water department funds for purposes not strictly within the the water department.

A Good Time

No matter what you see, no mat ter what you hear, don't lose faith in the Flynn institution as leading distributors of best merchandise at lowest prices. If you are the least bit skeptical, there never will be a better time to test it out than now. At this time there is apparently an insane scramble amongst those who usually promise the most and deliver the least to see who will get at you first. The proposition is, are you going to make them deliver according to promise. There's only one good way to solve that problem and that is look here before you buy. All street cars lead to South Omaha and the fare is the South Omaha and the fare is the same—No matter what part of the city you live in. It's a safe bet that it will pay you to visit this store. We are really doing things that are radical to prices in every department. It's a time to huy clothes that may not occur again in years to come. Bring the children and we'll show you savings worth while.
