

Governor Tells Of Nonpartisan League Plans

Declares Feverish Drive in Nebraska and Kansas Is to Get Funds to Bridge Danger in North Dakota.

Dekota program, and these three important measures did pass.

Bank in Trouble.
There can be little question that the state bank is practically done for. It was to serve as a foundation for all the state enterprises. Bonds were to be issued and sold to secure money for operation, but the state could not sell its bonds, so there is nothing doing. The bank for a long time received deposits of the public funds. Not only the state funds, but the county and city funds as well. But after last election, one of the initiated measures provided that the different communities should decide for themselves where they would deposit their funds.

Meanwhile, the state bank, anticipating that it could market its bonds, had already loaned over $3,000,000 of the public funds on a rural credit plan to the farmers. When the initiated law became effective, many of the communities began to draw out their funds and this promised to precipitate such a collapse of the entire financial structure that a rule was made preventing communities from the withdrawal of their funds in wholesale accounts, but only as needed. It will be seen that the local funds in the state bank will be gradually withdrawn by the various communities and little more deposited. Consequently, the state bank will become empty more than a state treasurer's office.

Over 30 Banks Fail.

During the past year, more than 30 banks have failed in the state and at least two of the league's newspapers have gone out of business. The entire sale of bonds in North Dakota, by which the numerous state enterprises were to be financed, has been a great joke, because hardly any bonds have been sold. Many reasons are assigned for this, but the most logical one is that the securities of North Dakota are of such bad repute that they cannot be sold on the same basis as securities of other states. It is interesting to note that the last bonds which were sold by the state of South Dakota, under its nonsocialistic rule credit plan were sold on the basis of 5.99. So this proves that there was a market for the right kind of state securities.

Meanwhile, the whole state industrial program is at a standstill with a strong probability that it will not be revived. Work on the terminal elevator has been stopped; the flour mill cost only about $20,000 and has a capacity of only 125 barrels a day; farmers cannot secure loans from the state bank and the much talked of Homebuilders' association has built only 60 houses.

Demand Examination.
"Even more alarming to the entire program is that initiated measure which provides for a semi-annual examination of all North Dakota's industrial institutions, including the bank of North Dakota and the making of a public report of such examination. This examination is being made and the report will no doubt soon be made to the legislature. From all sources it seems to be quite certain that this report will be illuminating in the extreme and will go far toward dealing a deathblow to the activities of the league throughout the entire country."

It is because of these facts, I think, that the league is proceeding with such feverish activity in its work of organization in Nebraska and Kansas. This is recognized as a fertile field and as money is very much needed by that organization, it is doing its best to get as much of the farmers' loose change into its coffers as possible before the facts of its operations in North Dakota become generally known.

Could Own Plants.

"It is an interesting fact that had the farmers in North Dakota invested in their own enterprises the amount of money that they have paid to the league in membership fees, they would now be able to own outright several of these enterprises, such as flour mills and terminal elevators and the state would not have been plunged into a chaotic condition, the ill effect of which will be felt there for the next decade at least. Even in Nebraska, 'judg-

There is Strength in Every Tablet

One dose often helps commence to enrich your blood and revitalize your worn-out exhausted nerves. Nuxated Iron is organic iron, like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach. It is so prepared that it will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. It needs for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood while some physicians claim metallic iron which people usually take is not absorbed at all. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron—three times per day, after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. At all drug stores.

ing by the league's own claims of the number of its members, the farmers here had they not invested their money in memberships, a considerable portion of which goes to the organizers, they could own their own enterprises to the value of about a million dollars.

"However, this may be, it is the right of every individual to invest his money wherever he chooses and if he would rather put it into a political party than into a safe and sound business enterprise, then no one should say him nay."
