What's What

By HELEN DECIE

Notwithstanding all the jokes on the subject in the "funny papers," every one, even in the remote backwoods, seems to understand that pie should not be eaten with a knife or a spoon, but with the fork provided for the purpose. It is when half a dozen different forks are arranged beside the plate at a formal dinner that the social neophyte is sometimes at a loss to know which to use for each of the courses served. The newly rich are apt to overdo in silverware. One such hostess addressing a distinguished savant among her dinner guests, said, "I hope you have all the forks you need, professor?"

To which that scholarly exponent of plain living and high thinking replied as courteously as he could, "Thank you; I think there is every sort of fork at my plate excepting a pitchfork!"

A safe rule is to take the fork at the outside for the first course, the next one for the succeeding course, and so on. Well-trained servants generally place the forks in the order of use.

Problems That Perplex

Anxious: Here are some suggestions for indoor games.

Holiday Game. On 12 cards have pasted symbolic pictures which represent "days which we celebrate" throughout the year. Have these numbered consecutively and pass in order to each guest, allowing half a minute in which to think what day the picture represents. He writes the name of the day on a paper which is numbered according to the manner in which the cards are passed. No one is allowed to speak during the process. The days may be represented as follows: New Year's day: New Year and Father Time. St. Valentine's day: A heart. Washington's birthday: A bunch of cherries or hatchet. St. Patrick's day: A four-leaf clover. April Fool day: Clown in duncecap. Easter: Chicken or rabbit. Decoration day: A basket of flowers. Fourth of July: Firecracker or flag. Halloween: A pumpkin. Thanksgiving: A Puritan. Christmas eve: An empty stocking. Christmas day: A filled stocking.

A Bird Spelling Bee.

The leader commences with the name of any bird, spelling it, say "t-a-a-l." The second player must spell the name of a bird beginning with "L," say "l-a-r-k." The third one must have a "K," say "k-i-n-g." The word bird may be left off the name, as that would call for too many d's in the game.

Quaker Minister Is Grateful to Tanlac

Rev. Parker Moon, Carthage, Missouri.

Nearly everybody in Southwest Missouri either knows or has heard of the Rev. Parker Moon, who for a full half century has devoted his life and talents to Sunday school and organization work for the Society of Friends or Quakers. He resides at 628 Howard avenue, Carthage, Mo. "Uncle Parker," as he is more familiarly known, came from fine old rugged Quaker stock, and there is not a better known or more highly respected citizen in that part of the state. In referring to his remarkable restoration to health by Tanlac, he said: "About five years ago I suffered a general breakdown. My principal trouble was nervous indigestion. My appetite was very poor and my food seldom agreed with me, and I had to live on a very restricted diet. I suffered a great deal from headaches and dizzy spells; I had severe pains across the small of my back and was badly constipated most of the time. In fact, I was so weak and rundown I was not able to attend to my duties. "This condition made me very nervous and I could not sleep at night. Frequently I would lie awake most all night and was in that condition more or less for five years. My physician said he could not do anything for me and suggested a change of climate. I then moved to Texas and went back and forth three times but did not get the relief I had hoped for. Finally, I got so bad off I was not able to get around with any degree of comfort. I was also told I had heart trouble. "I had read about Tanlac and, as it had been very highly recommended to me, I decided to try it. I got a bottle and had taken only a few doses until I could notice a marked improvement in my condition. I noticed especially that I was not troubled any more with sour stomach after eating, which was a great relief. "I kept on taking Tanlac until I fully regained my health. My appetite is splendid; I enjoy my meals and I do not find it necessary now to take any laxative medicines of any kind. I can sleep much better and am not nearly so nervous. "It is a great pleasure in recommending Tanlac to anyone who needs a good system builder, or who suffers with stomach trouble. I have recommended Tanlac to a great many of my friends and am pleased to reach others by giving this statement for publication. "Tanlac is sold in Omaha at all Sherman & McConnell Drug Company's stores, Harvard Pharmacy and West End Pharmacy. Also in South Omaha and Benson Pharmacy, Benson; George Siert, Florence, Neb.; Saratoga Pharmacy, 24th and Ames, North Omaha, Neb., and the leading druggist in each city and town throughout the state of Nebraska.
