Grinnell and Husker Cagers Play Friday

Nebraska Will Dedicate Auditorium at State Fair Grounds Against Iowans—Bob Russell Returns to School.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 8 — (Special.)

Next Priday will see the mauguration of one of the half dozen largest basket ball auditoriums in the country in Lincoln. Coach Schissler's basket tossers will play Grinnell in two games at the state fair coliseum Friday and Saturday

With a basket ball court of maximum regulation size, and auditorinm for seating about 3,000 spectators, Nebraska will start on a career of making basket ball the most profitable and most interesting sport at the school aside from foot ball.

The Cornhusker team returned from Illinois, where they broke even with the Illinois quintet and trounced the Illinois Wesleyan aggregation. Coach Schissler was fully satisfied with the playing of his men, although the result of the sec-ond game with Illinois was rather disheartening. Illinois won 26 to

Hornsby Case Is a Mystery To Ball Fans

Public Anxious to Know Whether Giants Will Cop Great Cardinal Slugger.

The next important case on the base ball docket reads: "Where will Roger Hornsby play in 1921?" The future of the star swatter is the most important story before the fans today, and it is on a par with the clusive pill that bounds and hops under the shells. St. Louis fans demand that Hornsby be retained. They also threaten a boycott if he is sold. And rumors are running wild about the star. One friend of the family has openly announced that the new swat king of the National league was sold to the New York Giants last September. Anothef unconfirmed statement has it that Rogers already has received a share of the purchase price paid to the owners of the Cardinals by the Giants' owners. McGraw Pressed Offer.

This much is known positively— that late last summer McGraw pressed an offer for Hornsby of from $200,000 to $250,000 in cash, with no "ifs" or "ands" and that he was ready to write the check if the Cardinals would agree to the sale.

The Hornsby case is one of the most peculiar a club owner has had to deal with in many moons. One interesting sidelight deals with this line of gossip:

Last summer, while the Cardinals were in New York a merchant claiming to have an extreme fondness for Hornsby offered him a partnership in a business with this
