Rachmaninoff's Playing, a Language

"It is not so much the playing of the piano that Rachmaninoff does, it is a language. He somehow succeeds in making a composer as intimate and as intelligible as one of your friends."

This comment by Katherine Spaeth, appeared in the New York Evening Mail last Wednesday. She said further:

"Last night in Carnegie hall the Russian composer-virtuoso conductor, gave a program that included the Debussy 'Children's Corner,' Chopin, Schumann's 'Papillons,' and his own compositions. But what he actually played is not so important as the universal spirit that radiates and glorifies every sound that he draws from black and white keys. 'Rachmaninoff is that supreme person of the pianoforte—an intellectual giant and a creator of dreams. He never overwhelms you with his technical brilliance; he does not seek to dazzle. He speaks through Chopin or Beethoven or Schumann as one having authority, and not as the scribe.'"

Rachmaninoff will appear in Omaha at the Brandeis theater, Thursday, February 3, under auspices of the Tuesday Musical club.

Lenten Lectures Of Interest to Be Given

A series of talks will be given during Lent by Effie Steen Kittleson, teacher of expression and personality at her studio in the Baird building at the noon hour, 12 to 1 o'clock on Wednesdays. Mrs. Kittleson is an exponent of the Milward Adams method of the Conservatoire of Paris. These talks will be similar to those given for many years by the late Mrs. Milward Adams in Chicago.

The dates and subjects of the "Cycle of Six Talks on the Psychology of Expression and Correlation of Arts," are as follows: February 2, "Construction;" February 9, "Form;" February 16, "Perspective;" February 23, "Color;" March 2, "High Lights and Shadows;" March 9, "Atmosphere." In these talks Mrs. Kittleson will give suggestions regarding poise, voice and personality.

Mrs. Mary Hulst of Omaha wrote feature stories which appeared in two New York magazines and attracted considerable attention. Mrs. Kittleson's personality work with employes in two of Omaha's stores.

This personality course has been a part of the training given the nurses of the Nicholas Senn hospital for several years, and last year it was taken by visiting nurses, the office force and industrial clubs of the Y. W. C. A. and Social Settlement classes. A number of successful amateurs who have appeared in the folk theater plays and other local productions received training under Mrs. Kittleson. Among these are Hart Jenks, Adelaide Fogg, pianist and actress; Gertrude Thompson, who has charge of the dramatics at the Social Settlement; Catherine Carroll, Edna Letovsky and Ethel Mulholland, prominent in local theatricals and Melba Bradshaw, whose dramatic work at the University of Nebraska created favorable comment and who has gone to New York to complete her dramatic work.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT

Valuation is the issue—

Courts Have Decided Valuation Is the Basis in Making Rates

It has been stated by those wishing to confuse and prejudice your mind against us that we are seeking a return on our "capitalization." This is not true. We are seeking ONLY A FAIR RETURN ON THE FAIR VALUE OF OUR PROPERTY. Nothing could be more fair! Those hoping to confuse you are well aware that both the Nebraska supreme court and the United States supreme court have decided that in arriving at a fair rate only valuation and not capitalization is the basis.

Even if we were capitalized for one hundred billion dollars, and our valuation were the same as now, still our request to the city commissioners would be no different.

The city commissioners know that "capitalization," has no relation to rates. So, when we made application for a rate hearing before the city commission, we furnished them with figures showing the actual cost of our property and how much it is now worth. The city commissioners now are to decide what is a fair return on a fair valuation of our property. They have our figures; they have our books; we have furnished expert testimony; they have the help of experts. All of this is to aid them in arriving at a fair return on the fair value of the properties we have been required to construct to supply your needs in home and business. They are concerned over nothing else. Capitalization, has nothing to do with the issue involved in the deciding of a fair rate. We hope that you bear this in mind when someone, by playing on words, attempts to confuse and prejudice you against us.

Not a Cent on "Watered Stock"

The statement was made that we are attempting to obtain a return on "watered stock." We want to say right here and now—and with much emphasis—that we are not seeking one cent on "watered stock." WE HAVE NEVER ASKED THE CITY COMMISSION TO GRANT US ONE CENT RETURN ON "WATERED STOCK." As you are well aware "watered stock" and "over-capitalization" are the pet terms used by the professional public agitator in attacking big institutions for his own personal gain. Don't let anyone confuse you with the terms "watered stock" and "over-capitalization" when discussing any kind of rates. Tell them the United States supreme court has decided that rates are not based on "capitalization," "watered stock" or anything else except VALUATION. We are not asking for any more than we justly deserve. WE ASK ONLY FOR A FAIR RETURN ON A FAIR VALUATION OF OUR PROPERTY. We hope that this is clear. We hope that we are understood when we say that we don't want one cent on "watered stock." Our plea to the city commission is a fair wage on the honest value of our property.

Isn't That Fair?
