

Students to Be Given Lessons In Safety First

Grade School Teacher Plans To Reproduce Omaha's Busiest Street Intersection as Example for Pupils.

To illustrate traffic signals and teach school children the proper method of crossing streets while traffic is heavy, Miss Pearl McCumber, principal of the Lincoln school, Eleventh and Center streets, proposes to select a street intersection near the school and reproduce the Sixteenth and Farnam streets intersection. Traffic Officer Dudley included.

Some of the children on "kiddy" cars will represent the automobile traffic and the remainder will represent pedestrians. The plan is in accordance with the traffic safety program recently approved for the public schools by Superintendent J. H. Beveridge, to lower if possible the possibility of children being injured by automobiles.

Reproduce Busy Intersection.
"At the suggestion of one of our primary grade teachers we decided to use the 'kiddy' cars and reproduce the busiest intersection in Omaha as a practical illustration. The children will be better able to understand what we want them to know," Miss McCumber said yesterday.

"At Lincoln school," said Miss McCumber, "we try to teach the older pupils that they are to set the example for the younger by observing strictly all traffic rules. We have many Italian children in our kindergarten who cannot speak or understand English. They are being instructed in traffic safety through interpreters."

All Schools Included.
All educational work in the safety-first movement in connection with the traffic safety committee of the Chamber of Commerce will start next week in all schools, according to Miss Belle Ryan, assistant superintendent of schools. "By teaching the children that they must be careful the number of accidents will be greatly reduced," she said.

Most Menacing Crossings.
School officials say the most menacing crossings to school children are at Twenty-ninth street and Park avenue and Twenty-ninth and Farnam streets. Both intersections are near the Farnam school. Yesterday at this school in one of the class rooms the danger of being a "jay-walker" and what happens when automobiles do not keep to the right was illustrated when children on "kiddy" cars collided after violating traffic rules. Teachers in this school are careful at all times in instructing their pupils to use the utmost caution in crossing these dangerous intersections to and from school.

No Relatives Greet Body of Hamilton County War Victim

Aurora, Neb., Jan. 14.—(Special).—The body of Eldert A. Dusenberry, who died overseas during the war, lies here awaiting word from members of his family now living in Colorado. Young Dusenberry enlisted in Company H at the beginning of the war and died of pneumonia in a French hospital. Since his death, all members of his family have removed from Hamilton county and when his flag draped casket reached Aurora there was no one here to receive it. The American Legion will take charge of the body and give it fitting honors if the family cannot be found.

Lease of Creamery at Aurora Starts Fight

Aurora, Neb., Jan. 14.—(Special).—War is about to break out in the ranks of the stockholders of the Aurora Co-operative Creamery company, which was organized here about two years ago. The board of directors have leased the plant for a period of five years to B. H. Robson, the present manager, and the stockholders threaten a suit to enjoin the board from proceeding under the contract. Robson, in the meantime, has taken Homer Otto and Frisbie Arnold in with him and has organized a creamery and ice cream company. The company was organized on the co-operative basis and the patrons were getting all of the profits. Its capital stock is about $10,000 and the proposed lease calls for $1,000 per year rental.

Seventh Consecutive Conviction by Juries

After only 20 minutes deliberation a jury found Ernest Smith, tried for attacking Thelma Davis, 15, on October 23, guilty of the charge, in district court yesterday. His was the seventh consecutive criminal conviction returned by juries in district court recently. It was his second trial, a jury previously having deliberated on his case 28 hours without rendering a verdict. With the conviction yesterday of Ole Jackson on the charge of carrying concealed weapons, court house and police attaches saw the fall of a former Third ward politician who in days past was said to control the colored vote of that ward. A recently invented lock nut is featured by a coil spring that grips the thread of a bolt.

ONE MINUTE STORE TALK

There are some people who appreciate this store's position in the retailing of men's clothing. A customer said:

"Well, I see the Nebraska is paying the price of leadership again. You're too anxious to give service to your customers. If you only realized that it only takes about half such a stock to satisfy people, you wouldn't need to give the other half away at half price."

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

WHEN YOU THINK that you cannot take cod-liver oil, the evidence is clear that you have not taken Scott's Emulsion recently. It's as rich as cream, only more easily assimilated and is pleasant to take.
