

Implement Men Of Middle West Open Convention

Over 500 Members Entertained at Banquet—Exhibits At Auditorium Viewed By Large Crowds.

Members of the Mid-West Implement Dealers' association, in convention in the city until Friday night, were entertained last night at a banquet at the Rome hotel by the Omaha and Council Bluffs Hardware Implement and Tractor club. Following the banquet the dealers were entertained with a theater party at the Orpheum.

The implement show being conducted at the Auditorium in connection with the convention opened early yesterday morning and was visited by large crowds during the day and night. Most of the large manufacturers are represented with exhibits.

Yesterday afternoon the first session of the convention was held at the Rome. More than 500 delegates were present. President Oscar A. Rystrom, Stromberg, Neb., made the president's annual address, which was followed by various reports by officials.

Insurance, implements and farm machinery and more advanced methods in the business conduct of the organization were discussed. Today's session begins at 9 a. m. at the Rome. Professor Ivan B. Wood, extension engineer of the University of Nebraska, will make the principal address on how the Extension Service College of Agriculture May Co-operate With Implement Dealers. The Council Bluffs Elks quartet will sing.

In the afternoon meetings will be adjourned and the dealers will inspect the implement exhibits at the Auditorium.

Kick of "White Mule" Halts Wedding Bells For Alliance Visitor

Alliance, Neb., Jan. 5.—(Special Telegram.)—With his fiancée awaiting him in Kansas City and wedding bells to ring immediately upon his arrival, the plans of Edgar Allison, 46, of Fort Smith, Ark., were completely wrecked by the kick of a "white mule." Edgar had started to the Missouri city from Lovell, Wyo., arriving here on a night train. Waiting for another train, he went out to see the sights.

He met two negroes in an alley and swapped a $10 bill for a pint of white mule. He took a husky swing from the bottle and entered a negro restaurant. The negroes followed him inside and he says one of them grabbed another $10 bill out of his hand and presented him with another pint of "hootch." He took another drink and from then on Edgar's memory is faulty, in fact, a total blank.

When he awoke at the police station he found he had been relieved of his purse containing nearly $100, a gold watch, his overcoat and suitcase. Police found the suitcase at the depot, but the other articles are missing, including a railroad ticket to Kansas City. Edgar had just an even dollar left.

He was in a serious condition when found at the depot by police. A doctor was summoned and pronounced the man suffering from alcoholic poisoning. He says he

Irish Leaders Cross Atlantic As Stowaways

Peter J. MacSwiney and Lord Mayor of Cork "Beat Way" To New York on Board American Steamer.

Newport News, Va., Jan. 5.—Peter J. MacSwiney of New York, brother of the late Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork, and Daniel O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, arrived as stowaways on the American steamer, Westcannon, from Cork.

Immediately upon arrival of the Westcannon, immigration authorities discovered the two on board and disregarding the claims of their identity, had them placed in jail pending investigation.

MacSwiney carried a passport, issued by an American consul, and could have made the trip openly, but chose rather to stowaway with Lord Mayor O'Callaghan. Upon showing his passport, MacSwiney was released and the lord mayor was freed as soon as authorities arrived. The lord mayor took up his residence for the time at a hotel, refusing to discuss his visit. According to MacSwiney, however, O'Callaghan is in

No Decision Is Reached on O'Callaghan's Admission

Washington, Jan. 5.—Daniel O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who arrived at Newport News yesterday as a stowaway, will be held until the immigration authorities can determine whether he is admissible, it was said today at the Department of Labor.

Should O'Callaghan be found admissible, officials said, his case would then be referred to the State department to determine whether that department was willing to waive the absence of a passport under the circumstances surrounding the case.

Mayor O'Callaghan's statement that he had been invited to testify before the commission appointed by the committee of 100 investigating the conditions was confirmed today by William MacDonald, secretary of the commission.

"I wish to state for the commission," Mr. MacDonald said, "that Mr. O'Callaghan will be a special witness of the commission."

Gompers Scores Decision of U. S. Supreme Court

Says Tribunal Has Joined Forces With Anti-Union Movement in Ruling on So-Called Secondary Boycott.

St. Louis, Jan. 5.—The decision of the United States supreme court yesterday relative to the so-called secondary boycott was attacked in a statement by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who asserted the court has "joined forces with the anti-union shop movement."

The statement characterized the decision as a "blow at the movement for human freedom and progress," and declared it is "thoroughly in accord with the most ardent wishes of predatory greed."

The court held that labor unions or their members are accountable under the anti-trust laws where they depart from their "normal and legitimate objects and engage in an actual combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade."

Mr. Gompers' statement said in part: "The supreme court, in rendering

Doctor Files Appeal With Supreme Court

Lincoln, Jan. 5.—(Special.)—Dr. Leslie S. Fields of Omaha, convicted of murder in connection with the death last September of Ruth Ayer 19, Hayes Center, Neb., by an illegal operation, and under sentence of one to 10 years in the state penitentiary, appealed to the Nebraska supreme court today.

Fields' chief argument in filing the appeal is against the introduction into the evidence at his trial in the district court of a letter from the Ayers girl prior to her death naming him in connection with the proposed operation.

The Nebraska supreme court is about 14 months behind in its present docket, but double sessions are being held and the Fields case will probably be reached in six months.

Matters' 60-Day Reprieve Ends; Marshal Waits Word

Yesterday ended the 60-day reprieve granted Matters by President Wilson. The Matters case began in district court eight years ago. Several appeals have been made to higher courts, which in turn confirmed the original sentence.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 5.—(Special.)—Governor McKelvie today issued an invitation to the house and senate to appropriate certain committees to the executive mansion for committee meetings because of the crowded condition of the state house, which in past years has forced state authorities to rent rooms in hotels for committee meetings.

A vote of thanks was extended to the governor and the invitation was referred to the committee on committees.
