What's What

By HELEN DECIE

One's toilet is supposed to have been completed before leaving the home. No one would think of brushing the hair or the teeth in public. Yet many girls carry their manicuring implements with them every day and calmly clean and polish their fingernails, regardless of all beholders, in a street car, in the waiting room of a railroad station or wherever else they happen to have a few moments' spare time.

The practice of filing the nails and cutting the cuticle while traveling in any public vehicle is dangerous as well as indecorous. Often the sudden jolt of a car or train drives the pointed instrument into the tender skin, and sometimes it has happened that the wound so inflicted could not be sterilized in time to prevent blood poisoning. Miss Betty King will leave for Los Angeles January 21, where she will spend the remainder of the winter with her sister, Miss Gladys King. She will spend several days in Salt Lake City en route.

Problems That Perplex

Answered by BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Strong for Modern Miss.

A great deal of my time has been spent in the society of members of the fair sex, and because of this and the fact that I have given much consideration to women's apparel, I think I am better qualified than the average man to write on the subject of women's dress.

To say that women who wear décolleté gowns and knee length skirts are immoral is too sweeping a statement. I feel confident that most of the young girls in low necks and short skirts wear them with the most innocent of intentions. The only evil about an abbreviated costume is that which forms in the unchaste mind of the male.

As for cosmetics, I'd pick a girl with a nose like a marshmallow in preference to one with a shiny beak any day. The judicious use of paint and powder certainly improves a girl's appearance. When Mother Nature gives Mary Smith rosy cheeks and Susie Brown pale ones, why should not Susie, with her little rouge box, take up the job where Mother Nature left off? Exercise and fresh air bring color, I know, but not always in the right place.

The modern girl does not go around with a lily in her hand, but she is just as virtuous as the demure miss of some time back, with sweeping skirts, wasp waist and choking collar. It's clothes that make girls beautiful, and those of today are much more artistic and hygienic than those of our grandmothers or great-grandmothers.

I have implicit confidence in women, and the vast majority of them can be depended upon not to carry fashions to the extreme. I'm 100 per cent strong for the modern miss.

Hope: Right will prevail, you know. If your friendship with this boy is perfectly honorable, the girls in your town are doing wrong to snub you. Quit worrying about them and don't give up the boy through fear. If you like him, stick to him. The other girls may be envious of your friendship with the banker's son.

I do not understand your letter, however. You say you and your father are pals and that you can trust your mother. Then you say you are an orphan. Also you say it will take two more years to finish your college course. I do not know of a college in your town. If you expect me to help you, you must tell me the real truth about yourself.

Heart-Broken Girls: I think you are taking the boys too seriously. A boy may not care to go with a girl and yet he may like her and respect her. Perhaps you have not told me the whole story of your case. I can't think these boys would quit going with you just because you danced with "two perfectly respectable boys New Year's eve." I would have to know more about the affair to give you more advice.

B. H.: That was an awful letter you wrote me. You are a selfish, inconsiderate girl judging from your letter. I judge you are bold, too, which is probably the reason the boy you mention does not care for you. I couldn't begin to give you all the advice you need. Better let mother guide you until you are older and have more sense.

The works of two Russian artists of the new school may now be seen in New York City. N. H. Reich is exhibiting his sketches and paintings at the Keger Galleries, and Boris Anisfeld, who has successfully shown his paintings in many American cities, is painting scenery for the Metropolitan opera house. The scenery for the recent productions of "The Blue Bird" and "Mephistopheles" was his work.

The great majority of employees in the Spanish toy factories are women.

San Francisco, California

Last night we danced in the Sun Lounge—the wonderful roof-garden here at the hotel. I met some of the nicest San Franciscans, who come here all the time to the teas and dances. You would enjoy the music, Bob! It's such happy, lively melody, the kind that sings its way into your heart and adds wings to your feet. Hotel Whitcomb certainly believes in making sunshine for its guests. Till next time, yours, as ever,

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

At last you can learn
What Edison Did
during the War

YOU wondered—everybody wondered, and practically nobody knew how Edison "did his bit." At last the official announcement is out! Come in and get your copy of the bulletin: "What Did Edison Do During the War?"—or write, if you can't call.

It tells what Edison did while Chairman of the Naval Consulting Board—how he spent months at sea experimenting and inventing devices for foiling the German submarines.

The bulletin also tells how Edison stood the gaff and kept the price of the New Edison down to bed-rock during the era of high costs and soaring prices. The New Edison has increased in price less than 15% since 1914—part of this increase is war tax. The bulletin also tells Mr. Edison's views on our Budget Plan which makes the New Edison easy to buy.
